Unit Overview

Students will explore the historical and cultural contexts of theatre from various cultures around the world with emphasis on 19th- and 20th-century movements. Major format and genre changes will be analyzed. Emphasis will be on understanding how modern theatre derived from various movements in theatre history.

Enduring Understandings

- Theatre artists rely on intention, curiosity, and critical inquiry.
- Theatre artists refine their work through rehearsal and an iterative evaluation cycle.
- Theatre artists make strong choices to effectively convey meaning.
- Theatre artists share stories and ideas to explore the human experience.
- Theatre artists work to explore different methods of communicating meaning.
- Theater artists reflect to understand the impact of drama processes and theatre experiences.

- Theatre artists apply criteria to investigate, explore, and assess drama and theatre work.
- Theatre artists allow awareness of interrelationships between self and others to influence and inform their work.
- Theatre artists critically inquire into the ways others have thought about and created drama processes and productions to inform their own work.

Essential Questions

- What role does theatre play in society?
- How can we learn about the experiences of others through theatre?
- How can we effectively communicate meaning to an audience?
- How do we use our minds, voices, and bodies to share stories?
- What are the qualities of a "good" theatrical performance?
- Which is more valuable: process or product?

beyond the minimum expectation and in participating in activities that serve the greater good.

CRP.K-12.CRP4.1

Career-ready individuals communicate thoughts, ideas, and action plans with clarity, whether using written, verbal, and/or visual methods. They communicate in the workplace with clarity and purpose to make maximum use of their own and others' time. They are excellent writers; they master conventions, word choice, and organization, and use effective tone and presentation skills to articulate ideas. They are skilled at interacting with others; they are active listeners and speak clearly and with purpose. Career-ready individuals think about the audience for their communication and prepare accordingly to ensure the desired outcome.

CRP.K-12.CRP12.1

Career-ready individuals positively contribute to every team, whether formal or informal. They apply an awareness of cultural difference to avoid barriers to productive and positive interaction. They find ways to increase the engagement and contribution of all team members. They plan and facilitate effective team meetings.

Closure

Such as:

- Journal
- Gallery Walk - On chart paper, small groups of students write and draw what they learned. After the completed works are attached to the classroom walls, others students affix post-its to the posters to extend on the ideas, add questions.
- Sequence It - create timelines of major events discussed
- Low-Stakes Quizzes - Give a short quiz using technologies like Kahoot or a Google form.
- Have students write down three quiz questions (to ask at the beginning of the next class).
- Question Stems - Have students write questions about the lesson on cards, using question stems framed around Bloom's Taxonomy. Have students exchange cards and answer the question they have acquired.
- Kids answer the following prompts: "What takeaways from the lesson will be important to know three years from now? Why?"
- Have students dramatize a real-life application of a skill.
- Ask a question. Give students ten seconds to confer with peers before you call on a random student to answer. Repeat.
- Have students orally describe a concept, procedure, or skill in terms so simple that a child in first grade would get it.
- Direct students to raise their hands if they can answer your questions. Classmates agree (thumbs up) or disagree (thumbs down) with the response.
- Kids write notes to peers describing what they learned from them during class discussions.
- Ask students to summarize the main idea in under 60 seconds to another student.
