Unit Overview

This Unit will focus on changes in U.S. politics and how it has influenced the theoretical purposes of punishment within the Criminal Justice System. Liberal political movements enabled the judicial and executive branches wielded power in sentencing. Legislators designed sentencing laws with rehabilitation in mind. During politically conservative movements, legislators seized power over sentencing, and a combination of theories—deterrence, retribution, and incapacitation—have influenced sentencing laws. The Unit will cover the imposition of hardship in response to misconduct in our society. Students will study how human transgressions have been punished in various ways throughout history. Students will study the governments ability to impose punishments such as community service, monetary fines, forfeiture of property, restitution to victims, confinement in jail or prison, and even death.
