Welcome to The Creative Curriculum for Preschool

As an early childhood educator, your first commitment is to children—helping them succeed in school and in life. At Teaching Strategies, our first commitment is to you. That's why, when you partner with us to build quality in your program, you can be sure that you'll have the support you need to succeed every step of the way. Let's take a look at how!

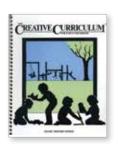

The Evolution of The Creative Curriculum for Preschool

The evolution of The Creative Curriculum° for Preschool is grounded in our commitment to early childhood educators. Over the years, we've embraced innovation, updating the curriculum to keep pace with what teachers need in the classroom. What began as a focus on room arrangement is now a comprehensive collection of resources that offer moment-to-moment support, and every edition has incorporated current research on the best ways to help children succeed.

1978

Room Arrangement as a Teaching Strategy is a precursor to The Creative Curriculum*.

1988

The second edition of The Creative Curriculum° is published, helping teachers organize their rooms into interest areas and use them effectively.

2002

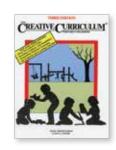

The fourth edition of The Creative Curriculum* for Preschool offers a comprehensive update, resting on a firm foundation of research and responding to new requirements for addressing academic content.

The first edition of The Creative Curriculum° is born—self-published by Diane Trister Dodge and focused on using interest areas as a setting for learning.

The third edition of *The Creative Curriculum is published, presenting for the first time our philosophy, goals, and objectives for children's learning, as well as guidelines for teaching and working with families.

TODAY

The Creative Curriculum* for Preschool offers teachers even more of the resources they've grown to know and love. Expanded Daily Resources give teachers more choice when it comes to implementing studies and integrating learning into every part of the day. The sixth edition of The Foundation offers updated research, more opportunities for teacher reflection, and a new volume that builds teachers' knowledge about science and technology, social studies, and the arts. The updated Objectives for Development & Learning volume presents a clear picture of all of the early childhood years, with progressions from birth through third grade. The Creative Curriculum for Preschool* is available in English, in Spanish, or as a bilingual curriculum.

2010

The fifth edition of The Creative Curriculum* for Preschool is made up of five volumes that build teachers' professional knowledge of best practices, including a volume on the newly developed objectives for development and learning.

2011

The Creative Curriculum* for Preschool combines the five volumes from the fifth edition (now known as The Foundation) with a comprehensive collection of daily practice resources (known as the Daily Resources) available in both English and Spanish.

Individualized. Supportive. Effective.

What Is The Creative Curriculum for Preschool?

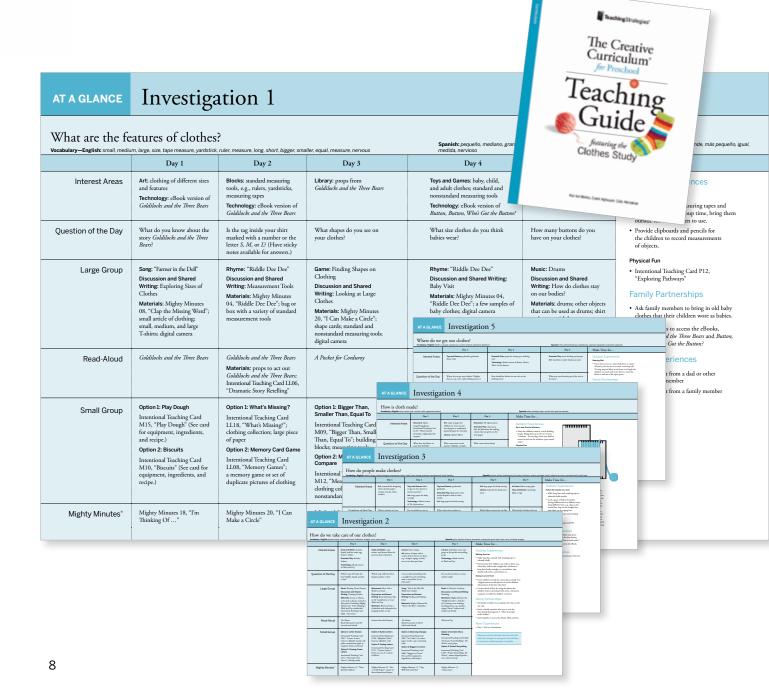

At Teaching Strategies, we believe that the best way to help children succeed is to teach them to be creative, confident thinkers. That means offering them opportunities for hands-on exploration and discovery that help build lifelong critical thinking skills and foster confidence. The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool provides teachers with the content and tools needed to encourage and support every type of learner and address all the important areas of learning.

The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool is a research-based, comprehensive curriculum that features exploration and discovery as a way of learning. The foundational volumes help teachers create a high-quality learning environment and build a thorough understanding of best practices, while the Daily Resources help teachers plan and manage every moment of their day.

As part of the Daily Resources, the Teaching Guides and additional instructional tools provide a wealth of ideas and detailed plans for filling every day with meaningful and engaging experiences designed for all children. Special support helps teachers individualize instruction for English- and dual-language learners in the classroom. What's more, the curriculum takes the guesswork out of meeting the Head Start Early Learning Outcomes Framework and early learning standards for each state.

How Does The Creative Curriculum Work?

The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool provides both The Foundation and Daily Resources to create a cohesive curriculum that supports teachers every step of the way throughout the year. The Foundation is the knowledge base of the curriculum, with detailed information about the most current research and best practices in early childhood education. The Teaching Guides, a component of the Daily Resources, offer daily plans to help teachers provide individualized instruction for every child and organize and manage every moment of their day all year long.

The Teaching Guides provide detailed guidance for using the other rich curricular resources and give teachers the unique flexibility to adapt learning experiences for each child. This ensures that every day teachers are helping all children participate fully and meet important early learning standards.

What Are Studies?

Most Teaching Guides feature studies, hands-on, project-based investigations of topics that are relevant to children's everyday experiences. Studies are exciting and engaging. They tap into children's natural curiosity, resulting in a learning environment that is both fun and intentional.

The study approach is a method of integrating content learning through children's in-depth investigations of a meaningful topic. Children raise questions about the topic, and, through exploration and discovery, they find answers to their questions.

Why Studies?

The study approach allows for deep, firsthand exploration of topics that interest children, offering a myriad of ways to learn about each topic. Plus, the study approach not only allows children to gain a deeper understanding of the topic, but also encourages them to develop skills across all domains as they apply the investigative process.

The five study topics featured in the Teaching Guides offer plenty of flexibility for teachers to incorporate many of the typical themes that are used in preschool classrooms all over the country. Just like themes, studies approach teaching and learning through a topic of interest to preschool children. Also like themes, studies integrate learning across developmental and content areas and enable teachers to plan primarily hands-on experiences. Many activities from a teacher's existing themes can be built right in to one of the study topics.

Advantages of Studies

- Allow children to explore science and social studies topics while developing skills in language and literacy, math, technology, and the arts
- · Let children apply their acquired skills in meaningful, real-life contexts
- Encourage higher-level thinking, development of intellectual interests, and positive approaches to learning
- · Give children the necessary skills to solve problems and find answers to their questions in a creative way
- Support the development of socialemotional skills, such as resolving conflict, sharing responsibilities, and working collaboratively
- · Encourage family involvement

How Curriculum and Assessment Are Linked

Before beginning any journey, you need to know where you are heading. When teachers begin to implement the curriculum, they can look to the objectives for development and learning to guide them. These objectives, now expanded through third grade, define the knowledge, skills, and abilities that teachers are helping children acquire in their program. Teachers now have a complete picture along a progression across the whole of the early childhood years, from birth through third grade.

Objectives for Development & Learning

In The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool, the objectives inform every aspect of teaching. Teachers see them addressed everywhere, from The Foundation to the Daily Resources. Two of the 38 objectives address English language acquisition, and they offer specific strategies to support children's progress.

Color-coded charts graphically represent progressions of research-based, widely held expectations of learning and development across the whole of the early childhood years, from birth through third grade. The same colors are used for the teaching sequences shown on the Intentional Teaching Cards⁻, making it easier for teachers to use assessment information to individualize instruction. Learn more about the colored bands and what they mean on pages 20-21.

What You Do

Materials: collection of manipulatives

- Invite the children to explore the collection of manipulatives. Count the objects together, and invite the children to divide the groups into smaller piles.
 - "We have 10 counting chips in a pile. Let's move five of them over here. Now we have two piles of counting chips. Can you count how many are in each pile?"
- 2. Present various story problems. Ask the children to solve them by using the manipulatives.
 - "Let's pretend that we're feeding these chips to the birds that come to our window. If we see four birds, we need four chips. Uh-oh! One bird flew away! How many chips do we need now?"

Invite the children to count as a way to solve the story problem.

"Six of you are standing by the table. Now let's have two children in that group go stand by the easel. How many children are left at the table?"

Pose story problems that involve adding and subtracting.

- "Let's pretend we have seven children at the table for snack, but we only have four napkins. How many more napkins do we need?"
- 5. Continue the activity for as long as it interests the children. Explain that they can think about story problems when they are playing with materials in any interest area. Encourage them to create story problems with their classmates during choice time.

Including All Children

- Use manipulatives of various sizes, colors, and textures.
- Provide boxes or containers to help define story problems and solutions.
- Place objects on a nonslip material to keep them from moving around.
- If children are beginning to speak in sentences, give them plenty of opportunities to talk. Be sure to model the correct use of English, but do not correct their grammar.
- Speak slowly and clearly, using gestures to pantomime the story problems.

Teaching Sequence

YELLOW	Invite the child to pair objects, using sets of one to three objects. Offer the same number of objects in each set. "I see two dolls in the cradle that need blankets. Can you give each doll a blanket?"
GREEN	Invite the child to verbally count using one number name for each object. Encourage her or him to solve story problems with up to five items. "Here are four penguins standing on the ice. One penguin jumps in the water. How many penguins are on the ice now? Let's touch each one as we count."
GREEN	Include one to five objects in story problems. Encourage the child to count all of the objects correctly and add them together.
BLUE	"We have two pears and three apples. How many pieces of fruit do we have all together? Let's count: one, two, three"
BLUE	Invite the child to solve story problems involving up to 10 objects. Assist by counting aloud with the child, if necessary, to show her how to count on.
	"If we have seven children who want to jump rope, but we only have three jump ropes, how PURPLE	many more jump ropes do we need so that each child has one?" "We have six pears and three apples. How many pieces of fruit altogether? Let's start with the pears: six, seven, eight, nine."
PURPLE	Invite the child to create new story problems using addition and subtraction of 10 to 20 objects. "Here is a bucket full of buttons. Let's see what story problems we can create with them. How many buttons should we use to start?"

Questions to Guide Your Observations

Curriculum Components

The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool is a developmentally appropriate, comprehensive curriculum that promotes positive outcomes for preschool children.

Nationally known for its forward-thinking, rigorously researched model, The Creative Curriculum° has been trusted for decades by early childhood educators in classrooms across the country. It focuses on meeting the needs of individual children while honoring and respecting the role that teachers play in making learning engaging and meaningful for every child.

All components of The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool were designed to fit together to create a seamless day of teaching and help teachers build an engaging and effective program. The Foundation offers insight into the most current research and best practices for early childhood education. The Daily Resources, including Teaching Guides, Intentional Teaching Cards™, Mighty Minutes®, and Book Discussion Cards™, help teachers organize and manage their days intentionally and effectively. The curriculum components also include built-in support for all learners, with specific sections of guidance for working with English- and dual-language learners, advanced learners, and children with disabilities. Let's take an in-depth look at each curriculum component.

The Foundation

The Foundation presents an overview of the theory and research behind best practices for teaching young children, along with everything teachers need to know to support project-based investigations in the classroom.

Volume 1: The Foundation presents all the information teachers need to set up their programs. It summarizes the research foundation for the curriculum and addresses five key aspects of the curriculum: how children develop and learn, the learning environment, what children learn, caring and teaching, and partnering with families.

Volume 2: Interest Areas brings the five key aspects of the curriculum to life, applying them in each of the 10 interest areas and the outdoors. Each chapter describes materials that enhance children's experiences, as well as strategies for guiding children's development and learning.

Volume 3: Literacy prepares teachers with knowledge and tools that help them inspire children to read, write, and learn. It includes practical strategies for intentionally teaching critical language and literacy skills, such as letter knowledge, and for integrating rich and enjoyable literacy experiences into all the interest areas.

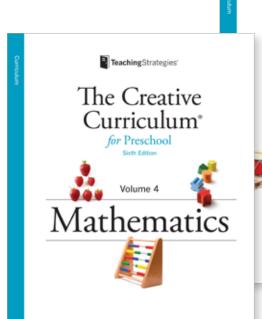

Volume 4: Mathematics helps teachers fully understand the mathematical concepts and skills they will be teaching and shows them how to purposely include mathematics learning throughout the day.

Volume 5: Science and Technology, Social Studies & the Arts helps teachers make these essential content areas part of children's everyday learning. With this new volume, teachers can encourage children to make and test hypotheses, develop skills for using technology, explore their world and the people in it, and engage their creative thinking skills.

describes in detail the 38 objectives in The Creative Curriculum° for Preschool. The volume is newly expanded, with progressions for first, second, and third grade, helping teachers see the important role they play in building a strong foundation for every child's development and learning. Based on an extensive review of the latest research and professional literature in early childhood education, these objectives include predictors of school success and are aligned with the Head Start Early Learning Outcomes Framework and early learning standards for each state.

Supporting English Language Development

The Foundation volumes guide teachers in scaffolding instruction for children with diverse proficiency levels. In addition, instructional and assessment strategies are provided for different levels of English language development.

Teaching Guides

The six Teaching Guides in The Creative Curriculum° for Preschool provide daily support for the entire school year. They help teachers create a positive classroom community and fill every period of each day with meaningful learning experiences. Each Teaching Guide recognizes that children are curious, active learners who are capable of deep cognitive engagement with topics relevant to their lives.

Throughout the Teaching Guides, you'll find references to particular sections of The Foundation that provide more indepth information. Remember, this is one of the ways the Daily Resources and The Foundation work together as a cohesive curriculum that supports teachers every step of the way throughout the year.

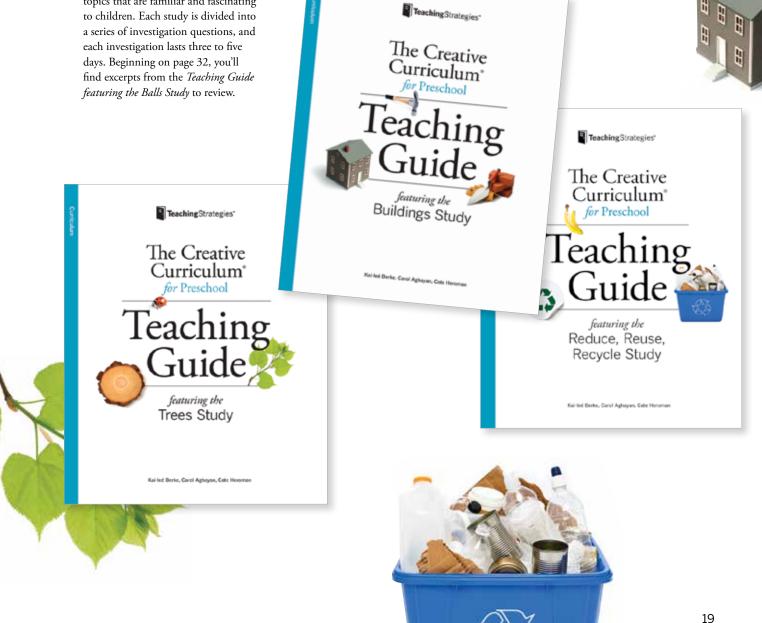

The first guide, Beginning the Year, addresses the first six weeks of school. The remaining five guides feature studies, which are project-based investigations of topics that are familiar and fascinating to children. Each study is divided into

Supporting English Language Development

The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool Teaching Guides include strategies and tips for working with children who are English- or duallanguage learners, including using nonverbal language and other visual cues such as props and pictures.

Intentional Teaching Cards™

Each day, with direction from the Teaching Guide, teachers select and use one or more Intentional Teaching Cards™. These cards describe playful and engaging experiences that can be implemented throughout the day, with directions to help teachers individualize each experience to meet the needs of every learner.

Designed for ages 2 to 6, the experiences explained on these cards support social—emotional, physical, and language development, as well as development and learning in literacy and mathematics.

One of the most important features of the Intentional Teaching Cards™ is the color-coded Teaching Sequence. These sequences allow teachers to quickly adapt an experience to make it more or less challenging, enabling every child to participate successfully. The "Including All Children" section of every card provides additional strategies.

Supporting English and Spanish Language Development

Intentional Teaching Cards™ provide additional strategies for fully engaging English- and duallanguage learners in the experience. With the Spanish activity on one side of the card and the English on the other, Intentional Teaching Cards™ offer teachers the flexibility to support children's individual needs.

What You Do

Materials: paper; pencils or markers; clipboards; index cards or sentence strips with interesting questions and related pictures (one question per strip): backet

- 1. Show children the basket of questions. Explain that you've written questions on small strips of paper.
 - "There are lots of different questions to choose from in this basket. Let's pick one and read the question. Then you can write your answer on the paper."
- 2. Invite the children to choose a question from the basket. Read the question and talk about it with them.
 - "This question says: 'What is your favorite time of day?' It has a picture of a clock on it. Let's think of all the different times of day we have at school and at home."

- Give the children time to think about what they would like to write or draw. Ask open-ended questions that encourage them to think about what they would like to add.
 - "What does it mean to be a good neighbor?"
 - "What things can you do to be a good neighbor?"
- Invite the children to scribble, draw, or write to record their ideas. Ask questions that will help them think purposefully about what they put on the paper.
- 5. Record children's ideas when asked
 - "You asked me to write playground. I'll put it here next to your writing."
- Let the children know that they can always add to their papers at choice time. Invite them to share their responses with family members during arrival and departure times.

Children's Book Collection

Reading aloud with children is the best way to inspire a love for reading and to promote language and literacy skills. The Teaching Strategies® Children's Book Collection contains 79 high-quality children's books, including 4 big books.

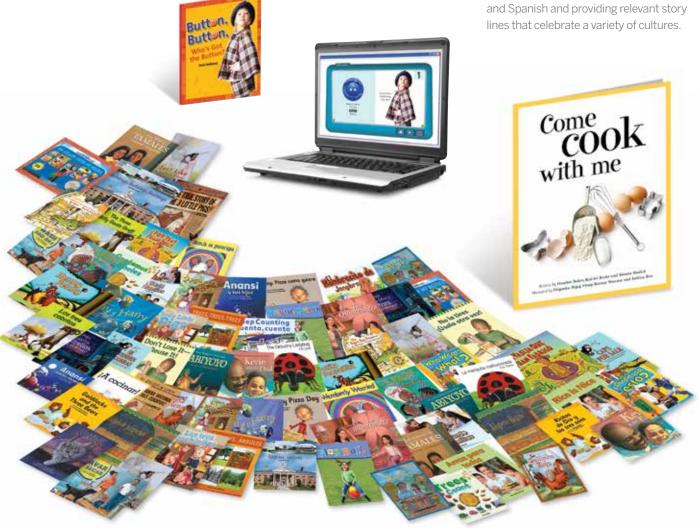

The book collection includes beloved classic tales, contemporary works by well-known authors, and original nonfiction books created especially to complement the studies featured in the Teaching Guides. Each book was selected for its rich vocabulary; diverse characters, families, and cultures; or the new ideas and information in its pages. Our collection of literature, in both English and Spanish, includes alphabet books, counting books, nonfiction books, concept books, and narrative picture books, all of which encourage children's exploration, interaction, and enjoyment.

Many books in our children's collection have been adapted for the eLearning environment. Fully translated and read in both English and Spanish, these eBooks encourage creative retelling of stories and let Spanishspeaking children experience the first reading of a story in their home language.

Supporting English and Spanish Language Development

The bilingual Teaching Strategies® teachers intentionally introduce rich new vocabulary and promote children's

Book Discussion Cards™

Because some of the best children's books have fairly complex story lines, early childhood education experts recommend that they be read to children at least three times—each time in a slightly different way—for children to benefit fully.

Book Discussion Cards™ show teachers how to conduct multiple effective readalouds, ensuring that children are getting the most out of these experiences. They help teachers engage children in rich, analytical book discussions that encourage critical thinking skills and support socialemotional development. Children develop skills to reconstruct, as opposed to retell, a story, which prepares them for literacy experiences in kindergarten.

The First Read-Aloud section helps teachers introduce the problem in the story, present new ideas and ways of thinking, and ask questions after reading.

The Second Read-Aloud section guides teachers to ask different questions and add clarifying comments as they read.

helps teachers invite children to retell the story, calling on their memories and comprehension to identify the main characters and important story elements. It directs teachers to ask questions such as "What is happening here?" or "What do you think [character's name] is thinking?"

Mighty Minutes[®]

Research suggests that, in many preschool classrooms, valuable time that could be dedicated to learning is wasted. That won't happen with The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool. Mighty Minutes®, a teacher favorite, are songs, chants, rhymes, games, and short activities that help turn every minute of the day into a learning opportunity.

Mighty Minutes® can be used anywhere, any time to intentionally teach language, literacy, math, science, social studies, or physical skills during "in-between" times—such as when teachers are preparing to go outside or gathering children for large-group time. Like the other resources in The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool,

Mighty Minutes® are rooted in curricular objectives. They aren't just short, fun songs and games to pass the time; they're short, fun songs and games that support children's development and learning! Opportunities to use Mighty Minutes® are indicated throughout the Teaching Guides.

Supporting Spanish Language Development

Many Mega Minutos® use traditional Spanish songs and rhymes to maximize learning during brief transitional periods throughout the day. These unique Spanish resources can help support Spanish language development.

Embedded Professional Development

Each of the resources in The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool contains embedded professional development support for teachers at all levels.

Teaching Guides include background information about each featured study topic, and references throughout draw teachers' attention to the research behind each day's activities. Intentional Teaching Cards™ offer information to guide teachers' observations and provide color-coded Teaching Sequences to help teachers individualize instruction. The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool provides moment-to-moment, day-to-day support for teachers who want it, but there's also plenty of flexibility and choice for teachers at all levels of experience.

TeachingStrategies' Guide to The Creative Curriculum^e for Preschool

Guide to The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool:

The Guide walks teachers through The Creative Curriculum for Preschool. It provides a thorough overview of each component and explains how everything works together to help teachers build high-quality programs for children. With the Guide, teachers can easily see how the curriculum helps them to focus on what matters most for children and how they can meet the Head Start Early Learning Outcomes Framework and state early learning standards each and every day.

Making Connections With Families

Opportunities for involving families are built into The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool. The resources and guidance embedded throughout the curriculum help teachers build essential bridges between school and home and create meaningful partnerships with families.

Online Classroom and Family Resources

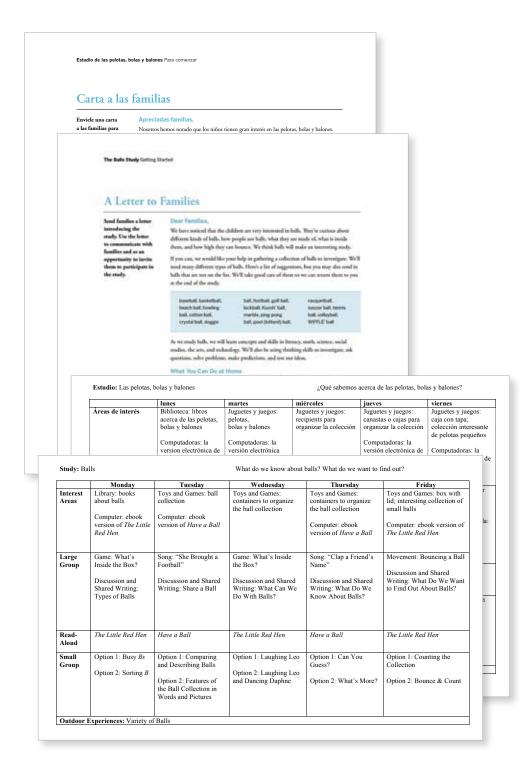

Teachers can visit a password-protected website to easily download "Letters to Families," "Weekly Planning Forms," and Learning Games". Like the other curriculum materials, every family connection resource is available in both English and Spanish.

Letters to Families

These letters introduce families to learning in each interest area and study, informing them of opportunities for family participation and support. Teachers can use these letters as they were written or adapt them as necessary.

Weekly Plans

These pre-filled "Weekly Planning Forms" help teachers prepare for each day and share information with families. Designed to be easily adapted by teachers, these convenient forms save time and assist with organization, allowing teachers to spend more time with children and less time on paperwork. Teachers can display these forms in the classroom or send them home with children so families can see what's planned for the class that week.

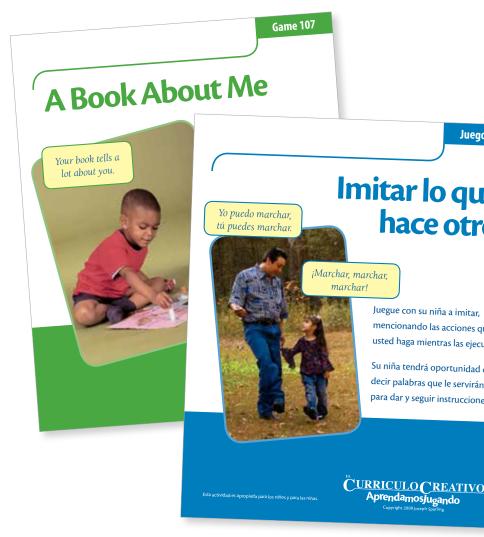

eBook DVD

The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool includes eBook DVDs. These DVDs contain English and Spanish titles from the Teaching Strategies® Children's Book Collection. The eBook DVDs make it possible for family members to participate directly in literacy experiences that are essential for children's development and learning.

LearningGames®

This award-winning, research-validated series offers 100 digital activities for teachers to use in the classroom and share with families to use at home. Learning Games® provide families with easy-to-use, engaging activities that bridge what is learned at school with what families can do at home.

How The Creative Curriculum[®] for Preschool Supports English Language Development

The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool offers complete support for working with Englishand dual-language learners in classrooms where English is the language of instruction and in classrooms where English and other languages are spoken.

Beyond theory, the curriculum offers specific strategies to support the learning and development of all children:

- Ideas for incorporating children's home values, cultures, and family traditions into the classroom
- Social—emotional strategies for building relationships and increasing children's comfort and confidence in the classroom
- Instructional strategies to facilitate receptive and expressive language acquisition and understanding
- Strategies for promoting comprehension during read-aloud time
- Small-group activities that support children's learning in both English and Spanish

Fully Bilingual to Meet Your Needs

To support classrooms where Spanish is spoken, The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool is currently available in English, in Spanish, or as a fully bilingual curriculum. The bilingual option offers all curriculum components in both Spanish and in English, meaning that programs can make the choice that best

- learners throughout the day
- Assessment strategies based on a child's level of English language acquisition
- Ways to meaningfully engage families in the program and support the use of their home language
- Culturally and linguistically appropriate resources in Spanish to help teachers support all aspects of development for Spanish-speaking children, including Spanish language and literacy

The curriculum ensures teachers are prepared with the tools they need to effectively promote the growth and development of all the children in their classroom—creating confident, successful bilingual learners.

English-language learners

When reading the phrase "the doorbell rang," pantomime ringing a doorbell or ring a bell. Combining actions with words helps all children understand and learn vocabulary.

Comprehensive. Inclusive. Intentional.

Putting It All Together

Now that you have an idea of the big picture—how The Creative Curriculum° for Preschool is organized and what the individual pieces are—it's time to look at how everything fits together to create a seamless day of teaching.

First Step: Get Organized. The Resource Organizer is a specially designed binder in which teachers can assemble the resources for the day to keep them close at hand. The Teaching Guide slides into the center pocket of the binder. The side pockets are designed to hold the Intentional Teaching Cards™, Book Discussion Cards™, Mighty Minutes®, and children's books that teachers will be using that day. To help make sure teachers are fully prepared, the "At a Glance" pages for each investigation provide a list of all the materials that teachers will need to assemble for any given day. Those pages precede each investigation (see pages 36–37).

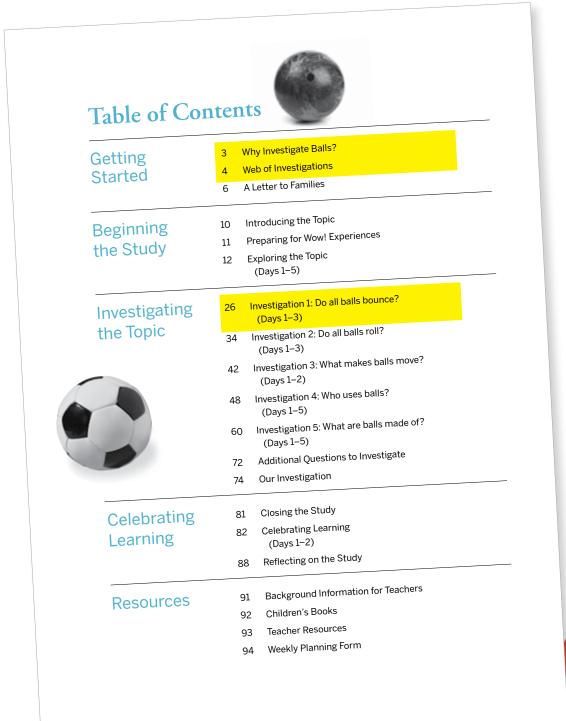

Next Step: Review the Study. On the following pages, teachers will find excerpts from the Balls Study, including each of the supporting resources teachers need to implement one day of the study. These excerpts will give teachers a sense of the guidance found in each component of the curriculum.

Balls Study: Table of Contents

Get started by reviewing the Table of Contents in the Teaching Guide.

The highlighted text indicates the sample resources found in this Touring Guide. The Teaching Guide provides all the information needed to go step-by-step and day-by-day through the entire study: background information to get started, preparatory resources to help begin the study and explore the topic, daily guidance for investigations, and suggestions on how to celebrate and close the experience.

Why Investigate Balls?

At the start of every study is a "Why Investigate...?" section that provides context.

All the study topics in *The Creative Curriculum for Preschool—such as balls, trees, and buildings—are topics that already interest children and are familiar and fascinating to them. This is one of the major distinguishing features of *The Creative Curriculum for Preschool: the study topics are relevant to—rather than removed from—the everyday lives of children. The studies involve children in hands-on exploration, problem solving, and communication.

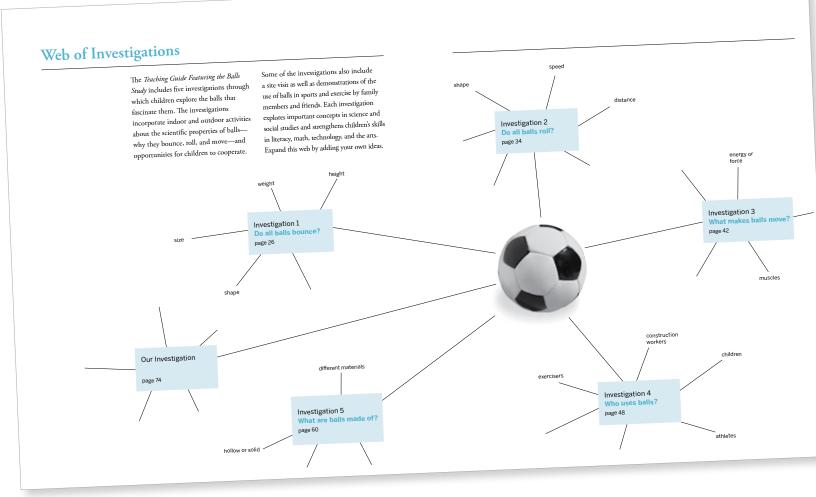

The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool

Web of Investigations

A "Web of Investigations" is also included at the beginning of every study.

This section introduces the concept of an idea web, a way to think about the important ideas related to a topic and the areas that children might explore. Each study includes a preliminary idea web that has extra space for teachers to record their own ideas. In this way, teachers can adapt the Teaching Guide to the resources that are available in the community and the particular learning they want to emphasize.

Putting It Into Practice

Here's an example of one teacher's idea web.

Notice how she begins with the study topic—balls—and branches out to identify many areas of exploration that interest the children in her classroom. From the idea web, this teacher and her class are able to identify what they already know about balls. Then they identify the questions they want to answer.

What do we know about balls?
We can play with balls.
We can throw balls.
Balls bounce and squeak
Balls roll. -Ranna
We can shoot balls into a goal. -Amy
Balls are tough. -Henry

What do we want to find out about balls?
How high can balls bounce? - Amy
Which balls are heavy and light? - Kyla
How can we balance ball on our head? - Eryn
How can balls roll?- Hern
Can we make a ball?
Are some balls different shapes? - Elliot

At a Glance, Investigation 1

Next Step: Plan and Prepare

The "At a Glance" pages that precede every exploration and investigation help teachers with planning. They provide a bird's-eye view of what the next few days will look like.

The number of days the teacher sees on the "At a Glance" chart will vary according to the question(s) being investigated and how involved children become.

Questions for Exploration or Investigation—

In addition to children's own questions, these preselected questions actively involve children in the topic they are studying. Children explore them by engaging in hands-on experiences that enable them to practice important investigatory skills.

Question of the Day-

As part of the morning arrival routine and with help from the teacher or a family member, children answer a question related to something planned for that day.

${\color{red}\textbf{Materials--}} \textbf{The}$

"At a Glance" chart shows all the materials and books the teacher needs to gather for each day of the investigation.

Children's Literature—

During each study, the teacher uses both fiction and nonfiction books from the Teaching Strategies* Children's Book Collection. The nonfiction titles relate closely to the study topic.

suggestions for involving children's families in the study.

Each study suggests special events that can enhance children's experiences, such as having visitors in the classroom, going on site visits, or engaging in celebrations of learning.

Day 1, Investigation 1

Each Teaching Guide contains the day-by-day, step-by-step guidance that helps teachers implement each study.

Notice that guidance for using the additional resources, such as Intentional Teaching Cards™ and Book Discussion Cards™, is included throughout every daily plan.

An important feature of The Creative Curriculum° for Preschool is that the daily plans offer a structure, not a script. As children raise questions about a topic, the teacher can adapt the plans to follow children's interests. The curriculum combines the flexibility many teachers want with the assurance that they're still meeting the Head Start Early Learning Outcomes Framework and early learning standards for their state.

Movement: The Imaginary Ball

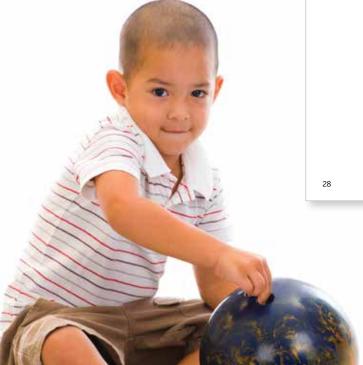

- Read Play Ball.
- Review Mighty Minutes 41, "The Imaginary Ball." Follow the guidance on the card using the numeral card variation.

An important concept in movement experiences is body awareness. This activity helps children explore what their bodies can do.

Discussion and Shared Writing: Which Balls Will Bounce?

- · Gather the collection of balls.
- Ask, "Do all balls bounce? I wonder which ones bounce best. Let's find out."
- Hold up each ball and ask, "Do you think this ball will bounce well?"
- · Record children's predictions about which balls will bounce, and create two groups: balls they think will bounce and balls they think will not bounce. Let each child test a prediction. Be sure to include some balls that won't bounce and others that don't bounce well, e.g., cotton ball, orange, or football. After testing each ball, have the children resort the balls. (They may want more than two categories.) Take photos of children testing their predictions and the sets of sorted balls. Call attention to the football and wonder aloud why it didn't bounce like the others. Reintroduce the term sphere to describe balls and point out that the football is not a sphere.
- Say, "I wonder which balls bounce the highest and why some bounce higher than others. During outdoor time today and tomorrow, we can try to find out."

Before transitioning to interest areas, talk about the sorting trays and small ball collections in the Toys and Games area and how children can use them.

The Balls Study Investigating the Topic

Choice Time

As you interact with children in the interest areas, make time to Observe children as they sort the balls in the Toys and Games area.

Instead of praising children by saying, "Good job," encourage children by explaining exactly what they are doing that is appropriate and noteworthy. For more information on this topic see Intentional Teaching Card SE18, "Encouragement."

- Describe what you see children doing, e.g., "You put all the smooth balls in this section and all the bumpy balls in that section."
- Ask, "Can you think of another way to sort the balls?"
- · Record what children say and do.

Read-Aloud

Read The Three Billy Goats Gruff.

- Use Book Discussion Card 06, The Three Billy Goats Gruff. Follow the guidance for the first read-aloud.
- Tell children that the book will be available to them on the computer in the Technology area.

English-language learners

After the reading, retell the story in your own words with gestures. Point to illustrations or objects in the room, as appropriate. This strategy helps children understand the story and learn new vocabulary.

Before Reading

Recall the characters and the problem

"We're going to read The Three Billy Goats Gruff again. You may remember that this is a story about three billy goat brothers who have to cross a bridge where a hungry troll lives. Why do the billy goats have to get across the bridge? How do they get past the troll?"

Day 1, Investigation 1 Intentional Teaching Card SE18

Day 1, Investigation 1 of the Balls Study refers teachers to Intentional Teaching Card SE18, "Encouragement," for more information on the most effective ways of acknowledging what children are doing.

The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool Intentional Teaching Cards™

Encouragement

What You Do

Background: Instead of praising children by saying, "Good job," encourage children by explaining exactly what they are doing that is appropriate and noteworthy. By acknowledging what they are doing, you provide encouragement and show appreciation for children's efforts without judging them. You call attention to a child's specific behaviors and actions. This feedback helps children develop intrinsic motivation and the ability to self-evaluate. Statements that acknowledge and encourage can also help children persist through challenging tasks, which helps them develop one of the critical approaches to learning.

1. Position yourself at the child's level. Offer a gentle touch, if appropriate.

2. Describe a child's behavior and actions accurately Be specific. Avoid making value judgments.

Instead of, "Your picture is so pretty," acknowledge and encourage the child's effort to create the picture. "You painted your whole paper yellow with orange dots on top."

Instead of, "You look handsome today," you might say, "Seeing your big smile makes me smile too! You look really happy this morning."

Instead of, "That's a cool building," offer encouragement. "You used all of the small square blocks. Can you tell me about your building?"

Instead of, "I like the way you're sharing," describe what the child did. "You offered Cameron some of your beads so she can make a necklace, too. She looks really happy about that."

3. Show your feelings in your tone, body language, and facial expressions.

SE18 All Interest Areas

Objective 1

Regulates own emotions and behaviors c. Takes care of own needs appropriately Related Objectives: 2a, 3a, 8a, 9a, 10a, 11a, 11b, 12b

Additional Ideas

Try using these statements to reframe negative situations when responding to young children. For example, the statement, "I know you're working hard to remember to use a polite tone of voice when you talk to me," is more constructive than saying, "Stop using that tone of voice."

Including All Children

- When asking questions about the child's actions, offer two possibilities and let the child choose.
- Be sure to give the child enough time to think and respond.
- Include English-language learners along with English-speaking children.
- Be sure you have the child's attention.
 Using simple words and gestures, point out specific details.

 Write the poem or song on chart paper. Use pictures and symbols as well as words. Here are two examples:

Clothes

Cobbler, cobbler, mend my shoe. Get it done by half past two. Stitch it up, and stitch it down, Make the finest shoes in town. (Mother Goose)

Trees

Away up high in an apple tree, Two red apples smiled at me. I shook that tree as hard as I could; Down came those apples, And mmmm, they were good! (Traditional)

- 2. Invite the children to listen to the poem or sing the song with you.
- 3. Emphasize the idea that many poems have rhyming words. Reread the rhyming words.

Objective 15

Demonstrates phonological awareness, phonics skills, and word recognition a. Notices and discriminates rhyme

Related Objectives: 2a, 8a, 11a, 17b, 34 Including All Children

- To make sure all children can hear the rhyming words, limit distractions and the general noise level in the room.
- Use short poems with simple rhymes.
- Have a box ready with objects that rhyme with words in the poem. Pull an object out of the box and ask for a rhyming word.
- Watch for nonverbal cues that signal a desire to participate, such as gestures, body movements, and facial expressions.
- As children learn to produce letter sounds in English, accept their attempts without correcting errors. Model correct pronunciation.

Teaching Sequence

PURPLE

YELLOW	Sing a familiar rhyming song or poem and invite the child to use a puppet or other prop as you sing. "Let's listen for rhyming words. 'Hickory, dickory, dock. The mouse ran up the clock.'"
GREEN	Invite the child to join you in singing a familiar rhyming song or saying a familiar poem.
	"Let's sing together and listen for words that rhyme. 'Twinkle, twinkle, little star, how I wonder what you are!"
	Sing the song again and encourage the child to say the rhyming words by pausing before you say them.
GREEN	Encourage the child to fill in missing words in a rhyming song or poem. Prompt the child by emphasizing the word that rhymes with the missing word.
BLUE	"The monkey, he sat in a tree . The monkey got stung by a"
BLUE	When singing a rhyming song, use an incorrect word that does not rhyme and allow the child time to notice the mistake and correct it.

"Way up high in an apple tree, two red apples smiled at you."

Questions to Guide Your Observations

What You Do

Materials: pictures of familiar animals, e.g., cat, dog, sheep, mouse, and snake; audio recorder

 Invite the children to join you in singing "Down By the Bay." Sing the song together enough times for the children to become familiar with it. This is the first verse:

Down by the bay, where the watermelons grow, Back to my home, I dare not go, For if I do, my mother will say, "Did you ever see a goose Kissing a moose, Down by the bay?"

Remind the children that rhyming words sound alike at the end. Give examples of rhyming words in the song (bay, say; go, grow; moose, goose). Invite a child to repeat rhymes from the song.

"Troy, did you hear any other rhyming words in the song besides moose and goose?"

- 3. Explain to the children that they are going to make up new verses to the song. Show the children the animal pictures, and review their names. Invite the children to think of words that rhyme with the names of the animals they want to use in the song.
 - "Yes, Nolan, sheep and sleep do rhyme. We can sing the song with those words. How about, 'Did you ever see a sheep, falling asleep, down by the bay?'"
- 4. Write the rhyming word combinations on chart paper. Use an audio recorder to record the children singing each new verse. Create new verses for as long as the activity interests the children.
- Explain that the recordings will be in the Music and Movement area and that children may play the recordings and listen for the rhyming words during choice time.

Including All Children

- Record two or three pairs of rhyming words on a child's communication device.
- Use animal props for a child to hold as you talk about rhyming.
- When English-language learners ask you to name an object in English, ask them to tell you its name in their home languages.
- Give all children time to express themselves.
- Speak slowly and clearly, exaggerating the rhyming sounds of the words.
- Video record the children rhyming in English and using the pictures. Make the recording available in the Technology area for children to replay during choice

	YELLOW	Invite the child to point to the picture of the animal in each verse as you sing it. Talk about the word that rhymes with the animal the child points to. "Yes, that is a duck. We sang, 'Did you ever see a duck, driving a truck, down by the bay?'"
	GREEN	Ask the child to sing with you, and invite her to sing the rhyming words differently from the other words, e.g., louder, softer, faster, or slower. "We know the animal in the song will be a cat. When it's time to sing the word that rhymes with cat, we'll sing it very softly."
	GREEN	Sing the song, and leave out the name of the animal and the rhyming word. Assist the child by pointing to the animal picture for him to sing.
	BLUE	"This time let's see if you can sing the rhyming words without me." "Did you ever see a, wearing a, down by the bay?" "Great! You saw me point to the fly, and you sang fly and tie."
	BLUE	Create word combinations that may, or may not, rhyme. Encourage the child to choose the correct pairs of words for the song.
	PURPLE	"Here on the chart we have snake and slither. Slither describes how a snake moves. Do those words rhyme? No, they both start with s, but they do not rhyme. Let's look at the next pair of words."
	PURPLE	Encourage the child to create and sing multiple sets of rhyming words independently. Write the word pairs on the chart paper to review with the child after singing.

"Let's sing all of your verses now. I see that you even thought of rhyming words for animals we

Questions to Guide Your Observations

- Was the child able to recognize and name the rhyming words? Was the child able to produce a rhyming word related to a specific animal? (15a)
- Did the child follow along as you reviewed the word pairs on the chart? (17b)
- Was the child able to participate by singing along? (34)

What You Do

- 1. Sing to the tune of "Row, Row, Row Your Boat."
- 2. Use the children's ideas for movements and incorporate them into the song, e.g., bounce, dance, twist, turn, march, kick, or fly.

Bounce, bounce, bounce around Bounce around the floor. Bouncing, bouncing, bouncing More and more and more.

Related Objectives: 1a, 3a, 4, 8b, 15a, 20a, 21a, 35

What You Do

- 1. Invite children to pretend they are bouncing imaginary balls with their hands. Say, "Boing, boing!" as you pretend to bounce a ball.
- 2. Invite children to pretend they are bouncing the imaginary ball with different parts of their bodies. Moving from head to toe, demonstrate bouncing it with your head, shoulders, elbows, knees, and toes.
- 3. Play lively music during this activity, such as "Sweet Georgia Brown."
- Invite children to pretend to bounce and dribble in different ways and directions. Use spatial terms and model their meanings, e.g., left, right, behind, in front of, high, low, sideways, and in between.
- Have a child hold up a numeral card and then name a body part. Have the children count aloud as they move that body part the same number of times as indicated on the card.
- Bounce an imaginary ball. Each time it bounces, say a simple word and have the children call out words that rhyme with it.

Invite children to work with a partner, pretending to bounce the ball back and forth between them.

 Adapt the song to other studies by creating new rhymes.

Pound, pound a nail Pound it into wood. Pounding, pounding, pounding, pounding

That is strong and good.

Smash, smash, smash a can Smash it nice and flat. Smashing, smashing, smashing What do you think of that?

• Hold a numeral card to incorporate a number into the song, e.g., Pound, pound, pound [three] nails...

Day 1, Investigation 1

Volume 6: Objectives for Development & Learning

During Day 1, Investigation 1 of the Balls Study, teachers are referred to Volume 6: Objectives for Development & Learning to obtain more information about supporting children's phonological awareness.

Objective 15

Demonstrates phonological awareness, phonics skills, and word recognition

Phonological awareness, or phonological sensitivity, is the ability to discern the sounds and patterns of spoken language. As this awareness develops, children learn to hear the separate sounds of oral language that are blended in ordinary speech. For some children, distinguishing the parts of spoken language is difficult because it requires them to attend to the sounds of speech separately from meaning.

Phonological awareness is an important skill in learning to read. Children typically begin to demonstrate this awareness by about age 3, and their skills improve gradually over many years (Snow, Burns, & Griffin, 1998). Phonological sensitivity is a strong predictor of later reading, writing, and spelling ability (National Early Literacy Panel, 2004, 2008). Instruction that strengthens children's phonological awareness has been shown to contribute to later reading success (Ehri et al., 2001; National Early Literacy Panel, 2008). Children become phonologically aware through experiences such as reciting poems, singing, and clapping the syllables of chanted words (Adams, 1990, 2001; Carroll, Snowling, Hulme, & Stevenson, 2003; Strickland & Schickedanz, 2004). Phonological awareness skills are typically learned in a particular order (Anthony, Lonigan, Driscoll, Phillips, & Burgess, 2003). However, children acquire these skills in an overlapping sequence rather than by mastering one level before the next (Dickinson & Neuman, 2006).

Children who are learning two or more languages must learn very different sound systems (Gonzalez, 1998). They must distinguish English phonemes that may not be part of their native languages. A child may therefore have difficulty hearing and/or producing the sounds of English.

In primary school, teachers help children further their phonemic awareness and support them as they learn decoding and phonics skills, word structure analysis, and recognition of frequently occurring sight words (Florida Center for Reading Research, n.d.). The focus on rhyme and alliteration in the earlier years builds to the process of decoding words in elementary school. Children's ability to use phonological awareness and phonics skills is critical in learning to decode unknown words (Snow, Burns, & Griffin, 1998). Phonological processing predicts children's later reading comprehension and reading disability status (Fuchs, Compton, Fuchs, Bryant, Hamlett, & Lambert, 2012). Students' failure to use phonemic decoding skills and to master word recognition hinders their ability to comprehend text (Snow, Burns, & Griffin, 1998).

The ability to consciously focus on the structure of words such as base words and inflections (morphological awareness) is also important as primary-grade students learn to read. Morphological knowledge facilitates decoding as students decompose multi-morphemic words into familiar root words and known affixes (Kruk & Bergman, 2013). Students' abilities to utilize morphological processes support a variety of literacy skills, including word identification, reading fluency (Green, 2009; Wolter, Wood, & D'zatko, 2009), and reading comprehension (Apel, Wilson-Fowler, Brimo, & Perrin, 2012).

The Creative Curriculum for Preschool, Expanded Daily Resources

When it came time to update The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool, we took to heart what teachers had been telling us: they wanted more choice in the classroom.

Now when teachers choose The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool—with The Foundation and the Daily Resources—they can also choose to add the Expanded Daily Resources. With these brand-new editions of the daily teaching tools, teachers have even more options for managing and organizing their day and creating meaningful learning opportunities.

The Expanded Daily Resources give teachers even more options for engaging children in project-based investigations. They feature five brand-new studies of fascinating and familiar topics, with new daily plans that offer guidance for every part of the day. They offer a rich collection of additional instructional tools, including more resources for promoting language and literacy skills, more tools for adapting activities to each learner, and more support for integrating learning into every part of the day.

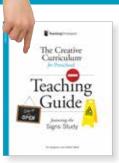

Supporting English Language Development

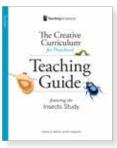

Available in the Expanded Daily Resources, brand-new literacy tools help teachers support English-language learners and introduce Spanish to non-Spanish-speaking children.

Additional Teaching Guides

The additional Teaching Guides, which are sold individually, offer a wide range of options for studies, allowing teachers to explore the topics that most interest the children in their class or that relate to their community's unique characteristics and needs.

Teachers can choose from the Boxes, Music Making, Bread, Exercise, Roads, Pets, and Getting Ready for Kindergarten Teaching Guides. Each comes with three Book Discussion Cards™ (see page 23) and three related children's books. To support English- and dual-language learners during read-alouds, "Spanish Book Packs" are available with three Book Discussion Cards™ and three related children's books in Spanish.

Digital Curriculum Resources

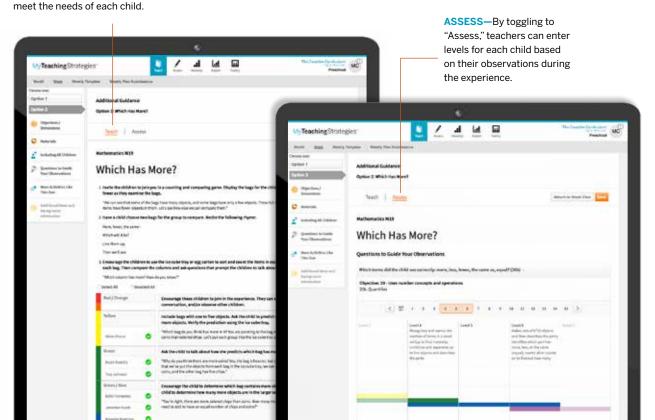

The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool also offers programs the option to subscribe to digital curriculum resources to support a teacher's ability to plan and teach intentionally, including 6 Teaching Guides, 201 Intentional Teaching experiences, and weekly and monthly planning calendars that auto-populate with content from the curriculum to help teachers plan and manage their days.

Accessible through the MyTeachingStrategies^{To} platform, which also includes resources and support for assessment, for professional development, and for connecting with families, the digital curriculum resources help ensure that teachers can save time while planning and implementing meaningful, intentional instruction throughout the day using The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool.

The daily plans from each Teaching Guide automatically populate into a teacher's weekly and monthly calendars, saving them valuable time that would otherwise be spent on planning. Teachers can reorder or customize their daily plans quickly and easily to reflect the unique needs of their classroom or community. Intentional Teaching experiences provide a wealth of opportunities to individualize instruction for each child in the class, with color-coded Teaching Sequences that allow teachers to modify the activity in the moment to meet each child's needs. Learn more about the color-coded Teaching Sequences on pages 20-21.

By toggling to "Assess" on each Intentional Teaching experience, teachers can enter levels for each child based on their observations during the experience. The information they enter will automatically populate along the Teaching Sequence, placing children's names along the colorcoded progression so that teachers know just how to modify or adjust the activity for each child. Teachers can move children along the continuum based on what they know about each child, ensuring that, as children progress, their experiences in the classroom can be adjusted accordingly. Once teachers have entered levels for each child during one Intentional Teaching experience, all the other Intentional Teaching experiences they choose to use will automatically populate the Teaching Sequence with children's names.

TEACH—By toggling to "Teach," teachers have all the guidance they need to engage children in a learning experience that can quickly be individualized to

We hope you've enjoyed this tour of The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool and that it has helped you understand the curriculum's many benefits for teachers, administrators, and families.

Benefits for Teachers

Daily support and guidance:

Daily plans for every day of the year offer all the tools teachers need to teach intentionally and plan meaningful learning experiences, right from the first days of school.

Flexibility: Studies offer plenty of flexibility: teachers can extend the investigation, incorporate their own activities and themes, and adapt the study to follow children's interests or draw on the resources in the community.

Differentiated instruction:

Daily resources enable teachers to quickly and easily adapt activities to make them more or less challenging, giving teachers the ability to differentiate instruction to meet the needs of every learner.

Objectives for development and learning: 38 objectives offer teachers assurance that they are meeting essential early learning standards every day and focusing on what's most important for school readiness.

Benefits for Administrators

Confidence that standards are being met: 38 objectives aligned with Head Start and state early learning standards offer administrators confidence that important standards are being met.

Support for teacher professional development: Extensive online and in-person training opportunities are readily available, and six foundational volumes offer teachers ongoing support for building professional knowledge.

Tools for teachers at all experience levels: Daily resources ensure that new teachers have everything they need to be successful, and veteran teachers can apply to the studies everything they know and have learned. In either case, administrators can be confident that every teacher is meeting important learning objectives.

Benefits for Families

Regular opportunities for family involvement: Guidance and support for including families are built right into daily plans, with regular opportunities to invite families to participate in children's learning.

Family communication tools:

Pre-filled "Weekly Planning Forms" are available to share with families, offering important information about what children are doing at school and encouraging families to support learning at home.

Teaching children to be creative, confident thinkers.

The Creative Curriculum for Preschool

In its latest edition, The Creative Curriculum® for Preschool is still everything that teachers love: a comprehensive, research-based curriculum that features exploration and discovery as a way of learning.
