Essential Questions

---

- What is the best way to deal with civic conflict?
- Why are wars fought between nations?
- How and when does a “mob mentality” take effect?
- How and why do governments fail?
- What is the most fair and equitable form of government?
- Can the masses be trusted to know what’s best for themselves?

Application of Knowledge: Students will know that...

- A great number of Greek city-states formed the “Delian League” after the Persian Wars for mutual protection
- A group of citizens upset by the way they felt radical democracy was ruining Athens took charge of the state and set up an oligarchy in 411 BCE. This oligarchy was in power for only a short time until an even more radical democracy was set in place
- After Athens lost the war, Sparta set up a group of 30 “tyrants”--an oligarchy that was pro--Sparta in agenda and known for their cruelty toward pro-democratic factions
- Athens went to war with Sparta and its allies after numerous abuses of the resources of the Delian League
- Sparta, receiving support from Persia, supported rebellions in the Aegean until the Athenian fleet was finally defeated near the Hellespont in 405 BCE
- Spartan men underwent rigorous training to become warriors and serve their city
- Spartan society was divided into several different social classes, with a warrior class at the top and a large subservient underclass at the bottom
- The massive losses of Athens in the Sicilian Expedition led to civil unrest in the city and to rebellions among weaker states in the Delian League
- The Peace of Nicias was broken in 415 BCE when Athens sent a huge force to attack Syracuse in Sicily
- The Peace of Nicias was signed to end the first part of the war, where Sparta invaded Attica by land and Athens raided the Peloponnesian coastline

Application of Skills: Students will be able to...

- Critique political motivations and wartime decisions

- Describe the escalation of conflict and sequence of events in the Peloponnesian War
- Determine a theme when reading poetry
- Examine an author's point of view when reading history
- List the effects of war on the home front

Assessments

- Quiz matching terms, sequence of events
- Student discussion of themes and relevance to war after reading a Greek play
- Presentations on excerpts from Thucydides
- Information from this unit will be included on a locally developed, end of course benchmark assessment that may take the form of a test, performance based project, or other summative assessment

Suggested Activities

- Mapping important battles, alliances
- Choral or round-robin reading of plays, Thucydides
- Powerpoint presentation on unfolding of the events of the war
- Fill-in-the-blank notes on events of the war
- Reflection questions on reading homework
- Research current events and draw comparisons between Athens and the US in class discussion

Activities to Differentiate Instruction

Differentiation for special education:

- General modifications may include:
  - Modifications & accommodations as listed in the student's IEP
  - Assign a peer to help keep student on task
  - Modified or reduced assignments
  - Reduce length of assignment for different mode of delivery
  - Increase one-to-one time
  - Working contract between you and student at risk
  - Prioritize tasks
  - Think in concrete terms and provide hands-on-tasks
  - Position student near helping peer or have quick access to teacher
