Unit Overview

Unit 2 explores how the Great Depression allowed dictators to take hold of European countries because people looked to totalitarian rule to solve economic problems. Fascism and Communism spread through Europe. Most European countries practiced Appeasement to stay out of War, and Germany became strong under the Nazi Party which had strong anti-Jewish policies. Japan began to encroach into the Pacific, and the US strongly disagreed. The US debated becoming involved in World War II and remained out until the bombing of Pearl Harbor by the Japanese.

Enduring Understanding

1. The rise of rulers with total power in Europe and Asia led to World War II.
2. Dictators of the 1930s and 1940s changed the course of history when their actions started World War II, serving as a warning to be vigilant about totalitarian government
3. Americans debated involvement in World War II.
4. The global Depression made many European countries look towards dictators to rule and protect them.
5. Fascism, and Communism spread throughout Europe during the 1920's and 30's
6. Appeasement was a foreign policy used by many European Countries during the decade to avoid WWII.
7. Totalitarian dictatorships severely limited people's rights during the period of the 1930's
8. Germany rule by the Nazi Party was strictly anti-Jewish

9. Countries develop specific policies about ways to deal with other countries' aggressive acts.
10. Japan spread quickly throughout the Pacific in the 1930's damaging their relationship with the US in the 1930's
11. The United States became involved in World War II after an attack on its own soil on December 7th 1941.

Essential Questions

1. Why were American so isolationist after WWI?
2. Why did so many European countries look towards dictatorships in the period between the wars?
3. Which two ideologies spread in Europe, and why were they the most successful?
4. How does Appeasement work, and why was it unsuccessful in preventing WWII?
5. Were totalitarian governments worried about civil rights or individual liberties?
6. Why was Germany so Anti-Jewish leading up to WWII?
7. Was there a way that every country dealt with aggression leading up to WWII? (Consider Czechoslovakia, Poland, and Austria)

Exit Skills

By the end of Unit 2.

1. Students should be able to apply domain-specific vocabulary in their verbal and written responses, essays and papers.

Suggested Activities & Best Practices

What Do Best Practices Look Like? Classrooms that exemplify best practices are easy to detect as soon as you enter the room. • Project materials and books are numerous. • Students are engaged and focused on their work. • Teachers often use collaborative and/or authentic tasks that place students at the center of the learning process. • Seating arrangements are clustered, varied and functional with multiinstructional areas. • Classrooms are activity-based spaces as opposed to places to “sit and get” lectures. • Teachers are actively engaged with different groups and students are anxious to enlist visitors in their various tasks or assignments. • There is a joyful feeling of purposeful movement, industrious thinking and a vital and vibrant atmosphere and environment.

- Research and report what was the “tipping point” in the United States relationship with Japan in the 1930’s.
- Create a timeline showing how did the attacks of Pearl Harbor of 12-7-41 galvanize the United States towards the War movement.
- Research and write persuasive essay explaining why were people drawn to authoritarian leaders, using many examples
