Dr. Richard Tomko, Ph.D., M.J., Superintendent of Schools

Ms. LucyAnn Demikoff, Director of Curriculum and Instruction K-12

Ms. Nicole Shanklin, Director of Elementary Education

Mr. George Droste, Director of Secondary Education

Board Approved: September 23, 2019

Unit Overview

- To allow students to view what building good character entails, while targeting different traits in which make up good character.
- Ensuring understanding of these traits will allow students to use these practices in the real world.
- Ideologically, if a student is able to develop into someone who embodies several of the good character traits: including trustworthiness, respect, responsibility, fairness, caring, and citizenship, then their overall outlook on society and effect they have on people around them will be a positive one.
- Topics: 1. What is character
- 2. Trustworthiness and Respect
- 3. Responsibility and Fairness
- 4. Being a good citizen
- 5. Making a Difference
- Students will learn what determines a good character, what traits people with good character embody, and how one can work towards attaining a standard where these traits are part of their everyday lifestyle.
- Drugs, Alcohol, Tobacco, Controlled Dangerous Substances, and Anabolic Steroids.

Enduring Understandings

- Identify traits of good character and describes the influences on developing good character.

- Focus on the traits of trustworthiness, respect, and loyalty.
- Show the relationship between responsibility, accountability, fairness, and good sportsmanship.
- Describe how caring about others translates into being a good citizen.
- Identify ways in which students can make a difference in their community.
- Character education and why one should work to be a good character and embody the different traits taught.
- Achieving the standing of having good character takes time, and someone with good character practices these traits often within their daily life.
- Trustworthiness and Respect: Listening, disagreeing without arguing, being honest, truthful, and dependable.
- Responsibility and Fairness: keeping promises, thinking before acting, treating people equally, and being open minded.
- Making a Difference: working to instill the different good character traits to positively affect yourself and the people around you to work to become good characters.
- The key traits it takes to be a good character over the course of their lifetime. It will be easy to distance themselves from practicing these traits and having a constant reminder will allow them to stay on top of their good character practices.
- Influence on Alcohol, Tobacco and other drugs.

Essential Questions

- Think of an act of citizenship you know about. It can be an act of someone you know, or someone you have read about or seen on TV. Tell how the act demonstrates citizenship. Does the example include any other traits of good character? If so, tell how.
- What is your strongest character trait? Name the trait and tell ways you demonstrate that trait.
- Analyze List the six traits of good character. Next to each trait, give an example of how someone might demonstrate the trait.
- What are the three characteristics of caring?
- What does it mean to be an advocate?
- Describe how can good character improve your life?
- How can alcohol and tobacco influence your life?

Exit Skills
