Content Area: Language Arts Literacy
Course(s): English 9 CP
Time Period: Marking Period 4
Length: 10 Blocks
Status: Published

Unit Description

Stage 1-- Desired Results

Unit Purpose: Students will learn how to interact with a fictional text and then, further, learn how to interact with their peers who have read the same text but have differing insights into the text. Students will have discussions concerning the text itself and its reach beyond the pages and into the world around them including historical connections and current event connections.

Established Goals: By the end of the unit students will be able to discuss the intricacies of a dystopian novel including the author's choices concerning plot, character, structure, etc. and its connections to the world around them.

New Jersey Student Learning Standards: English Language Arts Grades 9 and 10

Explicit:

SL.9-10.1. Initiate and participate effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on-one, in groups, and teacher-led) with peers on grades 9–10 topics, texts, and issues, building on others' ideas and expressing their own clearly and persuasively.

-A. Come to discussions prepared, having read and researched material under study; explicitly draw on that preparation by referring to evidence from texts and other research on the topic or issue to stimulate a thoughtful, well-reasoned exchange of ideas.

-B. Collaborate with peers to set rules for discussions (e.g. informal consensus, taking votes on key issues, presentation of alternate views); develop clear goals and assessment criteria (e.g. student developed rubric) and assign individual roles as needed.

-C. Propel conversations by posing and responding to questions that relate the current discussion to broader themes or larger ideas; actively incorporate others into the discussion; and clarify, verify, or challenge ideas and conclusions.

-D. Respond thoughtfully to various perspectives, summarize points of agreement and disagreement, and justify own views. Make new connections in light of the evidence and reasoning presented.

SL.9-10.4. Present information, findings, and supporting evidence clearly, concisely, and logically. The content, organization, development, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience.

SL.9-10.6. Adapt speech to a variety of contexts and tasks, demonstrating command of formal English.

Implicit:

RL.9-10.1. Cite strong and thorough textual evidence and make relevant connections to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferentially, including determining where the text leaves matters uncertain.

RL.9-10.2. Determine a theme or central idea of a text and analyze in detail its development over the course of the text, including how it emerges and is shaped and refined by specific details and provide an objective summary of the text.

RL.9-10.3. Analyze how complex characters (e.g., those with multiple or conflicting motivations) develop over the course of a text, interact with other characters, and advance the plot or develop the theme.

RL.9-10.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in the text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the cumulative impact of specific word choices on meaning and tone (e.g., how the language evokes a sense of time and place; how it sets a formal or informal tone).

RL.9-10.5. Analyze how an author's choices concerning how to structure a text, order events within it (e.g., parallel plots), and manipulate time (e.g., pacing, flashbacks) create specific effects (e.g. mystery, tension, or surprise).

RL.9-10.9. Analyze and reflect on (e.g. practical knowledge, historical/cultural context, and background knowledge) how an author draws on and transforms source material in a specific work (e.g., how Shakespeare treats a theme or topic from mythology or the Bible or how a later author draws on a play by Shakespeare).

RL.9-10.10. By the end of grade 9, read and comprehend literature, including stories, dramas, and poems at grade level text-complexity or above with scaffolding as needed.

SL.9-10.2. Integrate multiple sources of information presented in diverse media or formats (e.g., visually, quantitatively, qualitatively, orally) evaluating the credibility and accuracy of each source.

SL.9-10.3. Evaluate a speaker's point of view, reasoning, and use of evidence and rhetoric, identifying any false reasoning or distorted evidence.

SL.9-10.5. Make strategic use of digital media (e.g., textual, graphical, audio, visual, and interactive elements) in presentations to enhance findings, reasoning, and evidence and to add interest.

L.9-10.1. Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English grammar and usage when writing or speaking.

-A. Use parallel structure.

-B. Use various types of phrases (noun, verb, adjectival, adverbial, participial, prepositional, absolute) and clauses (independent, dependent; noun, relative, adverbial) to convey specific meanings and add variety and interest to writing or presentations.

L.9-10.3. Apply knowledge of language to make effective choices for meaning, or style, and to comprehend more fully when reading, writing, speaking or listening.

-A. Vary word choice and sentence structure to demonstrate an understanding of the influence of language.

L.9-10.6. Acquire and use accurately general academic and domain-specific words and phrases, sufficient for reading, writing, speaking, and listening at the college and career readiness level; demonstrate independence in gathering vocabulary knowledge when considering a word or phrase important to comprehension or expression.

Understandings:

Essential Questions:

Students will understand that...

- Discussions have a natural progression about them, but they still need to be maintained with new and novel thoughts and evidence.
- Participating in a discussion is more than just agreeing or disagreeing with their view of their peers.
- There are rules for participating in discussions and those rules need to be honored by all participants.
- Sharing personal views in a discussion is acceptable, but those views should be supported with relevant and sufficient evidence.
- Coming prepared to a discussion is paramount; participation is key and without preparation, students will not be able to participate as fully and deeply as expected.
- Why is it important to have discussions with my peers?
- Why does having effective discussions in class matter for life beyond the classroom?
- Why do I have to prepare for a discussion?
- How do I make sure I am prepared for a discussion?
- How do I share my personal views in a discussion in a mature, well thought out manner?
- Why do I have to change the way I speak when I am in a small group v. a large group v. with my peers v. with my friends?
- Why do we discuss what we read? How does it enrich our lives?

Students will know...

- That discussing the characters, ideas, themes, etc. in books with others is necessary because each discussion participant brings a new and different paradigm to the discussion.
- Discussing a book and its content goes far beyond the book itself into current events and historical events.
- Coming prepared to a discussion is not only valuable but necessary in order for the discussion to be effective and in order for participants to learn from it.
- That authors source inspiration from the world around them and readers are meant to see the statement the author is making.
- Books are so much more than just "a story," but are commentary on the world around us.

Students will be able to...

- Initiate and participate in discussions
- Clearly present original thoughts in a group setting
- Prepare for a discussion
- Create and follow rules for group discussions
- Continue a discussion by responding to a question and then asking a follow up question
- Justify personal views in a discussion
