Enduring Understanding

1. Understand that diversity can lead to unequal power relations on the development of group identities and cultures, and how that can be addressed and rectified.
 2. The difference between equality and equity is that equality provides the same for everyone, but equity gets everyone to the same starting point.
 3. That diversity includes the impact of unequal power relations on the development of group identities and cultures.
 4. Awareness of the advantages and disadvantages present in society because of membership in different identity groups, and how it affects people's lives
- Students will determine, through media literacy skills and lateral, close reading strategies when evaluating primary and secondary resources the following: 1. context of the text; 2. reason for the text;

3. type of source the text is; 4. the point of view of the author of the text 5. the intended audience for the text 6. evaluate the stance of the text

- Students will use Historical Thinking Skills to evaluate sources and ideas. Comparison, Contextualization, Continuity and Change over Time, Periodization, Synthesis, Claims, Point of View, Intended Audience, and Purpose.
- Students will observe, note, and draw conclusions with the understanding that there are multiple perspectives. Multiple perspectives is the foundation to understanding the why and how of history. Documents, primary sources, historical readings will be evaluated.

Essential Questions

1. How have historical events influenced the decisions that were made concerning people with disabilities in the United States?
2. To what extent is the ADA an effective and necessary piece of legislation? What could or should the government do to create more equity for people with disabilities?
3. What can be done to create and or promote an increase in equity in the United States for people with disabilities?
