

Unit 01: The Renaissance

Content Area: Social Studies
Course(s): History
Time Period: Semester 1
Length: 2 weeks
Status: Published

Standards

SOC.6.2.2	Renaissance, Reformation, Scientific Revolution, and Enlightenment (1350–1700) Historical, contemporary, and emerging processes, rules, laws, and policies are modified as societies change in an effort to promote the common good and strive to protect human rights.
SOC.6.2.12.CivicsPR.2.a	Compare the principle ideas of the Enlightenment in Europe (e.g., political, social, gender, education) with similar ideas in Asia and the Muslim/Islamic empires of the Middle East and North Africa.
SOC.6.2.12.CivicsPR.2.b	Determine the reasons for, and the consequences of, the rise of powerful, centralized nation states in Europe (i.e., the French absolute monarchy and the English limited monarchy). Demographic shifts and migration patterns both influence and are impacted by social, economic, and political systems.
SOC.6.2.12.GeoPP.2.a	Make an evidence-based argument explaining the impact and development of religion in Europe on the political and cultural development of the colonies in the New World. Economic globalization affects economic growth, labor markets, rights guarantees, the environment, resource allocation, income distribution, and culture.
SOC.6.2.12.EconGE.2.a	Relate the development of more modern banking and financial systems to European economic influence in the world. Historical events and developments were shaped by the unique circumstances of time and place as well as broader historical contexts. Civics, Government, and Human Rights: Human and Civil Rights Governments around the world support universal human rights to varying degrees. Global interconnections create complex spatial patterns at multiple scales that continue to change over time.

Enduring Understandings

- Students will be able to understand that Europe, despite its fractured geographical and political landscape was able to emerge as the center of the international community from the 17th through the 19th Centuries.
- Students will be able to demonstrate how new ideas in thinking, science, arts expanded Europe's openness to different ways of processing and of more acceptance.
 - Students will determine, through media literacy skills and lateral, close reading strategies when evaluating primary and secondary resources the following: 1. context of the text; 2. reason for the text; 3. type of source the text is; 4. the point of view of the author of the text 5. the intended audience for the text 6. evaluate the stance of the text
 - Students will use Historical Thinking Skills to evaluate sources and ideas. Comparison, Contextualization, Continuity and Change over Time, Periodization, Synthesis, Claims, Point of View, Intended Audience, and Purpose.

- Students will observe, note, and draw conclusions with the understanding that there are multiple perspectives. Multiple perspectives is the foundation to understanding the why and how of history. Documents, primary sources, historical readings will be evaluated.
