Essential Questions

- What continuity can there be found between our history and today?
- What lessons can we learn from the past?
- How have human beings changed in the last few thousand years?
- Why is it important to study the past, specifically ancient history?
- What is the best system of government to represent the people?
- What is the best way to achieve human happiness?

Application of Knowledge: Students will know that...

- Continuity exists between the fall of Rome in 476CE and later institutions like the Roman Catholic Church, the Holy Roman Empire, and the Byzantine Empire, among others
- Many of the symbols of Ancient Rome, including the fasces and Latin phrases, are still used in the West today
- Roman architecture and engineering was so exceptional that much of it is still intact and even used today
- Roman literature and myth was an important influence on literature up through the Enlightenment in Europe
- The Byzantine Empire and later the Islamic Empire preserved much of the literature and ideas of the ancient world
- The Latin language is the ancestor of the Romance languages (French, Spanish, Italian, Portuguese, and Romanian), and has given thousands of vocabulary words and structures to languages like English and German
- The Roman Catholic Church preserves intact many of the Roman Empire's traditions today, including a strict hierarchy, curiate legislative assemblies, and the names of certain offices, among other things
- The US government includes aspects of multiple stages of the government of Rome

Application of Skills: Students will be able to...

- Compare the functioning and problems associated with Roman and US governments

- Identify architectural influence of Roman engineering like aqueducts, stadiums, and roads
- Identify literary influence of Roman ideas like "common good," Stoicism, and Epicureanism
- Identify political influence of Roman innovations like the Senate, checks and balances, and limited terms of office

Assessments

- Informal observations of class discussions
- Poster presentations of evidence for Roman influence on the modern day
- Venn diagrams/comparative posters of US and Roman government
- Speeches exhorting Roman values in the US Senate or other public place
- Information from this unit will be included on a locally developed, end of course benchmark assessment that may take the form of a test, performance based project, or other summative assessment.

Suggested Activities

Visit a museum or government office and take note of evidence of Roman influence

Research independently online about the US government and Rome, architecture, literature, etc.

Write journal entries reflecting on medieval, Renaissance, or Enlightenment works

Activities to Differentiate Instruction

Differentiation for special education:

- General modifications may include:
 - Modifications & accommodations as listed in the student's IEP

 - Modified or reduced assignments
 - Reduce length of assignment for different mode of delivery
 - Increase one-to-one time
 - Working contract between you and student at risk
 - Prioritize tasks
 - Think in concrete terms and provide hands-on-tasks
 - Position student near helping peer or have quick access to teacher
 - Anticipate where needs will be
 - Break tests down in smaller increments
- Content specific modifications may include:

- One-on-one guidance in online research
- Chunked assignments in research process
- Visual presentation of material

Differentiation for ELL's:

- General modifications may include:
 - Strategy groups
 - Teacher conferences
 - Graphic organizers
 - Modification plan
 - Collaboration with ELL Teacher
- Content specific vocabulary important for ELL students to understand include:
 - (examples) common good, Renaissance, Enlightenment, aqueduct

Differentiation to extend learning for gifted students may include:

- Offering creative alternatives to assignments
- Assigning student leadership of class discussions
