Enduring Understanding

- Understand that diversity can lead to unequal power relations on the development of group identities and cultures, and how that can be addressed and rectified.
- Awareness of the advantages and disadvantages present in society because of membership in different identity groups, and how it affects people's lives
- Stand up to exclusion, prejudice and discrimination, even when it's not popular or easy or when no one else does.
- Review the stories of immigrant groups who came to the United States during the 19th, 20th, and 21st centuries, comparing degrees of acceptance and integration into society and the workforce.
- Students will determine, through media literacy skills and lateral, close reading strategies when evaluating primary and secondary resources the following: 1. context of the text; 2. reason for the text; 3. type of source the text is; 4. the point of view of the author of the text 5. the intended audience for the text 6. evaluate the stance of the text
- Students will use Historical Thinking Skills to evaluate sources and ideas. Comparison, Contextualization, Continuity and Change over Time, Periodization, Synthesis, Claims, Point of View, Intended Audience, and Purpose.
- Students will observe, note, and draw conclusions with the understanding that there are multiple perspectives. Multiple perspectives is the foundation to understanding the why and how of history. Documents, primary sources, historical readings will be evaluated.
