To answer the question "How do we know?" one must understand the interrelationship between the different kinds of evidence - literary, archaeological, and epigraphical.

By understanding the structural patterns of a language, we discover the rules and principles of that language to respond to new or unanticipated situations and settings.

Clarity of thought and ability to reason are drastically improved and developed through in-depth exploration of the Latin language.

Learning a different language/culture leads to greater understanding of one's own language and culture.

Retaining the benefits of language study requires regular review and steady exposure.
