

Unit 2: Literary Analysis

Content Area: Language Arts Literacy
Course(s): English 9 CP
Time Period: Marking Period 1
Length: 10 Blocks
Status: Published

Course Description

This course continues to develop students' critical reading and writing skills developed in the intermediate school. Through the study of literary genres such as the short story, novel, drama, poetry, mythology and nonfiction, students sharpen recognition of various literary elements and devices. Emphasis in this course is placed on in-depth reading and discussion as well as writing skills.

Unit Description

Stage 1-- Desired Results

Unit Purpose: Students will learn how to write a literary analysis essay that focuses on a theme, symbol, or character in a short story text.

Established Goals: By the end of the unit students will be able to create a final piece of writing that shows their analysis of a text for its literary merit that supports a claim with sound evidence and reasoning, that avoids logical fallacies and propaganda devices, and that uses transitions to create clarity and cohesion.

New Jersey Student Learning Standards: English Language Arts Grades 9 and 10

Explicit:

W.9-10.1. Write arguments to support claims in an analysis of substantive topics or texts, using valid reasoning and relevant and sufficient evidence.

A. Introduce precise claim(s), distinguish the claim(s) from alternate or opposing claims, and create an organization that establishes clear relationships among claim(s), counterclaims, reasons, and evidence.

B. Develop claim(s) and counterclaims avoiding common logical fallacies, propaganda devices, and using sound reasoning, supplying evidence for each while pointing out the strengths and limitations of both in a manner that anticipates the audience's knowledge level and concerns.

C. Use transitions (e.g. words, phrases, clauses) to link the major sections of the text, create cohesion, and clarify the relationships between claim(s) and reasons, between reasons and evidence, and between claim(s) and counterclaims.

D. Establish and maintain a style and tone appropriate to the audience and purpose (e.g. formal and objective for academic writing) while attending to the norms and conventions of the discipline in which they are writing.

E. Provide a concluding paragraph or section that supports the argument presented.

Implicit:

W.9-10.4. Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development, organization, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience. (Grade-specific expectations for writing types are defined in standards 1–3 above.)

W.9-10.5. Develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, editing, rewriting, trying a new approach, or consulting a style manual (such as MLA or APA Style), focusing on addressing what is most significant for a specific purpose and audience.

W.9-10.6. Use technology, including the Internet, to produce, share, and update individual or shared writing products, taking advantage of technology's capacity to link to other information and to display information flexibly and dynamically.

W.9-10.7. Conduct short as well as more sustained research projects to answer a question (including a self-generated question) or solve a problem; narrow or broaden the inquiry when appropriate; synthesize multiple sources on the subject, demonstrating understanding of the subject under investigation.

W.9-10.8. Gather relevant information from multiple authoritative print and digital sources, using advanced searches effectively; assess the usefulness of each source in answering the research question; integrate information into the text selectively to maintain the flow of ideas, avoiding plagiarism and following a standard format for citation (MLA or APA Style Manuals).

W.9-10.10. Write routinely over extended time frames (time for research, reflection, and revision) and shorter time frames (a single sitting or a day or two) for a range of tasks, purposes, and audiences.

L.9-10.1. Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English grammar and usage when writing or speaking.

A. Use parallel structure.

B. Use various types of phrases (noun, verb, adjectival, adverbial, participial, prepositional, absolute) and clauses (independent, dependent; noun, relative, adverbial) to convey specific meanings and add variety and interest to writing or presentations.

L.9-10.2. Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English capitalization, punctuation, and spelling when writing.

A. Use a semicolon (and perhaps a conjunctive adverb) to link two or more closely related independent clauses.

B. Use a colon to introduce a list or quotation.

C. Spell correctly.

L.9-10.3. Apply knowledge of language to make effective choices for meaning, or style, and to comprehend more fully when reading, writing, speaking or listening. A. Vary word choice and sentence structure to demonstrate an understanding of the influence of language.

L.9-10.6. Acquire and use accurately general academic and domain-specific words and phrases, sufficient for reading, writing, speaking, and listening at the college and career readiness level; demonstrate independence in gathering vocabulary knowledge when considering a word or phrase important to comprehension or expression.

Understandings:

Essential Questions:

Students will understand that...

- Writing a literary analysis consists of explaining the analysis they did concerning a piece of writing (content) and then supporting a claim they make about that analysis
- Writing conveys complex ideas through selection, organization, and analysis of content
- Claims are supported through evidence and reasoning
- Arguments can be organized in various ways
- Claims and reasoning should be devoid of logical fallacies, propaganda devices, and bias when appropriate in order to be strong
- Arguments and literary analysis have an objective, yet convincing tone

- What is a literary analysis essay?
- Why do authors write literary analysis essays?
- How do I support claims?
- How are arguments structured?
- How can I use organizational techniques to present information logically and clearly?
- To what extent do informational writers remove personal opinion from their writing?
- How do I gather relevant and sufficient evidence to convey information?

Students will know...

- How to critically read a text in order to make a claim about it
- The norms and conventions of argumentative writing
- How to use text features to organize writing
- How to use precise language and domain-specific vocabulary to convey an appropriate tone and style
- Write a powerful conclusion

Academic Terminology:

- Analysis
- Audience
- Purpose
- Objective tone
- Transitions
- Claim
- Reasoning
- Evidence
- Logical fallacies
- Propaganda techniques
- Bias

Students will be able to...

- Analyze a text for its literary merit
- Determine various ways to support a claim
- Use valid and relevant evidence and reasoning
- Introduce and develop a claim
- Organize an argument
- Avoid logical fallacies, propaganda devices
- Use sound reasoning and evidence
- Point out the strengths and limitations of evidence and reasoning
- Use transitions in a text to link sections of text, create clarity, and create cohesion
- Establish and maintain an appropriate tone
- Attend to the norms and conventions of the discipline
- Write a conclusion that supports the argument presented

Stage 2 -- Assessment Evidence

Assessments:

Performance Tasks:

Write a literary analysis that makes a claim about a theme, symbol, or character from a short story and supports that claim with sound evidence and reasoning.

Major Assessments:

- Final Literary Analysis Essay
- Writing On-Demand Skills Assessment

Minor Assessments:

- W.9-10.1 skills quiz
- W.9-10.1 skills quiz

Homework/Class Work:

- Reader's Notebook Entries (5)

Stage 3 -- Learning Plan

Learning Activities:

- Introduce the standards, essential questions, assessment evidence and corresponding rubrics, and calendar of lessons to students.
- Establish each student's prior understanding of informational writing (informational essay) through a relatable hook (story, survey, posing question, etc.) or through individual conferences.
- Read Aloud from texts.
- Execute standards based mini-lessons to develop skills and strategies.
- Read mentor texts to identify and implement craft conventions.
- Experience activities where speaking and listening skills are taught and in sharing times.
- Confer individually with teacher and peers.
- Demonstrate understanding through various assessments.

Mini-Lessons

- Analyze a text for its literary merit
- Creating and introducing a claim
- Determine various ways to support a claim
- Use valid reasoning
- Use relevant and sufficient evidence
- Organizing an argument

- Attending to the norms and conventions of the discipline
- Using transitions in a text to link sections of text, create clarity, and create cohesion
- Developing claims
- Avoid logical fallacies, propaganda devices
- Using sound reasoning and evidence
- Pointing out the strengths and limitations of evidence and reasoning
- Establishing and maintaining an appropriate tone
- Creating a conclusion that supports the argument presented

CONSIDERATIONS FOR DIVERSE LEARNERS

Accommodations and Modifications:

Students with Disabilities, English Language Learners,

Students at Risk of Failure, Students with 504s, Gifted & Talented Students

Strategies and Practices that Support Students with Disabilities:

- Use of visual and multisensory formats
- Use of assisted technology
- Use of prompts
- Modification of content and student products
- Testing accommodations
- Authentic assessments
- Small group/One to one
- Additional time
- Review of directions
- Student restates information
- Space for movement or breaks
- Extra visual and verbal cues and prompts

- Preferential seating
- Follow a routine/schedule
- Rest breaks
- Verbal and visual cues regarding directions and staying on task
- Checklists
- Immediate feedback

Strategies and Practices that Support Gifted & Talented Students:

- Adjusting the pace of lessons
- Curriculum compacting
- Inquiry-based instruction
- Independent study
- Higher-order thinking skills
- Interest-based content
- Student-driven instruction
- Real-world problems and scenarios
- Problem-based learning
- Interest-based research
- Authentic problem-solving

Strategies and Practices that Support English Language Learners:

- Pre-teaching of vocabulary and concepts
- Personal vocabulary
- Text-to-speech
- Simplified instructions
- Visual learning, including graphic organizers

- Use of cognates to increase comprehension
- Teacher modeling
- Pairing students with beginning English language skills with students who have more advanced English language skills
- Scaffolding
- Word walls
- Sentence frames
- Think-pair-share
- Cooperative learning groups

Strategies and Practices that Support At-Risk Students:

- Guided notes and/or scaffold outline for written assignments
- Guided reading
- Introduce key vocabulary before the lesson
- Work in a small group
- The lesson taught again using a differentiated approach
- Allow answers to be given orally or dictated
- Use visuals / Anchor Charts
- Leveled texts according to ability
- Choice Boards
- Literature circles
- Project-based learning
- Graphic organizers
- Choice books
- Mini-Workshops to reteach or extend
- Jigsaw
- Goal-setting with students

- Use of a reading buddy
- Exploration based on interest

Strategies and Practices that Support Students with 504 Plans:

- Follow all the 504 plan modifications
- Text-to-speech/audio-recorded selections
- Amplification system as needed
- Leveled texts according to ability
- Fine motor skill stations embedded in rotation as needed
- Modified or constrained spelling word lists
- Provide anchor charts with high-frequency words and phonemic patterns
