

Unit 10: Reconstruction Era

Content Area: Social Studies
Course(s): US History 1
Time Period: Semester 2
Length: 2-3 Weeks
Status: Published

Standards

	Democratic principles concerning universal human rights, concepts of equality, and the commitment to human freedom are commonly expressed in fundamental documents, values, laws, and practices.
SOC.6.1.12.CivicsDP.4.a	Compare and contrast historians' interpretations of the impact of the 13th, 14th, and 15th Amendments on African American's ability to participate in influencing governmental policies.
SOC.6.1.12.CivicsDP.4.b	Analyze how ideas found in key documents contributed to demanding equality for all (i.e., the Declaration of Independence, the Seneca Falls Declaration of Sentiments and Resolutions, the Emancipation Proclamation, and the Gettysburg Address). Historical, contemporary, and emerging processes, rules, laws, and policies are modified as societies change in an effort to promote the common good and strive to protect human rights. Demographic shifts and migration patterns both influence and are impacted by social, economic, and political systems.
SOC.6.1.12.GeoPP.4.a	Use evidence to demonstrate the impact of population shifts and migration patterns during the Reconstruction period. Advancements in technology and investments in capital goods and human capital increase economic growth and standards of living. There are multiple and complex causes and effects of historical events.
SOC.6.1.12.HistoryCC.4.a	Analyze the extent of change in the relationship between the national and state governments as a result of the Civil War and the 13th, 14th, and 15th Amendments during the 19th century. To better understand the historical perspective, one must consider historical context.
SOC.6.1.12.HistoryUP.4.a	Relate conflicting political, economic, social, and sectional perspectives on Reconstruction to the resistance of some Southern individuals and states. Complex interacting factors influence people's perspective.
SOC.6.1.12.HistoryUP.4.b	Use primary sources to compare and contrast the experiences of African Americans who lived in Union and Confederate states before and during the Civil War. Understanding the interrelated patterns of change by examining multiple events allows for a clearer understanding of the significance of individuals and groups.
SOC.6.1.12.HistoryCC.4.b	Compare and contrast the impact of the American Civil War with the impact of a past or current civil war in another country in terms of the consequences of costs, reconstruction, people's lives, and work. Evidence from multiple relevant historical sources and interpretations can be used to develop a reasoned argument about the past.
SOC.6.1.12.HistoryCA.4.a	Analyze the debate about how to reunite the country and determine the extent to which enacted Reconstruction policies achieved their goals. Understanding the interrelated patterns of change by examining multiple events allows for a clearer understanding of the significance of individuals and groups.

Civics, Government, and Human Rights: Participation and Deliberation

Civic participation and deliberation are essential characteristics of productive citizenship.

Civics, Government, and Human Rights: Human and Civil Rights

SOC.6.3.12.CivicsHR.1

Compare current case studies involving slavery, child labor, or other unfair labor practices in the United States with those of other nations and evaluate the extent to which these human rights violations are a universal problem.

Global interconnections create complex spatial patterns at multiple scales that continue to change over time.

Enduring Understandings

1. The Civil War and Reconstruction altered power relationships between the states and the federal government and among the executive, legislative, and judicial branches, ending slavery and the notion of a divisible union but leaving unresolved questions of relative power and largely unchanged social and economic patterns.

A. The 13th Amendment abolished slavery, bringing about the War's most dramatic social and economic change, but the exploitative and soil-intensive sharecropping system endured for several generations.

B. Radical Republicans' efforts to change southern racial attitudes and culture and establish a base for their party in the South ultimately failed due both to determined southern resistance and to the North's waning resolve.

2. The constitutional changes of the Reconstruction period embodied a northern idea of American identity and national purpose and led to conflicts over new definitions of citizenship, particularly regarding the rights of African Americans, women, and other minorities.

A. Although citizenship, equal protection of the laws, and voting rights were granted to African Americans in the 14th and 15th Amendments, these rights were progressively stripped away through segregation, violence, Supreme Court decisions, and local political tactics.

B. The women's rights movement was both emboldened and divided over the 14th and 15th Amendments to the Constitution.

- Students will determine, through media literacy skills and lateral, close reading strategies when evaluating primary and secondary resources the following: 1. context of the text; 2. reason for the text; 3. type of source the text is; 4. the point of view of the author of the text 5. the intended audience for the text 6. evaluate the stance of the text

- Students will use Historical Thinking Skills to evaluate sources and ideas. Comparison, Contextualization, Continuity and Change over Time, Periodization, Synthesis, Claims, Point of View, Intended Audience, and Purpose.
- Students will observe, note, and draw conclusions with the understanding that there are multiple perspectives. Multiple perspectives is the foundation to understanding the why and how of history. Documents, primary sources, historical readings will be evaluated.
