Activities to Differentiate Instruction

Differentiation for students with diverse needs (including special education, ELL, and gifted):

- General modifications based on student motivation may include:
 - Activity choice
 - Personally meaningful activities
 - Hands-on, multimodal activities
 - Involvement in goal setting and assessment activities
 - Response options

- General modifications based on instructional presentation may include:
 - Previewing information/materials
 - Questioning techniques
 - Brainstorming and webbing
 - Preteaching or reviewing strategies
 - Visual demonstrations, illustrations, or models

- General modifications based on instructional monitoring may include:
 - Timelines for assignments
 - Think-alouds, self-talk
 - Journal entries
 - rubrics and checklists
 - peer reviews and coaching

- General modifications based on classroom organization may include:
 - Cooperative learning groups
 - Buddy systems
 - Group roles (timekeeper, recorder, encourager, materials messenger, illustrator)
 - Prompt-cue
 - Gesture-signal
 - Variety of workspace arrangements
 - Organizational tools – labeled bins or cabinets for materials
 - Seating arrangements – minimize distractions, provide positive student models

- General modifications based on student response may include:
 - Extended time
 - Practice exercises
 - Use of preferred response mode

Content specific modifications for students with special needs may include:

- Modifications & accommodations as listed in the student's IEP
- Look at political cartoons depicting the Spanish-American War, write an explanation of the cartoon and which symbols were important to interpreting the meaning
- Look at political cartoons depicting the Spanish-American War; then compare the political cartoons to the popular 1890s comic strip, "The Yellow Kid"; complete critical-thinking questions comparing the comics (intermediate activity)
- Provide a completed map of the U.S. overseas lands and places of intervention
- Pair mixed ability students together for completing the graphic organizer to compare the effects of the Roosevelt Corollary, Dollar Diplomacy, and the Mexican Revolution
- As necessary give students completed study guides
- Modify tests and quizzes as required or in certain situations as appropriate

Content specific modifications for ELL's may include:

- Tap the student's prior knowledge and experience, which may be different from other students in the class
- Collaboration with ELL Teacher
- Content specific vocabulary important for ELL students to understand include: annex, imperialism, territory, transportation, doctrine, international

Content specific modifications to extend learning for gifted students may include:

- Look at political cartoons depicting the Spanish-American War; then compare the political cartoons to the popular 1890s comic strip, "The Yellow Kid"; use the local newspaper and find examples of contemporary political cartoons and comics; complete critical thinking questions comparing how comics have both changed and remained the same in the last one-hundred years (challenge activity)

Integrated/Cross-Disciplinary Instruction

Students will have just learned how the Panama Canal was built. Building the Panama Canal led to 6,000 deaths, mostly by malaria. In science, students can learn how malaria is transmitted and the fact that human DNA can mutate to be resistant to certain diseases. Students will learn how a mutation arose to make people resistant to malaria, and they will also discuss how this mutation can result in sickle cell anemia if a person inherits two mutated alleles.

21st Century Skills

CRP.K-12.CRP2.1	Career-ready individuals readily access and use the knowledge and skills acquired through experience and education to be more productive. They make connections between abstract concepts with real-world applications, and they make correct insights about when it is appropriate to apply the use of an academic skill in a workplace situation.
CRP.K-12.CRP4.1	Career-ready individuals communicate thoughts, ideas, and action plans with clarity, whether using written, verbal, and/or visual methods. They communicate in the workplace with clarity and purpose to make maximum use of their own and others' time. They are excellent writers; they master conventions, word choice, and organization, and use effective tone and presentation skills to articulate ideas. They are skilled at interacting with others; they are active listeners and speak clearly and with purpose. Career-ready individuals think about the audience for their communication and prepare accordingly to ensure the desired outcome.
CRP.K-12.CRP5.1	Career-ready individuals understand the interrelated nature of their actions and regularly make decisions that positively impact and/or mitigate negative impact on other people, organization, and the environment. They are aware of and utilize new technologies, understandings, procedures, materials, and regulations affecting the nature of their work as it relates to the impact on the social condition, the environment and the profitability of the organization.
CRP.K-12.CRP6.1	Career-ready individuals regularly think of ideas that solve problems in new and different ways, and they contribute those ideas in a useful and productive manner to improve their organization. They can consider unconventional ideas and suggestions as solutions to issues, tasks or problems, and they discern which ideas and suggestions will add greatest value. They seek new methods, practices, and ideas from a variety of sources and seek to apply those ideas to their own workplace. They take action on their ideas and understand how to bring innovation to an organization.
CRP.K-12.CRP12.1	Career-ready individuals positively contribute to every team, whether formal or informal. They apply an awareness of cultural difference to avoid barriers to productive and positive interaction. They find ways to increase the engagement and contribution of all team members. They plan and facilitate effective team meetings.
