Unit Overview

The 21st Century learner must become proficient in the research process. It is important for students to learn and develop the effective skills and strategies of the research process by learning how to search, select, analyze, evaluate, and organize their research. Students will learn how to choose a subject, narrow down their topic, write a thesis statement, search for reliable print and nonprint information, note-taking, and organize the information found in an outline to aid in writing their report.

Enduring Understanding

By the end of Unit 4 students will understand that:

- The importance of research
- Research is a process that involves several steps

- How to narrow down topics from board topics to searchable topics
- Conducting background research
- Developing a research question and Thesis statement for their project
- Tips on how to select the most appropriate resources for their research needs
- How to use keywords to conduct a search in a database or Internet (boolean search)
- Organized note-taking, paraphrasing, and compiling sources will aid in the research process
- How to extract the main and supporting ideas from a source
- How to evaluate available sources for currency, accuracy, authority, relevance, and objectivity
- How to cross check their research for validity

Essential Questions

Why do we conduct research?

How do I find information?

How can we create a list of keywords?

How can technology help with my research?

How can I find reliable sources?

What are ways we can search the databases?

What words do we use to complete a boolean search?

How can I use the Internet to find information and tell if it is reliable?

How can I collect and organize my information?

What methods can we use to organize our research?

What is a credible source what is a non-credible source and how do we tell the difference?

How can I identify diverse perspectives in my sources?

What are the main ideas of my topic?

Do the facts support the main ideas?

Why is it important to use my own words?

Exit Skills

By the end of Grade 7, Library Media Unit 4, the student should be able to:
