Activities to Differentiate Instruction

Differentiation for special education:

- General modifications may include:
  - Modifications & accommodations as listed in the student's IEP
  - Assign a peer to help keep student on task
  - Modified or reduced assignments

- Reduce length of assignment for different mode of delivery
- Increase one-to-one time
- Working contract between you and student at risk
- Prioritize tasks
- Think in concrete terms and provide hands-on-tasks
- Position student near helping peer or have quick access to teacher
- Anticipate where needs will be
- Break tests down in smaller increments
- Content specific modifications may include:
  - Create larger templates for writing activities.
  - Include pictures with words.
  - Highlight dotted lines for writing and cutting activities.
  - Include dots to indicate starting points when writing.
  - Verbally and physically prompt students to ensure that they are able to follow daily routines successfully.
  - Students with expressive language challenges may join in gradually and will have proximal seating to afford optimal visual and auditory cues for songs, stories, and finger plays.

Differentiation for ELL's:

- General modifications may include:
  - Strategy groups
  - Teacher conferences
  - Graphic organizers
  - Modification plan
  - Collaboration with ELL Teacher
- Content specific vocabulary important for ELL students to understand include:
  - Emotions, Rules, Family, Friends, Sharing, Neighborhood, Community, Safety

Differentiation to extend learning for gifted students may include:

- Focus on letter sounds.
- Spell three letter CVC words.
- Independent writing activities.
- Leading the group.

Integrated/Cross-Disciplinary Instruction

Each preschool unit is inherently cross-disciplinary in nature. Across the school day, students are immersed in activities that explore math, language arts, social studies, and science concepts. As they engage in various centers such as art, library, dramatic play, building, and science their play combines elements of all content areas.

While students are engaging in centers, the teacher and instructional aide looks for opportunities to teach into and enhance student understanding of content.
