Essential Questions

- Where does talent originate?
- What are the causes of human conflict?
- What makes us unique as human beings?
- In what ways, if any, do humans differ today from thousands of years ago?
- Why do we believe the things that we believe?

Application of Knowledge: Students will know that...

- An epic poem is a long narrative poem involving heroes and serious themes important to the culture or nation that produced it
- Leading up to the 5th century BCE, most of the city-states in the Greek world underwent some sort of transition from a monarchical form of government to a more representational form
- The Greeks established colonies around the Mediterranean and Black Seas starting at around 900 BCE, spreading its culture to many parts of the ancient world
- The Iliad and Odyssey are part of a tradition of oral composition where “rhapsodes” would improvise stories using their own creativity and a standard set of “formulae” to tell a story
- The Trojan War is primarily mythical content, but the Iliad and Odyssey accurately portray some politics and material culture of early city-states in Greece

Application of Skills: Students will be able to...

- Discuss ancient Greek beliefs and worldview
- Discuss intelligently Greek thinking about their gods and myths
- Explain the main theme of the Iliad in detail
- Identify principal Greek city-states and geographical features on a map
- Summarize the plot of the Iliad

Assessments

- Map quiz on geography of Greece
- Informal observations of class discussions
- Paragraph-long responses to reflection questions on belief, theme of Iliad
- Reenactments/skits of Iliad plot, characters, theme
- Information from this unit will be included on a locally developed, end of course benchmark assessment that may take the form of a test, performance based project, or other summative assessment.

Suggested Activities

- Read the Iliad and the Ion as a play with parts
- Write journal entries reflecting on reading assignments/excerpts or questions based on the reading
- Class debates: talent is innate vs. talent is acquired
- Create visual outlines of assigned books of the Iliad
- Construct class map of places in the Greek world
- Write speeches or role-play as characters in the Iliad
- Create character webs to map motivations of characters in the Iliad
