LINDEN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

WORLD LANGUAGES PROGRAM PHILOSOPHY

Course Description

The study of world languages is an essential component in the education of the students of the 21st Century. As the rapid advances of globalization create a growing interdependence between diverse people and cultures, we must strive to prepare students to participate fully and responsibly in both local and global communities. Therefore, the Linden World Languages Department believes that every student should be given the opportunity to study a world language.

Language and culture are the foundation of human experience. We believe that all students must develop and maintain proficiency in English and at least one other language. The department believes that each student must be provided with a broad range of educational and aesthetic experiences in language study in order to enhance the development of the student's individual interests and talents, and to develop a form of empathy which acknowledges the dignity and worth of all people.

We believe that the World Language curriculum should provide a sequential program of communicative-based language instruction in grades K- through 12. We believe that language is acquired through meaningful interactive experiences enriched by culturally authentic content. Through language instruction students are provided opportunities to reach out to others across cultural and linguistic boundaries. The National Standards for World Languages instruction identifies five goals for language education: Communication, Cultures, Connections, Comparisons, and Communities. In the world language classroom, standards influence the curriculum, assessment, and instruction. The three purposes of Communication (interpersonal, interpretive, and presentation) form the heart. Culture is always embedded in the instruction. Connections, Comparisons, and Communities enrich the learning activities. The performance standards inform the assessments that show students their progress toward higher levels of proficiency in using the target language. The focus is on what students can do with the language they are learning.

The Linden World Languages curriculum is organized around these goals.

We believe World Language instruction must be characterized by progressive learning with instruction based on inquiry, solving real life problems and upon application of concepts. We believe that an appreciation of the individual student's learning style is necessary for success in language learning.

The LPS World Language curriculum explores themes across the content areas and makes connections to the multicultural dimensions of the 21st Century, fostering a greater respect for ethnic differences and an understanding of world cultures.

PROGRAM GOALS

World languages education provides learners with the essential language skills and cultural understandings in languages other than English necessary to live and work in a global, culturally diverse world.

Six general goals are reflected in this student-centered curriculum. Students will be able to:

Develop communicative competence and an understanding of other cultures.

As nations become increasingly interdependent, the need to communicate effectively in more than one language is essential. By interweaving the study of language and culture, our proficiency-oriented program seeks to broaden students' communication skills; to expand understanding and respect for differences; and to foster a sensitive appreciation with a positive disposition towards the languages and social traditions of others.

Demonstrate their abilities to learn another language.

Students must have experiences beginning in the early grades which lead to an understanding that language learning is an innate human capacity and that all children who speak one language should have the opportunity to learn another language commensurate with their individual learning styles and abilities.

Become problem solvers.

Students are expected to recognize problems, devise solutions with others, analyze advantages and disadvantages to the alternatives and evaluate the effectiveness of the strategies selected.

Read a variety of materials with comprehension and critical analysis.

Our sequenced, student-centered program synthesizes the development of reading skills and cultural awareness through the integrated study of art, music, history, and literature.

Write in clear, concise language for different purposes and audiences.

Students must learn to write and to explore themes and issues across content areas to respond to the demands created by growing diversity in the United States and economic interdependence worldwide.

Access technology-based communication and information systems.

Skills in the use of technology will facilitate career planning, improve workplace readiness and promote lifelong learning.

Linden Public Schools Middle School World Languages Curriculum

The themes and topic chosen for the Secondary world languages program lend themselves to the ACTFL goal of delivering instruction at least 90% in the target language, and the departmental goal of ensuring that we provide target language that is comprehensible and compelling to students. Thus, we begin with topics and scenarios that are the most familiar to students (self, family, school, etc.), making them comprehensible in the target language through scaffolding techniques and repeated exposures.

Note that these themes are repeated and expanded from year to year, building upon and enlarging the students' acquired battery of vocabulary and structures and moving the students towards higher levels of proficiency.

Language Proficiency Levels

Unlike other NJ Student Learning Standards, the World Languages standard is benchmarked by proficiency levels, rather than grade levels. The levels are fully defined in the World Languages Performance Level Descriptors Table and are summarily reflected in the following proficiency statements:

- Novice-Mid Level: Students communicate using memorized words and phrases to talk about familiar topics related to school, home, and the community.
- Novice-High Level: Students communicate using words, lists, and simple sentences to ask and answer questions, to handle simple transactions related to everyday life, and to talk about subject matter studied in other classes.
- Intermediate-Low Level: Students communicate using simple sentences to ask and answer questions, to handle simple transactions related to everyday life, and to talk about subject matter studied in other classes.
- Intermediate-Mid Level: Students communicate using strings of sentences to ask and answer questions, to handle simple transactions related to everyday life, and to talk about subject matter studied in other classes.
- Intermediate-High Level: Students communicate using connected sentences and paragraphs to handle complicated situations on a wide-range of topics.
- Advanced-Low Level: Students communicate using paragraph-level discourse to handle complicated situations on a wide-range of topics.

Linden Public Schools World Languages Proficiency Targets

LPS WL curricula has been designed to be congruent with the New Jersey Student Learning Standards, ACTFL recommendations and best practices in L2 teaching. Outcomes have been designed to meet NJSLS cumulative progress indicators, moving students on the proficiency continuum from novice towards advanced levels. The chart below outlines the projected proficiency progress of students across the grade levels.

Outcomes are based on the current frequency of instruction currently delivered in district. Elementary students receive a period of instruction every six-days, middle school students every other day, and high school students attend daily classes.

Students who study the same World Language in grades 9-12 will be positioned to graduate with a proficiency level that meets or exceeds the Intermediate-Mid description. All 12th grade students who demonstrate proficiency at the Intermediate level will be given an opportunity to take an assessment that will qualify them if successful to earn the NJ Seal of Biliteracy.

Elementary to Middle School Proficiency Targets

Grade Level	Course	Projected Proficiency Outcomes
K-5	Elementary World Language	Interpretive: Approaching Novice Mid Interpersonal: Approaching Novice Mid Presentational: Approaching Novice Mid
6	6 th Grade World Language	Interpretive: Novice Mid Interpersonal: Novice Mid Presentational: Novice Mid
7	7 th Grade World Language	Interpretive: Novice Mid Interpersonal: Novice Mid Presentational: Novice Mid
8	8 th grade World Language	Interpretive: Approaching Novice High Interpersonal: Approaching Novice High Presentational: Approaching Novice High

Note: As students enter 9th grade, they may choose a new language of study. Students who have successfully completed WL Level 1 (demonstrating novice high proficiency) in the middle school may progress to World Language Level 2 in 9th grade.

High School Level Proficiency Targets

Note: Linden High School offers classes in Heritage Spanish for students who possess higher levels of proficiency than non-heritage students. Our heritage students vary greatly in the levels of literacy that they possess in their home language. Some arrive in heritage classes with stronger receptive skills (the ability to hear and understand Spanish) at a more advanced proficiency level than their non-heritage peers, but low proficiency rates in productive skills (speaking and writing). But this varies from student to student, as others do arrive in Heritage Spanish with higher productive proficiency levels. For this reason, projected outcomes are predicted in a more general fashion, addressing individual students needs with the goal of developing proficiency levels across the wide horizontal scope of the intermediate range towards advanced proficiency.

Grade Level	Course	Projected Outcome Overall Proficiency Levels
9-12	WL Heritage Level 1	Intermediate Low
9-12	WL Heritage Level 2	Intermediate Mid
9-12	WL Heritage Level 3	Approaching Intermediate High

Earning the NJ Seal of Biliteracy

The Seal of Biliteracy was an initiative started by Californians Together in 2008 to acknowledge and award bilingual and multilingual students. In 2011, it officially became legislation in California and now multiple states throughout the nation have implemented a statewide Seal of Biliteracy. On January 19, 2016, New Jersey became the 17th state to implement a legislated statewide Seal of Biliteracy. By achieving the Seal of Biliteracy, students demonstrate that they are able to speak, read, comprehend and write in two or more languages at a high level of proficiency.

The Seal of Biliteracy seeks to:

- Encourage students to study languages
- Certify attainment of biliteracy
- Provide employers with a method of identifying people with language and biliteracy skills

- Provide universities with a method to recognize and award academic credit to applicants seeking admission
- Prepare students with 21st century skills
- Recognize and promote second language instruction in public schools
- Strengthen intergroup relationships, affirm the value of diversity, and honor the multiple cultures and language of a community

The Seal of Biliteracy opens up opportunities for those pursuing higher education or joining the workforce. As the world increasingly becomes more global, the need for employees with bilingual and multilingual skills has increased.

Employers seek bilingual or multilingual individuals for reasons such as:

- Accessing expanding markets;
- Better serving customer needs;
- Reaching particular and wider ranges of audiences; or
- Opening a channel of communication with customers.

Linden's Multiple Pathways to Biliteracy

A long-term goal of the Linden Public Schools is to enable all students to graduate with high levels of language proficiency in at least two languages.

As described earlier in this document, having high levels of skills in at least two languages will equip our students to meet the demands and challenges of our interconnected, global world, and to play an active role as global citizens. At the secondary level, students have the opportunity to study a wide variety of World Languages: Chinese, French, Italian and Spanish.

As a district, we value of the linguist and cultural diversity of our students, families and community. We understand the language and culture that our ELLs bring to our schools are the foundation that all further literacies will be built upon. We strive to provide culturally sustaining pedagogy, encouraging students to maintain and expand their home languages, while also achieving high levels of English language proficiency.

For this reason, the Bilingual, ESL & World Languages department encourages and facilitates testing for all qualifying 12th grade students so that they may have an opportunity to attain the NJ Seal of Biliteracy. In general, it is anticipated that all students who study a World Language in grades 9-12, will have attained or exceeded the intermediate-mid level of proficiency required to earn the NJ Seal of Biliteracy.

World Languages: Grade 7

Grade 7 provides an entry point into the study of a World Language. Students may continue with the World Language that they were introduced to in the elementary school, or they may choose a new language that they will study through their secondary school years.

The 7th grade World Language class is designed to accommodate students who are new to the target language as well as those who had the benefit of exposure to the language at the elementary level. While the elementary program seeks to address affective factors so as to help students to feel comfortable and confident about learning a second language, the secondary program builds upon this foundation, intensifying with increased meeting times and working on developing fluency while building upon the students' emerging literacy skills in both their L1 and L2.

Middle School World Languages, Grades 6-8, meet every other day for a 40-minute class period providing students with approximately 60 hours of instruction per year in the target language, and a total of 180 hours for the grades 6-8 sequence.

Repetition, Recycling and Expansion

Second Language Acquisition Research informs us that learners acquire language not through the explicit teaching of grammatical structures, but through exposures to comprehensible input. Learners acquire language by hearing messages in the target language that they can understand. With that key SLA principle in mind, the World Languages curriculum seeks to establish core vocabulary drawn from the 100-200 most frequent words used in the target language. This vocabulary is introduced, reinforced, recycled and gradually expanded as students gradually develop the proficiency necessary to first listen and read increasingly complex messages (from words to phrases to paragraph level stories), then leading to their ability to produce original messages (speaking and writing) in the target language.

Teachers strive to provide students with comprehensible and compelling input, delivered in the target language each day through activities (classroom routines, stories, music, interactions) designed to use language for authentic purposes rather than "language practice".

World Language Practices:

The practices are the skills that individuals who leverage their ability to speak multiple languages in their careers use on a regular basis. Because the purpose of World Languages is to provide students with the essential language skills and cultural understandings in languages other than English, many of the practices can be applied to daily life. These practices establish a strong link between communication and culture, which is applied when making connections and comparisons and in using language to function as part of local and global communities. Curriculum writers and educators will want to consider how they can design learning experiences that will enable their students to develop these skills in conjunction with the skills reflected in the core ideas and performance expectations (ACTFL, 2012).

Practice	Description
Communicate	Communicate effectively in more than one language in order to function in a variety of situations and for multiple purposes.
Cultures	Learners use the language to investigate, explain, and reflect on the relationship between the practices and perspectives of the cultures studied. Learners use the language to investigate, explain, and reflect on the relationship between the products and perspectives of the cultures studied.
Connections	Learners use the language to investigate, explain, and reflect on the nature of language through comparisons of the language studied and their own. Learners use the language to investigate, explain, and reflect on the concept of culture through comparisons of the cultures studied and their own.
Comparisons	Develop insight into the nature of language and culture in order to interact with cultural competence.
Communities	Learners use the language both within and beyond the classroom to interact and collaborate in their community and the globalized world. Learners set goals and reflect on their progress in using languages for enjoyment, enrichment, and advancement.

A note on Performance vs Proficiency:

Unlike other content areas, the NJSLS – WL is benchmarked by proficiency levels. Below is a chart from ACTFL Performance Descriptors for Language Learners (2012) that shows how assessing for performance is different from assessing for proficiency.

The ultimate goal of world language instruction is for learners to attain high levels of proficiency, which allows them to use the language with ease and confidence in everyday interactions with native speakers and in the workplace. To attain proficiency, learners learn, use, and practice language that they acquire in a classroom setting. Spiraling and recursive performance in a world language leads to proficiency.

- Performance is defined as how well a learner uses language acquired in a classroom setting.
- Proficiency is defined as the spontaneous use of language in real-world situations that might occur when:
 - interacting with native speakers of the language, or immersed in a target language environment.

Assessing Performance	Assessing Proficiency
Based on instruction: Describes what the language learner can demonstrate based on what was learned	Independent of specific instruction or curriculum: Describes what the language user can do regardless of where, when or how the language was acquired
Practice: Tasks are derived from the language functions and vocabulary that learners have practiced or rehearsed but which are applied to other tasks with familiar contexts	Spontaneous: Tasks are non-rehearsed situations
Familiar content and context: Content based on what was learned, practiced, or rehearsed; all within a context similar but not identical to how learned	Broad content and context: Context and content are those that are appropriate for the given level
Demonstrated performance: To be evaluated within a range, must be able to demonstrate the features of the domains of a given range in those contexts and content areas that have been learned and practices.	Sustained performance across all the tasks and contexts for the level: To be at a level, must demonstrate consistent patterns of all the criteria for a given level, all of the time

Essential Questions	Enduring Understandings
How is the target language culture similar and/or different from my own?	Language learning involves taking risks and learning from one's mistakes.
How can I make myself understood as a novice level speaker?	Listening for familiar words and watching the speaker for clues may help me figure out what the speaker is saying.
How can I use context to comprehend words I do not know?	Even though I don't know all the words that are written, I can figure out the main idea by paying attention to titles, pictures, and familiar expressions.
How is the target culture alike and/or different from my own?	Using pictures, movement, and acting words out can help my classmates, my teacher, and others understand me.
Why doesn't everyone see things the way I do?	Everyone has a culture. It shapes how we see the world, ourselves and others.

Note: The essential questions and enduring understandings that we pursue are most often related to the understanding of what language is, how it is intertwined with culture, and developing strategies for coping and successfully communicating before full proficiency is acquired.

Stage 2: Evidence
Formative Assessments	Summative Assessments
Anecdotal records, collaborative discussion, tests, quizzes, exit tickets, picture prompt quick writing activities, class polls, performance tasks, listening comprehension tasks, project-based Assessment. Online mini-assessments: Socrative, Kahoot, etc. Assessment of the three modes of communication via student choice boards, student-designed assessment activities, creative extension projects.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ IPA's: Integrated Performance Assessments ▪ End of Unit Projects ▪ Portfolios documenting Evidence of the completion of "Can Do" tasks performed at the novice-mid level for across the interpretive, interpersonal modes of communication.
Integrated Performance Assessments (IPAs) are given at the end of each unit or quarter to evaluate students' progress towards meeting proficiency benchmarks at the novice-mid level.
The IPA is a cluster assessment featuring three tasks, each of which reflects one of the three modes of communication--Interpretive, Interpersonal and Presentational.

Each task provides the information and elicits the linguistic interaction that is necessary for students to complete the subsequent task. Teachers are to design IPAs at the designated proficiency level target of the class, providing tasks that given the students the opportunity to demonstrate their achievement of the targeted CPIs described in the units of the curriculum.

Student performance on Integrated Performance Activities are graded using rubrics which provide the students with feedback about how their performance in the assessed interpersonal, interpretive and presentational tasks matched with the targeted proficiency level.

This curriculum provides examples of ACTFL Rubrics for use with IPA tasks at the novice, intermediate and advanced levels. See the appendices at the end of this document.

Stage 3: Learning Plan

The thematic units of the LPS Middle School World Language Curriculum have been designed to provide instruction and opportunities for students to develop increasing proficiency across the three modes of communication: interpretive, interpersonal, and presentational. The goal of the Middle School World Language curriculum is to advance students towards novice mid proficiency.

This may include telling stories, summarizing content or brain-storming on an academic topic. The teacher puts the students' ideas into well-formed and organized language to serve as a model. This can be done in real-time and projected on video display. The notes are saved and can serve as a helpful reference text for student use.
Suggested Activities
1. Give students a questionnaire at the start of the year to learn about their interests and unique learning characteristics.

2. Several unit topics connect to exploring career interests. Help students to realize how biliteracy will benefit them in the workplace of the global economy.
3. Discuss the NJ Seal of Biliteracy with students. All World Language students in advanced classes will have the opportunity to test for the Seal. Show students the World Languages class progressions that will help them attain the level of proficiency necessary to earn the NJ Seal of Biliteracy.

NOTE: Proficiency Testing for the Seal of Biliteracy will take place in Fall of the student's senior year.

The Super 7 Verb Structures will be introduced in Unit 1 and emphasized through-out the World Language I Curriculum in an effort to develop a micro-fluency where students will be able to comprehend and retell an increasingly complex variety of messages and stories within this frame works.	There is To be (feeling) To be (location) To have To want To like To go

Interpersonal communication is the exchange of information and the negotiation of meaning between and among individuals.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 7.1.NM.IPERS.1: Request and provide information by asking and answering simple, practiced questions, using memorized words and phrases. • 7.1.NM.IPERS.2: Share basic needs on very familiar topics using words, phrases, and short memorized, formulaic sentences practiced in class. • 7.1.NM.IPERS.3: Express one's own and react to others' basic preferences and/or feelings using memorized, words, phrases, and simple memorized sentences that are supported by gestures and visuals. • 7.1.NM.IPERS.4: Give and follow simple oral and written directions, commands, and requests when participating in classroom and cultural activities. • 7.1.NM.IPERS.5: Imitate gestures and intonation of the target culture(s) native speakers when greeting others, during leave-takings, and in daily interactions. • 7.1.NM.IPERS.6: Exchange brief messages with others about climate in the target regions of the world and in one's own region using memorized and practiced words, phrases, and simple, formulaic sentences.

Essential Questions	Enduring Understandings
What language do I need to talk about myself in the target language?	Everyone has a culture. It shapes how we see the world, ourselves and others.
Why doesn't everyone see things the way I do?	Listening for familiar words and watching the speaker for clues may help me figure out what the speaker is saying.

Teachers are to design IPAs at the designated proficiency level target of the class, providing tasks that given the students the opportunity to demonstrate their achievement of the targeted CPIs described in the units of the curriculum. Student performance on Integrated Performance Activities are graded using rubrics which provide the students with feedback about how their performance in the assessed interpersonal, interpretive and presentational tasks matched with the targeted proficiency level. This curriculum provides examples of ACTFL Rubrics for use with IPA tasks at the novice, intermediate and advanced levels. See the appendices at the end of this document.

Stage 3: Learning Plan

The thematic units of the LPS Middle School World Language Curriculum have been designed to provide instruction and opportunities for students to develop increasing proficiency across the three modes of communication: interpretive, interpersonal, and presentational. Content

The content of Unit 2 will enable students to talk about recreational activities in their home cultures and those enjoyed by children in the target culture. Students will learn to use adverbs of frequency so they can tell how often they participate in preferred activities.

Students will receive more input further familiarizing them with previously introduced vocabulary and structures, while introducing vocabulary that will help them to comprehend and then increasingly more complex messages constructed with target vocabulary and structures.

Focus vocabulary & structural targets to be taught in a communicative context with stories, music and interactions:

Unit 3

Helping at Home

The third topic, “Helping at Home” allows students to build upon previously introduced vocabulary (daily activities, immediate family) in order to first understand stories that describe responsibilities that are common in the lives of family members. This context will be used to teach vocabulary related to the home, the rooms within it and activities that are commonly performed there.

Students will continue to learn foundational vocabulary and expressions through music, stories, games and other engaging activities. In this unit, students will have repeated exposures of the relevant target language vocabulary and structures.

Unit 3 will further develop students’ comprehension of foundational target structures (the Super 7 verbs) and high frequency vocabulary that will form the core of the linguistic content that students will be immersed in over the four units of World Languages I. By helping students develop micro-fluency with a limited set of structures and lexicon, teachers will be able to deliver content-based instruction while remaining in the target language for 90% or more of the class period.

This unit, like all units in the secondary curriculum, is structured to allow teachers the opportunity to provide a great deal of recycling and repetition of the key vocabulary and structures that students will need to develop acquisition of the L2.

New Jersey Student Learning Standard for World Languages 2020 Edition

Standard 7.1 All students will be able to use a world language in addition to English to engage in meaningful conversation, to understand and interpret spoken and written language, and to present information, concepts, and ideas, while also gaining an understanding of the perspectives of other cultures. Through language study, they will make connections with other content areas, compare the language and culture studied with their own, and participate in home and global communities.

Essential Questions	Enduring Understandings
What language do I need to talk about my family in the target language?	Concepts of family may differ across cultures.
Why doesn't everyone see things the way I do?	Everyone has a culture. It shapes how we see the world, ourselves and others.
What strategies can I use to better understand unfamiliar language?	Listening for familiar words and watching the speaker for clues may help me figure out what the speaker is saying.
What strategies can I use to make myself understand as I learn a new language?	Using pictures, movement, and acting words out can help my classmates, my teacher, and others understand me.

Stage 2: Evidence

Integrated Performance Assessments (IPAs) are given at the end of each unit or quarter to evaluate students' progress towards meeting proficiency bench marks at the novice-mid level. The IPA is a cluster assessment featuring three tasks, each of which reflects one of the three modes of communication--Interpretive, Interpersonal and Presentational. Each task provides the information and elicits the linguistic interaction that is necessary for students to complete the subsequent task. Teachers are to design IPAs at the designated proficiency level target of the class, providing tasks that given the students the opportunity to demonstrate their achievement of the targeted CPIs described in the units of the curriculum. Student performance on Integrated Performance Activities are graded using rubrics which provide the students with feedback about how their performance in the assessed interpersonal, interpretive and presentational tasks matched with the targeted proficiency level. This curriculum provides examples of ACTFL Rubrics for use with IPA tasks at the novice, intermediate and advanced levels. See the appendices at the end of this document.

Stage 3: Learning Plan
The thematic units of the LPS Middle School World Language Curriculum have been designed to provide instruction and opportunities for students to develop increasing proficiency across the three modes of communication: interpretive, interpersonal, and presentational. The goal of the Middle School World Language curriculum is to advance students towards novice mid proficiency.

What will students know?

Unit 3 content enables students to describe their home, the rooms in their home, and the activities that take place in them.

Teacher and students will use Super 7 story structures to with their students co-create stories focusing on daily activities in the home, chores and celebrations. Additionally, teachers will present stories that involve culturally authentic families from the target culture comparing and contrasting across all relevant areas.

Focus vocabulary & structural targets to be taught in a communicative context with stories, music and interactions.

New target structure: I have to + Verb (to talk about things we have to do)

House, home	Bedroom	To cook, to eat
Apartment	To sleep	To clean
Room	Kitchen	To take out the trash
Garage	Bathroom	To do the dishes
Car	To take a shower	To make dinner
Truck	To wash hands	To babysit
Outside / yard	Living Room	To help someone
Inside	To watch tv	To clean one's room
Clean/dirty	Table, Chair	To do laundry
	Sofa	To cut grass
		To shovel snow

Teachers should continue to repeat and recycle all previously used vocabulary to shelter the introduction of new vocabulary, and to help students to acquire proficiency with the core vocabulary and structures identified in the grade 6-7 curriculums.

Students can write about their families/homes on a blog post.

Embedded Culture: What can students do with what they know about culture?

Investigate: Students can identify homes in photos from the target culture

Reflect: Students can think about how homes are alike or different in the target culture

Interact: Students can share information about their home with someone from a different culture.

Suggested Resources and Materials

Teacher selected materials should explore cultural diversity and multiple perspectives. Teachers should strive to access rich, cross-content materials, and provide opportunities for students to research, organize and communicate in the target language using technology.

World Languages Grade 7

Unit 4

Let's Eat

The United States is a multi-cultural tapestry enriched with all of the flavors that immigrants from around the world has brought to her shores. Students are likely familiar with some of the foods from the target culture. This unit will help students acquire the language necessary to identify favorite foods from the home culture and typical foods from the target culture. Students will learn to communicate for authentic purposes in the real-life context of ordering or working in a restaurant.

Students will develop the necessary vocabulary to compare and contrast the related topics of food / meals as experienced at home and within the target culture.

Using authentic cultural media, classroom L2 magazines and teacher produced resources, students will compare and contrast these topics as experienced in the L1 and L2 cultures.

Students will continue to learn foundational vocabulary and expressions through music, stories, games and other engaging activities. In this unit, students will have repeated exposures of the relevant target language vocabulary and structures.

Unit 4 will further develop students' comprehension of foundational target structures (the Super 7 verbs) and high frequency vocabulary that will form the core of the linguistic content that students will be immersed in over the four units of World Languages I. By helping students develop micro-fluency with a limited set of structures and lexicon, teachers will be able to deliver content-based instruction while remaining in the target language for 90% or more of the class period.

This unit, like all units in the secondary curriculum, is structured to allow teachers the opportunity to provide a great deal of recycling and repetition of the key vocabulary and structures that students will need to develop acquisition of the L2.

Essential Questions	Enduring Understandings
What is the relationship between food and culture? How does food reflect culture?	The foods eaten in the target culture can tell us a lot about their natural resources, histories and traditions.
How do the foods we eat at each meal vary across cultures?	To be perceived as having good manners, it is important to know and acknowledge cultural norms involving food & restaurants in the target culture.
Why doesn't everyone see things the way I do?	Everyone has a culture. It shapes how we see the world, ourselves and others.
How can learning an L2 help me with my career goals?	Biliteracy is a valuable skill in a global community.

Integrated Performance Assessments (IPAs) are given at the end of each unit or quarter to evaluate students’ progress towards meeting proficiency bench marks at the novice-mid level. The IPA is a cluster assessment featuring three tasks, each of which reflects one of the three modes of communication--Interpretive, Interpersonal and Presentational. Each task provides the information and elicits the linguistic interaction that is necessary for students to complete the subsequent task. Teachers are to design IPAs at the designated proficiency level target of the class, providing tasks that given the students the opportunity to demonstrate their achievement of the targeted CPIs described in the units of the curriculum. Student performance on Integrated Performance Activities are graded using rubrics which provide the students with feedback about how their performance in the assessed interpersonal, interpretive and presentational tasks matched with the targeted proficiency level. This curriculum provides examples of ACTFL Rubrics for use with IPA tasks at the novice, intermediate and advanced levels. See the appendices at the end of this document.

Stage 3: Learning Plan
The thematic units of the LPS Middle School World Language Curriculum have been designed to provide instruction and opportunities for students to develop increasing proficiency across the three modes of communication: interpretive, interpersonal, and presentational. The goal of the Middle School World Language curriculum is to advance students towards novice mid proficiency.

Activities	Methodologies
Incorporating a variety of activities to accommodate the learning styles of all students is a necessary requirement. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Linguistic Activities ▪ Logical-mathematical ▪ Spatial Bodily-Kinesthetic ▪ Interpretive, interpersonal and presentational ▪ Reading, listening, viewing ▪ Singing, drawing, dancing Activities in the target language should foster purposeful and meaningful communication that relates to relevant, real-world situations.	Acquisition focused approach: teachers will provide students with compelling and comprehensible language activities in the target language, with the goal of > than 90% use of the target language. Therefore, teachers must use scaffolding strategies and limit the amount of new language introduced to ensure that students receive the required amount of repeated exposures to target vocabulary and structures to ensure comprehensibility and the development of fluency within the limited scope of our curricular targets. Natural Approach- A strategy that promotes communicative proficiency by providing real-world, authentic experiences and language experiences within meaningful contexts.

What will students know? What will students be able to do with the language?
Students will know: The target language in order to talk about foods, meals and related customs in the target language and culture: Basic foods, drinks, meals, breakfast, lunch, dinner, desserts, snacks. The language needed to distinguish healthy and unhealthy food choices. Taste descriptions: sweet, salty, spicy Table Settings across cultures, tablecloth, plate, bowl, knife, fork, spoon, napkin. The new vocabulary and structures of this unit must be taught through content rather than through isolated vocabulary lists and explicit focus on target structures. Teacher talk, stories, and scaffolded content should use a limited amount of high frequency vocabulary and repeated exposures to the focus target structures. The Super 7 Verb Structures will be emphasized through-out the World Language I Curriculum in an effort to develop a micro-fluency where students will be able to comprehend and retell an increasingly complex variety of messages and stories within this framework.	There is To be (feeling) To be (location) To have To want To like To go

What can students do?

Students will be able to demonstrate proficiency by performing the following interpretive, interpersonal and presentational tasks:

Interpretive Performance Tasks

CPI's 7.1.NL.IPRET.1-4 / 7.1.NM.IPRET.1-4

Students can listen to an extended story using target vocabulary and structures and demonstrate comprehension through rewriting or retelling that story.

Students can use the Internet to research foods in the target culture. They will listen and/or read descriptions of foods and drinks in culturally authentic media, and they will demonstrate the ability to recognize target words and phrases.

Students will identify food and activities that take place in a restaurant, based on oral and/or written descriptions.

Students will demonstrate comprehension of short conversations and brief written messages where speakers from the target culture talk about foods.

Students will be able to read and demonstrate comprehension of an authentic school menu from the target culture, and will infer the meaning of a few unfamiliar words.

Interpersonal Performance Tasks

CPI's 7.1.NL.IPERS.1-6 / 7.1.NM.IPERS.1-6

Students will use digital tools such as social media to comment on favorite food products and restaurants.

Students can have a conversational exchange where partners express hunger and thirst, then share their family's customs and preferences related to meals.

Students will share and exchange information that they have researched related to cultural differences related to eating habits across the home and target culture.

Presentational Performance Tasks

CPI's 7.1.NL.PRSNT.1-4 / 7.1.NM.PRSNT.1-6

Students will use digital tools to create a presentation about multi-cultural foods found in their community and will share this virtually with their e-pals or partner school.

Students can retell a story using the Super 7 structures and target vocabulary.

Students will write and perform a role play between a waiter and customer that uses unit vocabulary and structures.

Students will watch a brief video clip that takes place in a restaurant. Students will retell the story presented in the clip, employing the unit's target structures and vocabulary.

Students will create a project where they use their L2 language skills to create a photo illustrated menu for a restaurant that features foods from the target culture.

What can students do with what they know about culture?

Investigate: Students can use technology to identify what food and restaurants are like in the target culture. Students can research the global problem of hunger, at home and in the L2 culture.

Reflect: Students can compare and contrast school lunches in the L1 and L2 culture.

Interact: Students can use technology to share some information about school lunches in the United States with students from the target culture.

Suggested Resources and Materials

Teacher selected materials should explore cultural diversity and multiple perspectives. Teachers should strive to access rich, cross-content materials, and provide opportunities for students to research, organize and communicate in the target language using technology.
