Unit Overview

Throughout Unit 4: In this unit, students will examine various literary and informational texts about many places across America that can be described with the words grit and grandeur. They will also examine the elements of an explanatory essay in order to craft a written essay and participate in an explanatory talk during the different performance tasks. Ultimately during all of the reading, writing, speaking & listening tasks, students will consider what makes certain places memorable.

By learning the elements of writing an explanatory text, including organizing and sharing ideas, reflecting on experiences and gathering evidence from research students will write their own explanatory text.

Language

By developing a deeper understanding of effective style choices, students will practice making choices regarding sentence variety, figurative language, and diction in their own writing.

Speaking and Listening

By working together to build on ideas and communicate with one another students will incorporate audio, visuals, and text in presentations.

- Supplement the unit: Form literature circles and have the students read one of the trades books throughout the course of the unit as a supplement to the selections and activities.
- Substitute for unit selections: If you replace unit selections with a trade book, review the standards taught with those selections. Teacher Resources that provide practice with all standards are available.
- Extend Independent Learning: Extend the unit by replacing independent reading selections with one of these trade books: The Grapes of Wrath, A Tale of Two Cities, Dubliners
- Pacing: However you choose to integrate trade books, the Pacing Guide offers suggestions for aligning the trade books with this unit.
