Course Pacing Guide

This course examines the evolution of America’s literary tradition and challenges students to embark on a personal quest for knowledge, insight, and perspective into the founding of American, our values, tradition and identity, the myth vs. reality of who we are as a country. This course uses the three main literary genres—prose fiction, poetry, and drama—to develop your ability to read and analyze a text, generate an interpretation of its meaning, and communicate that interpretation both in discussion and writing.

Unit Overview

- In this unit, students will focus on identifying and analyzing tone, point of view, dialect, and other elements of the language in the novel.
- Students will analyze how historical context and setting shapes narration, characters, plot, etc.

Enduring Understandings

- Adversity is a part of the human condition; it affects every human being regardless of race, age, gender, culture, social, political, or economic background.

- Understanding various cultural perspectives can help us approach our own, as well as others' adverse situations with more empathy
- Humans experience moral, ethical, and emotional development
- Elements of the novel are still relevant in today's society.
- Racism and racial stereotypes existed in the past and in the present.

Essential Questions

- What are some of the key differences between religion and spirituality?
- How do people go about finding their own identities?
- What life lessons does Walker teach?
- What are the strengths and limitations of an epistolary novel?
- How do different cultural, social, and economic factors affect adversity and one's ability to overcome/cope with it?

New Jersey Student Learning Standards (No CCS)

LA.RL.11-12.1	Cite strong and thorough textual evidence and make relevant connections to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text, including determining where the text leaves matters uncertain.
LA.RL.11-12.2	Determine two or more themes or central ideas of a text and analyze their development over the course of the text, including how they interact and build on one another to produce a complex account; provide an objective summary of the text.
LA.RL.11-12.3	Analyze the impact of the author's choices regarding how to develop and relate elements of a story or drama (e.g., where a story is set, how the action is ordered, how the characters are introduced and developed).
LA.RL.11-12.4	Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in the text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning and tone, including words with multiple meanings or language that is particularly fresh, engaging, or beautiful. (e.g., Shakespeare as well as other authors.)
LA.RL.11-12.10a	By the end of grade 11, read and comprehend literature, including stories, dramas, and poems at grade level text-complexity or above with scaffolding as needed.
LA.RI.11-12.1	Accurately cite strong and thorough textual evidence, (e.g., via discussion, written response, etc.), to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferentially, including determining where the text leaves matters uncertain.
LA.W.11-12.9	Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.
LA.SL.11-12.1.A	Come to discussions prepared, having read and researched material under study; explicitly draw on that preparation by referring to evidence from texts and other research on the topic or issue to stimulate a thoughtful, well reasoned exchange of ideas.
LA.L.11-12.4.A	Use context (e.g., the overall meaning of a sentence, paragraph, or text; a word's position or function in a sentence) as a clue to the meaning of a word or phrase.

LA.L.11-12.6

Acquire and use accurately general academic and domain-specific words and phrases, sufficient for reading, writing, speaking, and listening at the college and career readiness level; demonstrate independence in gathering vocabulary knowledge when considering a word or phrase important to comprehension or expression.

BOE Approved Texts

The Color Purple by Alice Walker

Ellen Foster by Kaye Gibbons

Closure

- Gallery Walk - On chart paper, small groups of students write and draw what they learned. After the completed works are attached to the classroom walls, others students affix post-its to the posters to extend on the ideas, add questions..
- Question Stems - Have students write questions about the lesson on cards, using question stems framed around Bloom's Taxonomy. Have students exchange cards and answer the question they have acquired.
- Kids answer the following prompts: "What takeaways from the lesson will be important to know three years from now? Why?"
- Ask students to summarize the main idea in under 60 seconds to another student acting as a well-known personality who works in your discipline. After summarizing, students should identify why the famous person might find the idea significant.
- Ask students to write what they learned, and any lingering questions on an "exit ticket". Before they leave class, have them put their exit tickets in a folder or bin labeled either "Got It," "More Practice, Please," or "I Need Some Help!"
