Unit Overview

In this Unit students will analyze the sources and functions of law and the democratic process and its effect on how laws are created. Students will learn how to conduct legal research to find statutory and case law and apply the law to different factual situations in an attempt to resolve legal disputes. Students will be able to identify criminal and civil cases and formulate legal remedies.

Enduring Understanding

The justice system is responsible for resolving both civil and criminal legal disputes. Criminal disputes are considered public wrongs that are prosecuted by the government. - What are the sources of law in the United States?
- How is statutory law, case law, constitutional law, and administrative law is created?
- What are the different types of crimes and criminal defenses?
- What are the areas of civil law?
