Formative Assessments

- Canvas expressive video recorded by students. Send a short comment to the student afterward for feedback.
- Exit tickets at the end of class: a small, written student assessment or question on the topic eg. a short self-assessment checklist.
- Digital exit tickets (Canvas, Google Forms)
- Using exit tickets, collect student responses and create an activity modeling good responses, followed by responses that need some correction — mostly for common errors.
- Students write quizzes for the teacher to take at the end of class.
- Speed-dating activities and assesses students while they communicate interpersonally.
- Take incorrect examples from students' recent quizzes and discuss and edit them as a class. When doing so, try telling students how many are wrong, but not which are wrong.
- Circle the room during any activity and listen for common mistakes.

Summative Assessment

- Interpersonal, oral, interaction and personal reflection of learning.
- Integrated performance assessments
- Signed presentations and interviews
- Comprehensive reading or listening/viewing assignments
- Projects and portfolios
- Unit, semester or final exams
- Comprehensive written or speaking/signing assignments

Benchmark Assessments

- Comprehensive expressive or receptive assignments.
- After the initial assessment is given, break down the data in a variety of ways.
- Evaluate whole group data.
- Interpretive expressive task
- Interpretive receptive task
- Interpersonal expressive task
- Interpersonal receptive task
- Presentational expressive task
- Presentational receptive task

Alternate Assessments

- Performance Based Tasks: The learner draws on personal experiences in order to perform a task in the target language.
- Integrative Tasks: The learner uses more than one skill at a time to perform a specific task.
- Interactive Tasks: Communication with other students or the teacher
- 1:1 Interviews
- Role Playing
- Integrated Performance Assessments in the Interpretive, Interpersonal and Presentational modes
- Students interpret authentic signed material
- Students use new material in a variety of real life tasks
- Students summarize what they learned by integrating new material with previous knowledge

Closure

- Parent Hotline - Give students an interesting question about the lesson without further discussion. Email their guardians the answer so that the topic can be discussed over dinner.
- DJ Summary - Learners write what they learned in the form of a favorite song. Offer to let one or two sign their summary.
- Gallery Walk - On chart paper, small groups of students write and draw what they learned. After the completed works are attached to the classroom walls, others students affix post-its to the posters to extend on the ideas, add questions.
- Sequence It - create timelines of major events discussed
- Low-Stakes Quizzes - Give a short quiz using technologies like Kahoot or a Google form.
- Have students write down three quiz questions (to ask at the beginning of the next class).
- Question Stems - Have students write questions about the lesson on cards, using question stems framed around Bloom's Taxonomy. Have students exchange cards and answer the question they have acquired.
- Kids answer the following prompts: "What takeaways from the lesson will be important to know three years from now? Why?"
- Have students dramatize a real-life application of a skill.
- Ask a question. Give students ten seconds to confer with peers before you call on a random student to answer. Repeat.
- Direct kids to raise their hands if they can answer your questions. Classmates agree (thumbs up) or disagree (thumbs down) with the response.
- Have kids create a cheat sheet of information that would be useful for a quiz on the day's topic.
- Kids write notes to peers describing what they learned from them during class discussions.
