Course(s): Language Arts 5
Time Period: November
Length: November-December 6 weeks
Status: Published

Unit Summary

The students return to literary essay writing that was started with gusto in 4th grade. Students come to 5th grade with a knowledge of claim, reasons, evidence, explanation, and conclusion. Student will revisit this genre, focusing on creating several literary essays intent on adding more sophistication in their craft. Students and teachers will use a mentor model of a literary essay based on "The Tiger Rising." With each successive essay, students will become more responsible for selecting their own text examples. Ultimately, the goal is for students to be able to use this genre of writing to explore their theories of character that began in reading.

Student Learning Objectives

Students will learn to:

- develop a thesis based on a reading theory.
- evaluate their essays using rubrics and checklists.
- support their thesis with direct quotes and/or paraphrasing from the text.
- use transition words.

Essential Questions

- What is an essay? What is a literary essay?
- What is evidence and how do we use the evidence to support a theory?
- What are the differences between a reason, and example, and an explanation?

Enduring Understandings

Students will understand that:

- writers grow ideas that are central to the story, grounded in close reading, with evidence, and reflection to support the claim.
