Civic and political institutions address social and political problems at the local, state, tribal, national, and/or international level.

Civic participation and deliberation are essential characteristics of productive citizenship.

Economic ways of thinking are influenced by economists, economic theories, and economic laws (e.g., Smith, Malthus, Ricardo, Marx, Schumpeter, Keynes, Friedman).

Enduring Understandings

- Students will be able to analyze the ways in which Imperialism led to Nationalism and Nationalism led to War.
- Students will be able to identify and explain how the Industrialization of Europe was a catalyst for the rise of Nationalism.
- Students will be able to determine how the Unifications of Germany and Italy during the 19th century altered the Balance of Power in Europe.
- Students will determine, through media literacy skills and lateral, close reading strategies when evaluating primary and secondary resources the following: 1. context of the text; 2. reason for the text; 3. type of source the text is; 4. the point of view of the author of the text 5. the intended audience for the text 6. evaluate the stance of the text
- Students will use Historical Thinking Skills to evaluate sources and ideas. Comparison, Contextualization, Continuity and Change over Time, Periodization, Synthesis, Claims, Point of View, Intended Audience, and Purpose.
