Course Overview

French VI is intended to introduce and develop knowledge of cinema practices in the Francophone world, in order to familiarize students to the products, practices and perspectives relevant to cinema in French-speaking countries. Students in your school have decided to organize an International Film Festival that will take place in your school's auditorium at the end of the year. You have always admired the artistic nature of film and especially those from around the world. You and your friends have been asked to help out and contribute to this year's festival. One way you can help is by spreading the word! You decide to create a commercial to be broadcasted on the morning announcements that will highlight the festival and its importance to your school community.

MP2	Personal/Public Identities	Professions Personality Traits	How do characters influence the plot/setting/technique of a film?	We are inherently drawn to certain films not only because of their themes and genres – we are also drawn to them because of the dynamic characters that bring these stories to life. In preparation for the upcoming International Film Festival, you look for some cultural inspiration by watching the film [insert film title here] and how character personality and mood can shape/mold a story. You will then think of similar American/International films that do the same.
		Character Analysis	Why do characters contrast/reflect one another?
MP3	Families and Communities	Legends	What characterizes the Fantasy genre of film?	We are constantly balancing reality and fantasy in our daily lives and you have now begun to delve into the world of Fantasy film to gain inspiration for your culturally recreated scene. In preparation, you and a group of no more than 5 other people will create a storyboard for your proposed scene and focus on developing the language and the details that will ease the inevitable filming process. Then, you and your group will use the storyboard that you have created for your proposed scene to write the script.

It's been a long road coming, but you are more than excited to share your admiration for film and language with a larger audience at the International Film Festival that is approaching soon! You have your scene and your script. You also have your crew and now all you need to do is get to it! Films naturally evolve during production and sometimes a little extra inspiration can be good for the overall project so you decide to seek some out. You look for elements in the real world to establish cultural connections with your audience, because the festival needs a winner and you're in it to win it!
		Entertainment Industry	How does our perception of reality contrast with that of fantasy?

Grading Procedures and Evaluation

GRADING GUIDELINES

In accordance with Board policy, grades are assigned each quarter. A final grade is determined and transcribed for courses at grades 6 – 12. In terms of proficiency the East Brunswick grades are as follows:

A	Excellent	Advanced Proficient
B	Good	Above Average Proficient
C	Fair	Proficient
D	Poor	Minimally Proficient
F	Failing	Partially Proficient

Grades will be determined by a variety of assessment strategies. In addition to interpretive, interpersonal and presentational performance assessments, students will be evaluated on cooperative group participation, note-taking, open-ended question responses, interpersonal conversations, ePortfolios and/or supplemental projects.

Grading Weights for Quarter Grades

10% Homework

10% Classwork/Participation

30% Presentational and interpersonal speaking

50% Interpretive and presentational writing

Final grades are weighted as follows:

Each quarter is 20% of the final grade. The midterm is 10% of the final grade, and the final exam is 10 % of the final grade.

Midterm exam grades are averaged into the second marking period and final exam grades are averaged into the fourth marking period. The final grade for the course is the average of the four marking period grades.

COURSE EVALUATION

Course achievement will be evaluated annually. In this course the goal is that a minimum of 95% of the pupils will meet at least the minimum proficiency level (D or better) set for the course. The department will analyze the achievement of students on unit assessments and final course grades and for final course grades the achievement of sub-groups identified by the state to determine if modifications in the curriculum and instructional methods are needed.
