Enduring Understandings

1. The concentration section of the AP portfolio is a collection of works that may vary in medium, size, but are unified with one concept or central theme throughout.
2. Creating a unified body of work requires extensive planning, time management, problem-solving skills and mastery of technique.
3. A complete and well-developed concentration section, in combination with a complete and well-developed breadth section, results in a strong, full portfolio that reflects the artist's skills and ability to express personal views.

Essential Questions

1. Why are artists constantly exploring art concepts, principles, and elements?
2. Why is the concentration portion of an artist's portfolio a good way to assess their success?

3. How do the breadth and concentrations of an artist's portfolio work together, and how do they stand apart?

Knowledge and Skills

Students will be able to:

- Recall, define, recognize and utilize the elements of art from Fine Art 1.
- Recall, define, recognize and utilize the principles of design from Fine Art 2.
- Recall, define, recognize and utilize the art-making techniques, skills, and practices from Fine Art 3.
- Complete 4 high-quality and diverse works of art in various mediums and sizes exploring the same concept.
- Begin a clear, but thorough artist statement regarding their concentration.
- Photograph, format and organize high-quality photographs of the concentration section of their portfolio.
- Create a website with the first half of their concentration section.
- Regularly participate in a written and/or verbal critique of student artwork.
- Self-evaluate visual arts project using a pre-determined rubric.

Transfer Goals

1. Students should be able to independently identify, create, and discuss works in a variety of mediums, sizes with the same central focus or theme.
2. Students should be able to independently recognize that creating a full and well-developed concentration section is proof of higher-order thinking skills and shows the ability to plan, manage time, problem-solve and organize.
