Unit Overview

A garde manger (French for "keeper of the food") is a cool, well-ventilated area where cold dishes (such as salads, hors d'œuvres, appetizers, canapés, pâtés and terrines) are prepared and other foods are stored under refrigeration. The person in charge of this area is known as the chef garde manger or pantry chef. The Garde Manger brigade specializes in cold food production; garnishes, salads, salad dressings, cheese plates, cold hors d'œuvres, fancy sandwiches, relish trays, canapés, and cold platters. Cold food production must take into consideration ingredient variety, color, texture, portion size, and serving placement to create foods with visual and flavor appeal. This building of ingredients starts with selecting good quality, healthful fresh foods, adding different flavors, colors and textures that complement each other. Knowledge of fresh ingredients, food flavors, knife cutting skills and artistic creativity are basics for the Garde Manger team.
