Enduring Understandings

Enduring Understanding:

A relevant project applies course concepts to real-world political issues, processes, institutions, and policy making. Students would then communicate their findings or experiences in a way that conveys or demonstrates their understanding of course content.

Nations interact with each other through trade, treaties and use of force.

The earth is a global community where the actions of one

Country can affect lives in other countries

The U.S view of global issues and challenges may not be the same as the views held by other countries and cultures.

Essential Questions

What are the factors that impact the policy-making process in both the domestic and foreign policy arenas

What social, political, and economic opportunities and problems arise when cultures interact?

What has necessitated the creation of so many new policies throughout the 20th and 21st centuries?

What policies do you see evolving in the near future? What could/would spark this evolution?

Assessments

Multiple Choice

- Quantitative Analysis: Analysis and application of quantitative-based source material
- Qualitative Analysis: Analysis and application of text-based (primary and secondary) sources ■ Visual Analysis: Analysis and application of qualitative visual information
- Concept Application: Explanation of the application of political concepts in context
- Comparison: Explanation of the similarities and differences of political concepts
- Knowledge: Identification and definition of political principles, institutions, processes, policies, and behaviors

Mandatory Course Project Suggestions:

- Develop a Position: Research a local, state, or national issue related to a political principle. Propose potential options or alternatives. Develop an argument that describes the intended outcome of the option, explains how it would be implemented, and refutes opposing arguments.
- Analyze Public Opinion: Develop and implement a survey about a political topic or policy. Analyze the data OR draft an analysis of existing public opinion data using a polling information compiled by Pew research or another polling organization.
- Make a policy recommendation and discuss the possible impact of the policy if implemented.
- Media Literacy Project: Select a political issue and research how that issue is being framed and reported on in multiple media outlets. Use this investigation to develop a framework for discerning false, misleading, or biased information, including determining criteria for what makes a source credible.

- Local Civic Engagement: Identify and research an issue of current debate. Attend a school board, city council, or local government meeting related to that issue. Observe and document policy making processes and outcomes. OR Set up a class or school forum where policy makers or advocates of differing perspectives have opportunity to discuss and debate the issue. Document the differing perspectives and implication.
- Write Legislation. Student assumes the roles of members of Congress seeking to enact a legislative agenda. They research an issue, write a draft of a bill, and write a floor speech to introduce the proposed legislation.
- Citizen Action Campaign: Design a citizen action campaign to increase awareness about a policy issue or to increase civic participation. Investigate the issue and an advocacy group that engages with that issue or action
- Government in My Community: Collect and annotate articles from local sources (e.g., newspapers, magazines, websites) about government actions in the community.
