

SEM(Y3) #4 Managing Promotions

Content Area: CTE
Course(s): Foundations of Marketing, Sports Management & Marketing
Time Period: January
Length: 20 days
Status: Published

Unit Overview:

---

This unit furthers student knowledge in the structure and management of promotions in sport/event marketing. Students will be familiarized with the way in which sport marketers communicate with potential clients in order to inform, persuade, and remind them about a product or brand. The aim is to encourage clients to develop a favorable opinion about a product or brand. Additionally, students are presented problem-solving situations for which they must apply academic and critical-thinking skills. These skills will be applied through DECA role play scenarios and case studies throughout the course.

Essential Questions:

- How can I make a community and business connections through DECA?
- How do I budget promotional activities?
- What are the 4 C's of sport/event marketing?
- What factors must be considered when managing promotional activities?

Enduring Understandings:

---

The Learners will research and develop a thorough understanding of managing promotions through an exploration of the 4 C's of sport/event marketing: consumer, competitor, company, and climate. They will create a promotional calendar and budget. They will connect the learning and application of skills through discovery of DECA competitive events with the goal of becoming effective, creative, critical thinkers and problem-solvers

- Apply Practiced Strategies to DECA case studies, role plays, and competitions in an effort to master professional skills for workplace readiness
- Assess the need to use promoters
- Coordinate activities in the promotional mix
- Describe the essence of sport/event marketing through the 4C's
- Develop a promotional calendar
- Prepare a promotional budget

Equity Considerations

Culturally Responsive Teaching recognizes and celebrates that our students come from a variety of backgrounds and experiences and traditions, including (dis)ability cultures. It is the intent to connect activities, assignments, readings, and projects to students' home cultures and experiences. The classroom is a community where knowledge is created within the context of students' cultural, traditional, and social experiences. The instruction shall enable students to identify and analyze applicable theories concerning inequalities in human nature and behavior, and further emphasize the responsibility of each human to have an awareness of equity considerations and take appropriate measures to practice them in our society.
