Enduring Understandings

Enduring Understanding 1: Intrapersonal Identity - Self-esteem, personal values, and individual identity are actively shaped by media representation, cultural expectations, and internal psychological frameworks. (WL.AL.7.1.AL.IPRET.1)

Enduring Understanding 2: Collective Heritage & Acculturation - Historical migrations, linguistic dynamics, and political borders compel individuals to constantly renegotiate their national and ethnic identities, balancing local assimilation with cultural alienation. (WL.AL.7.1.AL.IPRET.2)

Enduring Understanding 3: Historical and Personal Beliefs - A society's identity is anchored by its historical heroes and shared beliefs, which evolve over time to reflect changing moral, philosophical, and social values. (WL.AL.7.1.AL.IPRET.4)

Essential Questions

- Essential Question 1: How do social media trends, peer groups, and public institutions influence individual self-esteem and the development of personal identity? (WL.AL.7.1.AL.IPRET.1)
- Essential Question 2: In what ways do cultural assimilation and systemic alienation force individuals to reframe their national or ethnic belonging in a globalized world? (WL.AL.7.1.AL.IPRET.2 & WL.AL.7.1.AL.PRES.2)
- Essential Question 3: How do historical figures, local myths, and evolving personal belief systems serve as foundation markers for the collective identity of a French-speaking community? (WL.AL.7.1.AL.IPRET.4)

Knowledge and Skills

I. Knowledge

1. Interpretive Reading & Auditory Systems

- Textual Architecture & Register: Recognizing complex structural nuances across diverse formats (e.g., identity essays, historical narratives, psychological studies, and graphics tracing regional immigration patterns).
- Acoustic Adaptation: Decoding varied regional speech speeds, tones, and cultural accents during interviews and public interest broadcasts.
- Graphic/Textual Interconnectivity: Comparing quantitative data maps on cross-border migrations with qualitative personal accounts of cultural assimilation.

2. Synthesized Composition Foundations

- Triangulated Evidence Mechanics: Aligning contrasting claims from three distinct sources (Source 1: Informational Text, Source 2: Graph, Source 3: Audio Interview) to generate a fluid, typed argumentative thesis defending an stance on identity policies.
- Voice Separation: Demonstrating crisp boundaries between institutional research data and personal cultural rhetoric via advanced third-person markers.

II. Skills

1. Interpretive Mode: Multiple-Choice Mechanics

Isolating Main Identity Themes: Track and pull primary subtexts, cultural frameworks, and technical psychological concepts out of dense literature and broadcasts without being hindered by advanced vocabulary.

- Deducing Author Perspective: Detect institutional bias, cultural nuances, or philosophical tone across texts exploring ethnic minority representation and national pride.

2. Presentational Mode: Writing & Outlining

- Constructing Digital Arguments (Argumentative Essay): Plan and type a cohesive, multi-paragraph argumentative essay using Spanish keyboard device configurations, implementing complex connectives (por añadidura, en resumidas cuentas, de igual manera).
- Linguistic Control under Time Constraints: Express abstract viewpoints smoothly across major timeframes (incorporating subjunctive clauses to state hypotheses or hypothetical conditions regarding identity loss).

Transfer Goals

Students will be able to independently use their learning to:

1. Critical Cross-Cultural Analysis & Global Citizenship: Examine how visible cultural Products and Practices shape and reflect deep internal Perspectives regarding individual self-worth and collective national pride across diverse target communities.
2. Autonomous Academic Inquiry & Media Literacy: Investigate complex social issues related to identity, independently separating objective factual data from political, cultural, or historical rhetoric in native-language media.
3. High-Stakes Professional and Academic Communication: Synthesize multi-modal streams of textual, visual, and auditory information to defend a clear, sophisticated argument on human sociology and identity conflicts.
4. Digital Competence & Adaptation: Maximize efficiency within online test environments, typing fluid, grammatically precise, and well-structured expository compositions under tight real-world timing parameters.

Resources

Resources

1. Core Textbook & Program Materials

- Primary Text: Themes: AP® French Language and Culture (Vista Higher Learning)
- Digital Learning Platform: VHL Central Supersite (utilizing digital audio tracks, integrated text-mapping, and interactive text boxes for digital composition practice).

- Exam Prep Companion: AP® French: Language and Culture Exam Preparation workbook (Vista Higher Learning).

2. Official College Board Course Project Scaffold Packets

- Phase 1: Source Material Graphic Organizer — Template used by students to deconstruct regional materials into the 3Ps (Products, Practices, Perspectives) and map contextual project factors.
- Phase 1: Initial Written Reflection Feedback Form — Benchmark tool used to assess written integration of initial source data.
- Phase 2: Research Action Plan Template — Guide for establishing independent regional targets and drafting localized SMART Objectives.
- Phase 3: Personalized Project Reference (PPR) Template — The official word-limited and character-limited outline interface (max 10 words or 70 characters per box) implemented for exam-day support.
- Phase 3: Practice Presentation Feedback Form — Criteria checklist for auditing the 3-minute unassisted oral report.
- Phase 4: Anticipatory Project Q&A Organizer and Practice Q&A Feedback Form — Scaffolding sheets used to target semantic blueprints and track the 40-second spontaneous response windows.

3. Technology & Digital Environment Resources

- AP Digital Portfolio: Platform for accessing the annual prompt/sources packet and submitting the final PPR by April 30.
- AP Classroom & Bluebook App Environment: Simulated interfaces utilized for practicing targeted computer-based testing, keyboard shortcuts, and character-input layouts.
- Digital Text Editors: Cloud platforms (such as Google Docs) with mandatory localized Spanish keyboard inputs active for 100% of paragraph and essay compositions.
