Skills

Texture:

Understand that real texture is three dimensional and relates to the sense of touch.

Remember that implied texture is two dimensional and can be seen but cannot be touched.

Experiment with different textures to create shapes and forms.

Utilize line in a series of patterns to create implied texture.

Create textures through the use of different colors and hues.

Utilize texture to balance the space in a composition.

Discover how texture can create atmospheric perspective by adding real textured pieces to the foreground and leaving the background two dimensional with implied texture.

Manipulate different materials and found objects to create texture in a composition.

Judge in other pieces of art the emphasis and use of texture.

Work with a variety of materials and processes.

Comprehend that people have different views about art.
