

Unit 8: Narrative Writing

Content Area: Language Arts Literacy
Course(s): English 9 CP
Time Period: Marking Period 4
Length: 10 Blocks
Status: Published

Course Description

This course continues to develop students' critical reading and writing skills developed in the intermediate school. Through the study of literary genres such as the short story, novel, drama, poetry, mythology and nonfiction, students sharpen recognition of various literary elements and devices. Emphasis in this course is placed on in-depth reading and discussion as well as writing skills.

Unit Description

Stage 1-- Desired Results

Unit Purpose: Students will learn how to write a fictional text using flash fiction and fan fiction literature as guides for this purpose. Students will focus on creating a strong fictional plot with an exposition, rising action, climax, falling action, resolution, conflict, and characters. Students will also weave in a particular theme.

Established Goals: By the end of the unit students will be able to create a final piece of writing of flash fiction or fanfiction with a focus on plot; exposition, rising action, climax, falling action, and resolution.

New Jersey Student Learning Standards: English Language Arts Grades 9 and 10

Explicit:

W.9-10.3. Write narratives to develop real or imagined experiences or events using effective technique, well-chosen details, and well-structured event sequences.

A. Engage and orient the reader by setting out a problem, situation, or observation, establishing one or multiple point(s) of view, and introducing a narrator and/or characters; create a smooth progression of experiences or events.

B. Use narrative techniques, such as dialogue, pacing, description, reflection, and multiple plot lines, to develop experiences, events, and/or characters.

C. Use a variety of techniques to sequence events so that they build on one another to create a coherent whole.

D. Use precise words and phrases, telling details, and sensory language to convey a vivid picture of the experiences, events, setting, and/or characters.

E. Provide a conclusion that follows from and reflects on what is experienced, observed, or resolved over the course of the narrative.

Implicit:

W.9-10.4. Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development, organization, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience. (Grade-specific expectations for writing types are defined in standards 1–3 above.)

W.9-10.5. Develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, editing, rewriting, trying a new approach, or consulting a style manual (such as MLA or APA Style), focusing on addressing what is most significant for a specific purpose and audience.

W.9-10.6. Use technology, including the Internet, to produce, share, and update individual or shared writing products, taking advantage of technology's capacity to link to other information and to display information flexibly and dynamically.

W.9-10.10. Write routinely over extended time frames (time for research, reflection, and revision) and shorter time frames (a single sitting or a day or two) for a range of tasks, purposes, and audiences.

L.9-10.1. Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English grammar and usage when writing or speaking.

A. Use parallel structure.

B. Use various types of phrases (noun, verb, adjectival, adverbial, participial, prepositional, absolute) and clauses (independent, dependent; noun, relative, adverbial) to convey specific meanings and add variety and interest to writing or presentations.

L.9-10.2. Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English capitalization, punctuation, and spelling when writing.

A. Use a semicolon (and perhaps a conjunctive adverb) to link two or more closely related independent clauses.

B. Use a colon to introduce a list or quotation.

C. Spell correctly.

L.9-10.3. Apply knowledge of language to make effective choices for meaning, or style, and to comprehend more fully when reading, writing, speaking or listening. A. Vary word choice and sentence structure to demonstrate an understanding of the influence of language.

L.9-10.6. Acquire and use accurately general academic and domain-specific words and phrases, sufficient for reading, writing, speaking, and listening at the college and career readiness level; demonstrate independence in gathering vocabulary knowledge when considering a word or phrase important to comprehension or expression.

Understandings:

Students will understand that...

Writers employ various craft and structural elements in order to develop a story, paying close attention to language choices, specific details, and conciseness.

Writing a story can help an author make sense of "fragments" of experiences, even seemingly insignificant ones.

Writers explode a moment to capture meaning.

Students will know...

- That an exposition for a narrative establishes a setting, conflict, point of view, narrator, and characters.
- That effective narratives create a smooth progression of events for the reader.
- That events in a narrative are developed through dialogue, pacing, description and reflection.
- That the sequence of events in a narrative must be coherent.
- That creating a vivid picture of the setting, events, and characters (with more focus on events) is achieved through using precise words, details, and sensory language.
- That a conclusion that effectively ends the narrative justifies all of the elements within it.

Essential Questions:

How do narrative techniques aid in developing real or imagined experiences?

How can a writer draw a conclusion or reflect upon an experience?

Why is it necessary to write and share stories?

Students will be able to...

- Create an exposition for a narrative that establishes a setting, conflict, point of view, narrator, and characters
- Create a smooth progression of events
- Develop events through dialogue, pacing, description and reflection
- Determine how to sequence events coherently
- Determine how to create a vivid picture of the setting, events, and characters (with more focus on events) through using precise words, details, and sensory language.
- Create a conclusion that effectively ends the narrative and justifies all of the elements within it.

Academic Terminology:

- Flash Fiction
- Fanfiction
- Plot
- Conflict
- Characters
- Characterization
- Theme
- Analyze
- Develop
- Manipulate
- Tension (in literature)
- Mystery (in literature)
- Surprise (in literature)

Stage 2 -- Assessment Evidence

Assessments:

Major Assessments:

- Final Narrative
- Writing On-Demand Skills Assessment

Performance Tasks:

Minor Assessments:

- W.9-10.3 skills quiz
- W.9-10.3 skills quiz

-Write a piece of flash fiction focusing on the elements learned throughout the unit with a focus on plot and sequence of events.

-Write a piece of fanfiction focusing on the elements learned throughout the unit with a focus on plot and sequence of events.

Homework/Class Work:

- Writer's's Notebook Entries (5)

Stage 3 -- Learning Plan

Learning Activities:

-Introduce the standards, essential questions, assessment evidence and corresponding rubrics, and calendar of lessons to students.

- Establish each student's prior understanding of informational writing (informational essay) through a relatable hook (story, survey, posing question, etc.) or through individual conferences.
- Read Aloud from texts.
- Execute standards based mini-lessons to develop skills and strategies.
- Read mentor texts to identify and implement craft conventions.
- Experience activities where speaking and listening skills are taught and in sharing times.
- Confer individually with teacher and peers.
- Demonstrate understanding through various assessments.

Mini-Lessons

- How to create an exposition for a narrative that establishes a setting, conflict, point of view, narrator, and characters
- How to create a smooth progression of events
- How to develop events through dialogue, pacing, description and reflection
- How to sequence events coherently
- How to create a vivid picture of the setting, events, and characters (with more focus on events) through using precise words, details, and sensory language.
- How to create a conclusion that effectively ends the narrative and justifies all of the elements within it.
