Application of Knowledge and Skills...

Activities

- Students will create a time line of events in their lives and share with class.
- Students will prepare and present a skit involving one stage of life. Students will identify the stage of life, (quinceanera, bautismo, boda, etc.) and critique skits (What could you have included that you did not? Etc.)

- Students will view video Fotonovela- ¡El día de muertos! and respond to comprehension questions.
- Teacher will present new terms relating to celebrations and fiestas. In partners, students will describe the best party and/or worst party that they attended.
- Students will create an announcement or invitation. For instance, students may create an announcement for a Cinco De Mayo Party.
- Students will read a passage about Chile's Festival de Vina del Mar and compare to United States.
- In small groups, have students perform a skit whose content describes and/or displays a particular stage of life (youth, old age, etc) or marital status (married, single, divorced). The rest of the class has to try to figure out what the group is describing.
- Have students work in pairs to research a festival from a Spanish-speaking country. Students should explain why they want to visit that particular festival and how they will get there, then present an itinerary to the class.

Activities to Differentiate Instruction

- Choice of working alone or in partners.
- Provide skeleton notes for presentations.
- Provide opportunities for students to work together in teacher designed groups.
- Provide tiered activities and homework.
- Assign Spanish "experts" to assist with each lesson.
