Belleville, NJ 07109

Prepared by: Ryan Sheridan

Dr. Richard Tomko, Ph.D., M.J., Superintendent of Schools

Ms. LucyAnn Demikoff, Director of Curriculum and Instruction K-12

Ms. Nicole Shanklin, Director of Elementary Education K-8, ESL Coordinator K-12

Unit Overview

In this unit students will use knowledge gained in previous units to put together a characteristic perofrmance of standard concert repertoire. Concert repertoire should include aspects of all technical and scale studies and should be age and seasonally appropriate. Students will prepare and perform appropriate selections of solo/ensemble music for contest purposes. Demonstrate an understanding of dynamic contrasts, tempo changes, blend, diction, technique and variety of expressions as a soloist and within an ensemble. The learner will then accurately demonstrate synthesis of these elements in performance.

Enduring Understanding

-The study, analysis and resulting performance of choral literature (secular, sacred, folksongs, spirituals, popular, Broadway, multi-cultural and world music) contributes not only to a comprehensive music education, but also to the appreciation and respect of other world cultures and societies.

-Evaluation and self-evaluation of an artist's technical proficiency are critical components for improving and appreciating the aesthetics of a performance.

-Music is a form of communication

-Increasing technical skill and theoretical knowledge allows performers to better express the music and themselves

Essential Questions

-How does the ability to evaluate technical proficiency and artistry affect one's appreciation of a performance?

-Why might an enhanced ability to musically self-evaluate broaden one's perception of musical aesthetics?

-Why is the practice of legally responsible music consumerism important?

-How can our experience in singing in diverse languages enable us to understand other cultures and societies?

-How can a varied program including secular, sacred, folksongs, spirituals, popular, Broadway, multi-cultural and world music create a comprehensive choral experience for the listener and the audience?

Exit Skills

-Perform music from a variety of cultures, languages and societies paying respect to accuracy of language pronunciation and specific performance customs.
-Demonstrate correct tone production, posture, breath support, diction and focus during preparatory rehearsals.
-Display synthesis of all technical elements of music in addition to appropriate conduct, focus and effort during performance.
-Adjust vocal technique, facial expression, posture, movement and projection piece by piece in order to reflect the individuality and culture of each piece of music.
-Express verbally or in written form an emotional connection to specific pieces, particular phrases, text or measures using appropriate music terminology.
-Express verbally or in written form critique and analysis of the performance, and how successful the choir and the individual were at integrating all the elements necessary to create a high quality performance.
