

Unit 4 - Working in a "Male's World"

Content Area: Social Studies
Course(s):
Time Period: Marking Period 1
Length: 5 blocks
Status: Published

Transfer Skills

---

Discuss women in occupations in which they are not usually expected to be seen.

Trace the origins of women in roles that were traditionally 'male' to the accomplishments they have made in those realms today.

Enduring Understandings

Women have often been shut out of careers and activities that were traditionally considered 'male'.

Throughout time, the definitions of male and female gender roles have changed.

Many women broke barriers in male-dominated fields and paved the way so that others could have more opportunities and equality today.

Although women have gained more rights in the United States they are still far from being equal and continue to fight for equality in life.

Essential Questions

How have women's roles changed in areas traditionally thought of as masculine?

How has the role of women in politics changed over time?

To what extent has women's involvement in politics been limited by gender/ societal expectations?

In what ways have women been affected by the law?

How have social activists created change?

To what extent is there a connection between expected societal roles for women and the level of respect or power they are issued?

Is there still a 'glass ceiling'?

Content
