- Personal, family, and community history is a source of information for individuals about the people and places around them.

Content

Students will be able to:

- name and describe the lifestyle of the first people to live in NJ
- use a graphic organizer to show and explain the ancestry of the Lenape: their roots in Asia, their place among the Woodland Indians, and their relationship within the larger Algonquin Indian group
- describe how the Lenape interacted with the environment and the cultural landscape they shaped
- describe the Lenape culture, including their beliefs and how the Lenape worked, lived, and played
- give examples of how human/environment interaction influenced the development of the Lenape culture and different ways of life depending upon where they settled across the land that later became known as NJ
- describe how the Lenape expressed and transmitted their beliefs and values through oral traditions and celebrations
- define technology and give examples of technologies that advanced the culture of the Lenape
- infer why the Lenape left the area they originally occupied and explain how their heritage has endured
