Sample Lesson

Unit Name: Chapter 1- Learning and Working Together

NJSLS: See Link Below

Interdisciplinary Connection: See Link Below

Statement of Objective: SWDAT assess the importance of making good choices.

Anticipatory Set/Do Now: Complete the Jumpstart Activity by turning to a partner to share what you do in school. Make a concept map to display student ideas.

Learning Activity: Use anticipatory set to introduce "The Big Question," "How do you act in school." Turn to a partner to discuss what a choice is. Next, review vocabulary words, "school," "learn," and "choice" to build on students' background knowledge on how to act in school. In whole group, read aloud Chapter 1 Lesson 1 using the online read aloud component. During reading, check for understanding by asking and answering reading check questions. After reading, pose the question, "Why should you make good choices in school?" Turn to a partner to discuss ideas for guided instruction. For guided practice, construct a response by modeling how to restate the question and answer the question using a picture as a repsonse. Use the sentence starter, I should make good choices in school because... to unlock the big question. Allot students time to complete for independent practice and use assignment as a formative assessment to provide additional support as needed. Students will present their ideas to the class using share circles.
