Unit Overview

- To truly understand the influences of the current trends in music, one must study the past to learn how current trends came to be. This unit combines all of the previous units, by seeing how theory, composition, and rhythm came together and evolved over time. Famous compositions dating back to the Renaissance era will be explored and performed. Students will have the opportunity to further study composers and schools of thought relating to performance and education. In relation to Music History, Ethnomusicology compliments this unit. Ethnomusicology is the study of world music.
