Unit Overview

In this Unit students will examine the elements of a crime. Students will define the function of intent in criminal acts and comprehend how failure to act could constitute a criminal offense. Students will discover how the prosecutor can use an inference to prove a general intent crime. Students will also learn that there is an exception to the requirement that every crime contain a criminal intent element. Students will also learn how to identify and distinguish the elements of harm and causation and how a intervening superseding cause, could effect a defendant's criminal liability.

Enduring Understanding

The elements of a crime are criminal act, criminal intent, concurrence, causation, harm, and attendant circumstances. Only crimes that specify a bad result have the elements of causation and harm. Criminal act is usually an unlawful bodily movement that is defined in a statute, or a case in jurisdictions that allow common-law crimes. The criminal act must be voluntary and cannot be based solely on the status of the defendant or the defendant's thoughts. An exception to the criminal act element is omission to act. Omission to act could be criminal if there is a statute, contract, or special relationship that creates a legal duty to act in the defendant's situation. Actual possession means that the item is on or very near the defendant's person. Constructive possession means that the item is within the defendant's control, such as inside a house or vehicle with the defendant.

One important function of intent is the determination of punishment. In general, the more evil the intent, the more severe the punishment. Motive is the reason the defendant commits the criminal act. Motive standing alone is not enough to prove criminal intent. The Model Penal Code's criminal states of mind ranked in order of culpability are purposely, knowingly, recklessly, and negligently. Purposely is similar to specific intent to cause a particular result. Knowingly is awareness that results are practically certain to occur. Recklessly is a subjective awareness of a risk of harm, and an objective and unjustified disregard of that risk. Negligently is not being aware of a substantial risk of harm when a reasonable person would be.

Vicarious liability is the transfer of criminal liability from one criminal defendant to another based on a special relationship.

Concurrence requires that act and intent exist at the same moment. Factual cause means that the defendant starts the chain of events leading to the harm. Legal cause means that the defendant is held criminally responsible for the harm because the harm is a foreseeable result of the defendant's criminal act. An intervening superseding cause breaks the chain of events started by the defendant's act and cuts the defendant off from criminal responsibility.

Essential Questions

What are the elements of a crime?

What are the requirements of a criminal act.

What is an exception to the criminal act element?

How can an omission to act could be criminal?

What is the difference between actual and constructive possession?

What is the difference between specific and general intent?

How does the law differentiate between motive and criminal intent?

How does the the Model Penal Code rank a defendant's mental state in order of culpability?

Identify an exception to the requirement that every crime contain a criminal intent element.

What circumstances give rise to vicarious criminal liability?

How does the law distinguish between factual and legal cause?

What is an intervening superseding cause and what role does it play in a defendant's criminal liability?

Exit Skills

By the end of this Unit students will demonstrate the ability to;

List the elements of a crime.

Define the criminal act element.

Identify three requirements of criminal act.

Describe an exception to the criminal act element.

Ascertain three situations where an omission to act could be criminal.
 Distinguish between actual and constructive possession.
 Identify the criminal intent element required when possession is the criminal act.
 Describe one important function of criminal intent.
 List the three common-law criminal intents, ranking them in order of culpability.
 Compare specific and general intent.
 Describe an inference that makes it easier for the prosecution to prove a general intent crime.
 Differentiate between motive and criminal intent.
 List and define the Model Penal Code mental states, ranking them in order of culpability.
 Identify an exception to the requirement that every crime contain a criminal intent element.
 Explain how transferred intent promotes justice.
 Describe the circumstances that give rise to vicarious criminal liability.
 Define concurrence of criminal act and intent.
 Distinguish between factual and legal cause.

Define intervening superseding cause, and explain the role it plays in the defendant's criminal liability.

New Jersey Student Learning Standards (NJSL-S)

Suggested Activities & Best Practices

- Use of e-learning platform using Google Classroom, Oncourse and other web based services
- Reading and outlining text and other e-material
- Using outline templates and PowerPoint presentations to reinforce student outlines
- Teacher oriented class discussion
- Reaction Papers addressing legal topics and current event issues
- Discussion Questions and Unit/Lesson assessment questions
- Legal Vocabulary Review
- Unit specific Case Study exercises such as;

- Gideon v. Wainwright* (Right to Counsel, Due Process)
- Miranda v. Arizona* (Self-Incrimination, Due Process)

Assessment Evidence - Checking for Understanding (CFU)

- KWL Exercise-formative
 - Mock Trial Project
 - Cumulative outline of all lessons in Unit 4
 - Reaction Papers on current event legal issues-alternate
 - Legal Reasoning exercises applying the law
 - Case Studies (i.e. Gideon v. Wainwright)
 - End-of-Unit exam-summative
- Common Benchmarks
 - Compare & Contrast
 - Create a Multimedia Poster

Differentiation

- Guided outlining and open outline assessments
- Project-based learning
- Problem-based learning

Differentiations:

- Small group instruction
- Small group assignments
- Extra time to complete assignments
- Pairing oral instruction with visuals
- Repeat directions
- Use manipulatives
- Center-based instruction
- Token economy
- Study guides
- Teacher reads assessments allowed
- Scheduled breaks
- Rephrase written directions
- Multisensory approaches
- Additional time
- Preview vocabulary
- Preview content & concepts
- Story guides
- Behavior management plan
- Highlight text
- Student(s) work with assigned partner
- Visual presentation
- Assistive technology
- Auditory presentations
- Large print edition
- Dictation to scribe
- Small group setting

Hi-Prep Differentiations:

- Alternative formative and summative assessments
- Choice boards
- Games and tournaments
- Group investigations
- Guided Reading
- Independent research and projects
- Interest groups
- Learning contracts
- Leveled rubrics
- Literature circles
- Multiple intelligence options
- Multiple texts
- Personal agendas
- Project-based learning
- Problem-based learning
- Stations/centers
- Think-Tac-Toes
- Tiered activities/assignments
- Tiered products
- Varying organizers for instructions

Lo-Prep Differentiations

- Choice of books or activities
- Cubing activities
- Exploration by interest
- Flexible grouping
- Goal setting with students
- Jigsaw
- Mini workshops to re-teach or extend skills
- Open-ended activities
- Think-Pair-Share
- Reading buddies
- Varied journal prompts
- Varied supplemental materials

Special Education Learning (IEP's & 504's)

- Modified assignments
- Additional time for assignments and assessments

- printed copy of board work/notes provided
- additional time for skill mastery
- assistive technology
- behavior management plan
- Center-Based Instruction
- check work frequently for understanding
- computer or electronic device utilizes
- extended time on tests/ quizzes
- have student repeat directions to check for understanding
- highlighted text visual presentation
- modified assignment format
- modified test content
- modified test format
- modified test length
- multiple test sessions
- multi-sensory presentation
- preferential seating
- preview of content, concepts, and vocabulary
- Provide modifications as dictated in the student's IEP/504 plan
- reduced/shortened reading assignments
- Reduced/shortened written assignments
- secure attention before giving instruction/directions
- shortened assignments
- student working with an assigned partner
- teacher initiated weekly assignment sheet
- Use open book, study guides, test prototypes

English Language Learning (ELL)

- Providing assignments/assessments in native language
- teaching key aspects of a topic. Eliminate nonessential information
- using videos, illustrations, pictures, and drawings to explain or clarify
- allowing products (projects, timelines, demonstrations, models, drawings, dioramas, poster boards, charts, graphs, slide shows, videos, etc.) to demonstrate student's learning;
- allowing students to correct errors (looking for understanding)
- allowing the use of note cards or open-book during testing

- decreasing the amount of work presented or required
- having peers take notes or providing a copy of the teacher's notes
- modifying tests to reflect selected objectives
- providing study guides
- reducing or omitting lengthy outside reading assignments
- reducing the number of answer choices on a multiple choice test
- tutoring by peers
- using computer word processing spell check and grammar check features
- using true/false, matching, or fill in the blank tests in lieu of essay tests

At Risk

- Modified assignments and assessments

- allowing students to correct errors (looking for understanding)
- teaching key aspects of a topic. Eliminate nonessential information
- allowing products (projects, timelines, demonstrations, models, drawings, dioramas, poster boards, charts, graphs, slide shows, videos, etc.) to demonstrate student's learning
- allowing students to select from given choices
- allowing the use of note cards or open-book during testing
- collaborating (general education teacher and specialist) to modify vocabulary, omit or modify items to reflect objectives for the student, eliminate sections of the test, and determine how the grade will be determined prior to giving the test.
- decreasing the amount of work presented or required
- having peers take notes or providing a copy of the teacher's notes
- marking students' correct and acceptable work, not the mistakes
- modifying tests to reflect selected objectives
- providing study guides
- reducing or omitting lengthy outside reading assignments
- reducing the number of answer choices on a multiple choice test
- tutoring by peers
- using authentic assessments with real-life problem-solving
- using true/false, matching, or fill in the blank tests in lieu of essay tests
- using videos, illustrations, pictures, and drawings to explain or clarify

Talented and Gifted Learning (T&G)

- Providing additional Case Studies for in-depth analysis

- Above grade level placement option for qualified students
- Advanced problem-solving
- Allow students to work at a faster pace
- Cluster grouping
- Complete activities aligned with above grade level text using Benchmark results
- Create a blog or social media page about their unit
- Create a plan to solve an issue presented in the class or in a text
- Debate issues with research to support arguments
- Flexible skill grouping within a class or across grade level for rigor
- Higher order, critical & creative thinking skills, and discovery
- Multi-disciplinary unit and/or project
- Teacher-selected instructional strategies that are focused to provide challenge, engagement, and growth opportunities
- Utilize exploratory connections to higher-grade concepts
- Utilize project-based learning for greater depth of knowledge
