Course Description

This course is designed for the student who has developed an exceptional proficiency in critical reading and thinking as well as advanced writing skills. Students are challenged with numerous fictional literary readings from several genres and related non-fiction. In addition, students complete many writing assignments and extensive outside readings. Students explore the modes of writing on a more sophisticated level; journal writing will address students' creative talents while other assignments will be analytical in nature. Students use MLA and The BIG6 information literacy model to conduct problem-based research projects.

Unit Description

Stage 1-- Desired Results

Unit Purpose:

In this unit students will read literature to study plot, characters, conflict, and ultimately, the fictional story the author writes. In 11th grade ELA, the teacher will teach the 11-12 grade standards.

Established Goals:

The main focus in 11th grade will be to read the narrative text and the components of the heroic archetype.

New Jersey Student Learning Standards: English Language Arts Grades 11 and 12

Explicit:

RL.11-12.1. Cite strong and thorough textual evidence and make relevant connections to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text, including determining where the text leaves matters uncertain.

RL.11-12.2. Determine two or more themes or central ideas of a text and analyze their development over the course of the text, including how they interact and build on one another to produce a complex account; provide an objective summary of the text.

RL.11-12.3. Analyze the impact of the author's choices regarding how to develop and relate elements of a story or drama (e.g., where a story is set, how the action is ordered, how the characters are introduced and developed).

RL.11-12.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in the text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning and tone, including words with multiple meanings or language that is particularly fresh, engaging, or beautiful. (e.g., Shakespeare as well as other authors.)

RL.11-12.5. Analyze how an author's choices concerning how to structure specific parts of a text (e.g., the choice of where to begin or end a story, the choice to provide a comedic or tragic resolution) contribute to its overall structure and meaning as well as its aesthetic impact.

RL.11-12.6. Analyze a case in which grasping a point of view requires distinguishing what is directly stated in a text from what is really meant (e.g., satire, sarcasm, irony, or understatement).

RL.11-12.7. Analyze multiple interpretations of a story, drama, or poem (e.g., recorded or live production of a play or recorded novel or poetry), evaluating how each version interprets the source text. (e.g., Shakespeare and other authors.)

RL.11-12.9. Demonstrate knowledge of and reflect on (e.g. practical knowledge, historical/cultural context, and background knowledge) eighteenth-, nineteenth- and early twentieth-century foundational works of literature, including how two or more texts from the same period treat similar themes or topics.

RL.11-12.10. By the end of grade 11, read and comprehend literature, including stories, dramas, and poems at grade level text-complexity or above with scaffolding as needed.

Understandings:

Students will understand that

- Strong critical reading skills are essential.

Essential Questions:

-How do critical reading strategies contribute to reading comprehension?

- Critical reading skills can be improved through repetition, under the direction of sound critical reading strategies.
  - There are rules for participating in discussions and those rules need to be honored by all participants.
  - Sharing personal views in a discussion is acceptable, but those views should be supported with relevant and sufficient evidence.
- How does reading cause action?
  - How does reading influence the world around us/
  - How is language used to manipulate us?
  - How do readers analyze the types of evidence an author uses to support the text's central idea, claim or insight?

Students will know...

-That discussing the characters, ideas, themes, etc. in books with others is necessary because each discussion participant brings a new and different paradigm to the discussion.

-Discussing a book and its content goes far beyond the book itself into current events and historical events.
