Course Pacing Guide

Over-all HMHS Art Dept. Vision/ The Haddonfield Public School's visual arts curriculum is designed as a continuum from pre-kindergarten through the twelfth grade building creativity, self-expression, intuitive thought and visual literacy. They seek to offer student sustained practice in problem solving familiarity, encourage risk-taking, experimentation empowering students and fostering critical thinking across a range of disciplines. The Haddonfield Art Department wants students, in their enduring futures, to see the relevance and critical nature of the making process.

Haddonfield Art Educators vision is to offer students a diverse curriculum that will give students opportunities to develop their artistic potential and socioemotional well-being, as well as their interest in art. Through flexibility and encouragement as well as careful attention to criteria in the classical approach to Art Education, we offer our students opportunities to find their creative power.

In nurturing the imagination of our students, we are simultaneously fostering their cognitive development. Yet, art experiences reach far beyond cognitive growth. We want students to create work which speaks of their personal voice. We want to become The Art Program reputable for being able reaching into the heart of our students and helping them develop their spirit of creativity which inevitably befalls into their character, thus impacting their connections with the world.

(The big ideas):

Aesthetic knowledge stimulates judgment and imagination empowering students to interpret, appreciate and extract meaning from the arts.

- Aesthetics fosters artistic appreciation, interpretation, imagination, significance and value.
- The point of studying the arts is to foster meaning making, deeper emotional response and more inventive decision making.

Active participation in the arts leads to a comprehensive understanding of the imaginative and creative process.

- The arts serve multiple functions: enlightenment, education, and entertainment.
- Though the artist's imagination and intuition drive the work, great art requires skills and discipline to turn notions into a quality product.
- The artistic process can lead to unforeseen or unpredictable outcomes.

An understanding of the elements and principles of art is essential to the creative process and artistic production.

- Underlying structures in art can be found via analysis and inference.
- Breaking accepted norms often gives rise to new forms of artistic expression

Artists create works of art employing both conscious and intuitive thought.

Art may be created solely to fulfill a need to create.

Course Vision for Art Major:

This course is open to juniors and seniors who have successfully completed and shown exceptional ability in Art Survey, 2-D Art and a 3-D course.

This course offers students a varied range of explorations across the disciplines of art.

Students are guided through the development of a college portfolio to be used as an entrance requirement at the university level. A single period class, Art Major is a continuation of concepts learned, knowledge gained and skills developed in previous art courses. Critical thinking, imaginative problem-solving, and self-reflective evaluation are some of the foremost aspects of this class. Emphasis is placed on exploration of processes, materials, refinement of technical skills and creative interpretation of subject matter. Students will gain competency in visual language, an increasingly important skill in present-day culture. Enduring skills such as visual, verbal, analytical, and organizational skills will be increased throughout processes.

Art Major should provide students with a *balanced, *comprehensive, and *sequential program of instruction in the visual art studio. It should provide aesthetic and creative experiences of breadth and depth for all students. It is important to offer activities which will nurture the development of their unique set of skills.

In order to provide these experiences, specific lessons are tailored to the expected outcome (rubric, state standards).

Unit Overview

The human figure is central to much of what an artist has to say therefore the focus of this unit is the human figure. Drawing from live models teaches one to be spontaneous and forthright when recording a pose. Time is utilized to learn the human form.

By the end of this unit, students will be able to:

Demonstrate skill in the technical use of line, mass, form, light, shadow and proportion.

Compose images of the human figure that express a living form in spatial environment.

Demonstrate a verbal working use of art vocabulary as it relates to figure drawing.

Give and receive criticism.

Design creative and aesthetic pleasing works of art that are the response to a given prompt.

Describe, analyze, interpret and evaluate works of art.

VIS.5.VA:Cr3

Refine and complete artistic work.

VIS.5.VA:Cr2.1.5a

Experiment and develop skills in multiple art-making techniques and approaches through practice.

VIS.5.VA:Cr1.1.EU

Creativity and innovative thinking are essential life skills that can be developed.

VIS.5.VA:Cr1.2.5a

Identify and demonstrate diverse methods of artistic investigation to choose an approach for beginning a work of art.

VIS.5.VA:Cr2.2.5a

Demonstrate quality craftsmanship through care for and use of materials, tools, and equipment.

VIS.5.VA:Re7.1.5a

Compare one's own interpretation of a work of art with the interpretation of others.

VIS.5.VA:Re8.1.EU	People gain insights into meanings of artworks by engaging in the process of art criticism.
VPA.1.1.12.D.CS1	Common themes exist in artwork from a variety of cultures across time and are communicated through metaphor, symbolism, and allegory.
VPA.1.1.12.D.CS2	Stimuli for the creation of artworks can come from many places, including other arts disciplines.
VPA.1.3.12.D.1	Synthesize the elements of art and principles of design in an original portfolio of two- and three-dimensional artworks that reflects personal style and a high degree of technical proficiency and expressivity.
VPA.1.3.12.D.3	Organize an exhibit of personal works of visual art that convey a high level of understanding of how the expression of ideas relates to the art media, art mediums, and techniques used.
VPA.1.3.12.D.CS1	How individuals manipulate the elements of art and principles of design results in original portfolios that reflect choice and personal stylistic nuance.
VPA.1.3.12.D.CS3	The artist's understanding of the relationships among art media, methodology, and visual statement allows the artist to use expressionism, abstractionism (nonobjective art), realism/naturalism, impressionism, and other genre styles to convey ideas to an audience.
VPA.1.4.12.A.CS4	Criteria for assessing the historical significance, craftsmanship, cultural context, and originality of art are often expressed in qualitative, discipline-specific arts terminology.
VPA.1.4.12.B.1	Formulate criteria for arts evaluation using the principles of positive critique and observation of the elements of art and principles of design, and use the criteria to evaluate works of dance, music, theatre, visual, and multimedia artwork from diverse cultural contexts and historical eras.

Essential Questions

Addressing the importance of Human Dignity/ September through June

- What does it mean to say art is a platform for the expression of the dignity of the human person and has an objective value and purpose?
- How do artists have a crucial role in understanding human life, and impacting societies and cultures that affirm the dignity of every human person?
- How does art enables us to move beyond ourselves, and to shape, through our imagination, the world in which we live?
- VIS.9-12.VA:Cn11.1.EQ - [Essential Question] - How does art help us understand the lives of people of different times, places, and cultures? How is art used to impact the views of a society? How does art preserve aspects of life?

Essential questions below (National Art Education Essential Questions)

VIS.9-12.VA:Cn11.1.EQ	How does art help us understand the lives of people of different times, places, and cultures? How is art used to impact the views of a society? How does art preserve aspects of life?
VIS.9-12.VA:Cn10.1.EQ	How does engaging in creating art enrich people's lives? How does making art attune people to their surroundings? How do people contribute to awareness and understanding of their lives and the lives of their communities through art-making?
VIS.9-12.VA:Cr1.1.EQ	What conditions, attitudes, and behaviors support creativity and innovative thinking? What factors prevent or encourage people to take creative risks? How does collaboration expand the creative process?

RE: N.J.S.A. 18A:35-28, Holocaust/Genocide Education

a. Every board of education shall include instruction on the Holocaust and genocides in an appropriate place in the curriculum of all elementary and secondary school pupils.

b. The instruction shall enable pupils to identify and analyze applicable theories concerning human nature and behavior: to understand that genocide is a consequence of prejudice and discrimination; and to understand that issues of moral dilemma and conscience have a profound impact on life. The instruction shall further emphasize the personal responsibility that each citizen bears to fight racism and hatred whenever and wherever it happens.

Interdisciplinary Connections

(See standard tab)

Interdisciplinary Connections:

- Field trips with Environmental Science classes: Citizen Science/ NJ State shorebird migration and documentation- students draw birds and plants along the dunes.
- Illustrating vignettes written by Literature classes.

The Relevance of Science and Art Interdisciplinary connections:

The use of nature journals has been practiced for centuries. Nature journals were used by Lewis and Clark throughout their expeditions in the northwest. In order to document natural history, nature journals were also used by John Muir, John James Audubon, and Thomas Seton for a combination of art and narrative. It led these naturalists to experiencing keen and careful observations.

Nature journals are important in the process of learning. They combine observation with reflection, drawing, and writing. When students record nature through drawing and writing, the learning becomes more personal and enduring as they engage in an academic and sensory practice. This leads students to a holistic approach to immediate and deeper realizations about their surroundings. Nature journaling can be a foundation for developing skill in using the right and left brain. (left-brain data collection is not as impactful).

“ To see a wren in a bush, call it “wren”, then go on walking is to have seen nothing. To see a bird and stop, watch, feel, forget yourself for a moment, be in the bushy shadow, maybe then feel “wren”---that is to have joined in a larger moment with the world”

~ Gary Snyder, Language Goes Two Ways, 1995.

Technology Standards

Technology used in alignment with attached standards:

In order to understand the current capabilities and limitations of the constantly changing world of artificial intelligence and technologies, students in this class are encouraged to investigate on-line resources in order to learn about, create, and write about art. Students use technological devices in order to synthesize learning with hands-on practices.

- 0xTECH.8.1.12.A.CS2 Select and use applications effectively and productively.
- 0xTECH.8.1.12.B.2 Apply previous content knowledge by creating and piloting a digital learning game or tutorial.

Financial Literacy Integration

Remove/replace the text in this section - this is for your reference -- (link to helpful resources: <https://www.nj.gov/education/aps/cccs/career/FLResources.pdf>)

An Act concerning public school instruction on financial literacy and supplementing chapter 35 of Title 18A of the New Jersey Statutes.

Be It Enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

1. The State Board of Education shall require that a school district incorporate in each of the grades ¹[kindergarten] six¹ through eight financial literacy instruction to pupils enrolled in those grades. The purpose of the instruction shall be to provide ¹[elementary and]¹middle school students with the basic financial literacy necessary for sound financial decision-making.

The instruction shall meet the requirements established by the State board and shall:

- a. be appropriate to, and reflect the age and comprehension of, the students enrolled in the particular grade level; and
- b. include content on budgeting, savings, credit, debt, insurance, investment, and other issues associated with personal financial responsibility as determined by the State board.

Instructional Strategies & Learning Activities

Sketchbook entries

Daily Art App.

View and discussion of relevant Historical, as well as current References.

Experimentation - Investigations into creating meaningful works of art.

Peer- to -peer critiques.

Student -to- student learning communities (for critique as well as students teaching students)

Weekly circulations (Students walk around the room to see what other classmates are doing for their projects)

Differentiated Instruction

Means of differentiating:

- Curriculum Map
- Inquiry/Problem-Based Learning
- Learning preferences integration (visual, auditory, kinesthetic)
- Meaningful Student Voice & Choice
- Relationship-Building

- Self-Directed Learning
- Mastery Learning (feedback toward goal)
- Goal-Setting
- Rubrics
- Concept Attainment

Formative Assessments

Formative Assessments:

1. Observation: Observe students thinking about and problem solve their ideas, explore new techniques and processes, create things that inspire them, and make mistakes into happy accidents. Observation helps determine what your students are creating so they can be guided toward personal success with their work.
2. Think-Pair-Share : Another formative assment technique used for checking understanding is through the Think-Pair-Share routine. This allows students to share information with a peer. This can be done during or after a demonstration, artist presentation, or discussion.
3. Interviews: Interviews can also be referred to as student conferences. Having a discussion is powerful.
4. Critiques: While many may think critiques are just for finished work, we often do them with works in progress. This way, students can get peer feedback that may help push them to explore new ideas

Summative Assessment

Benchmark Assessments

Benchmarks for Art Major

- Recognize the elements of art and principles of design in works of art.
- Identify and describe characteristics that cross-artistic disciplines in historical periods (e.g., Classical-Formal).
- Develop proficiency in use of tools and materials.
- Analyze effective and ineffective compositions.
- Plan and create works of art, which use the elements of art and principles of design.
- Identify past and present artists who influenced design.
- Recognize technology's impact on design
- Individually or collaboratively formulate new creative problems based on student's existing artwork.

- Choose from a range of materials and methods of traditional and contemporary artistic practices to plan works of art and design.

BOE Approved Texts

Closure

Such as: (highlighted culminators are used for this course)

- Snowstorm - Students write down what they learned on a piece of scratch paper and wad it up. Given a signal, they throw their paper snowballs in the air. Then each learner picks up a nearby response and reads it aloud.
- Parent Hotline - Give students an interesting question about the lesson without further discussion. Email their guardians the answer so that the topic can be discussed over dinner.
- DJ Summary - Learners write what they learned in the form of a favorite song. Offer to let one or two sing thier summary.
- Gallery Walk - On chart paper, small groups of students write and draw what they learned. After the completed works are attached to the classroom walls, others students affix post-its to the posters to extend on the ideas, add questions.
- Sequence It - create timelines of major events discussed
- Low-Stakes Quizzes - Give a short quiz using technologies like Kahoot or a Google form.
- Have students write down three quiz questions (to ask at the beginning of the next class).
- Question Stems - Have students write questions about the lesson on cards, using question stems framed around Bloom's Taxonomy. Have students exchange cards and answer the question they have acquired.
- Kids answer the following prompts: "What takeaways from the lesson will be important to know three years from now? Why?"
- Have students dramatize a real-life application of a skill.
- Ask a question. Give students ten seconds to confer with peers before you call on a random student to answer. Repeat.
- Have kids orally describe a concept, procedure, or skill in terms so simple that a child in first grade would get it.
- Direct kids to raise their hands if they can answer your questions. Classmates agree (thumbs up) or disagree (thumbs down) with the response.
- Have kids create a cheat sheet of information that would be useful for a quiz on the day's topic.
- Kids write notes to peers describing what they learned from them during class discussions.
- Ask students to summarize the main idea in under 60 seconds to another student acting as a well-known personality who works in your discipline. After summarizing, students should identify why the famous person might find the idea significant.
- Have students complete the following sentence: "The [concept, skill, word] is like _____ because _____."
- Ask students to write what they learned, and any lingering questions on an "exit ticket". Before they leave class, have them put their exit tickets in a folder or bin labeled either "Got It," "More Practice, Please," or "I Need Some Help!"

- After writing down the learning outcome, ask students to take a card, circle one of the following options, and return the card to you before they leave: "Stop (I'm totally confused. Go (I'm ready to move on.)" or "Proceed with caution (I could use some clarification on . . .)"
