Unit Overview

Unit 3 discusses the buildup to World War II in Europe and Asia. The US remains neutral until Pearl Harbor is bombed by the Japanese on 12/7/41. The Allied and Axis powers are explained; major battles are discussed; and America's use of the atomic bomb on Japan. In this unit, the Holocaust is explored and discussed.

The Treaty of Versailles, which ended World War I, left many European nations dissatisfied. The treaty's war-guilt clause placed the blame for the war solely on Germany. The treaty also demanded that the Germans pay reparations, or payments for damages and expenses caused by the war. The amount demanded far exceeded what the German government could actually afford to pay.

Instead of securing a "just and secure peace," the Treaty of Versailles caused anger and resentment. Germans saw nothing fair in a treaty that blamed them for starting the war. Nor did they find security in a settlement that stripped them of their overseas colonies and border territories. The terms of the treaty did serious damage to the German economy. It forced Germany to give up control of some of its major industrial regions, which made the reparations payments even more challenging. These factors helped bring about a period of severe inflation, or rising prices. Prices increased at such an incredible rate that by 1923, German currency had simply ceased to have any meaningful value. These problems overwhelmed the Weimar Republic, the democratic government set up in Germany after World War I.

Enduring Understanding

1. WWII was caused by a rise of dictators bent on world domination in the 1930s.
2. The struggle between the Allies and the Axis is the defining struggle of the 20th century.
3. After WWII began the European continent was not ready for the German Blitzkrieg.
4. The British evacuation from Dunkirk was the first in a series of breaks that allowed the war to continue in Europe.
5. Hitler's invasion of the USSR proved difficult and ultimately cost him the war.
6. The US government quickly mobilized the country and economy to fight WWII.
7. Between 1942-1945, the Western world was in a constant state of War in nearly every country and continent.
8. Stalingrad and El Alamein changed the tide of the war in favor of the Allied powers.
9. Island hopping and aircraft carriers signified the American strategy in the Pacific Ocean against Japan.
10. As the US came closer to mainland Japan, the fighting became fiercer forcing the American government to look at other options for ending the war.
11. The US dropped the Atomic Bombs on Japan to quickly end WWII.
12. Truman's use of the Atomic Bombs remains a source of controversy today, due to debate about possible other options he had.
13. The Holocaust was the systematic genocide of over 12 million people by the German Nazi government between 1933 and 1945.
14. The Holocaust is the worst genocide in modern history and was the logical end to a German anti-Semitic policy against the Jews of Europe.

Essential Questions

1. Why is WWII so closely related to the rise of Dictators in the 1930s?
2. Why is the result of WWII so important to the way that we live now?
3. How did German tactics surprise the Allies and nearly end the war quickly?
4. In what ways did the Battle of Britain and luck allow the Allies to remain in WWII?
5. What was Hitler's biggest mistake in WWII?
6. What changed about the American government and economy during WWII?
7. Why did France fall so quickly to the German Blitzkrieg?
8. Why are Stalingrad and El Alamein considered the turning points of WWII?
9. Which strategies were most effective for the US during WWII? Why?
10. What impact did the fighting on the Pacific have on the American military and government?
11. Why did the US drop the Atomic Bombs?
12. Was the US right to drop the Atomic Bombs?
13. Why did the Holocaust occur?

Interdisciplinary Connections

Witness for the Prosecution—High school students take on the role of investigative journalist and read the play Witness for the Prosecution by Agatha Christie. After each act of the play, students write news stories using facts from the play.

Suggested Activities & Best Practices

What Do Best Practices Look Like? Classrooms that exemplify best practices are easy to detect as soon as you enter the room. • Project materials and books are numerous. • Students are engaged and focused on their work. • Teachers often use collaborative and/or authentic tasks that place students at the center of the learning process. • Seating arrangements are clustered, varied and functional with multiinstructional areas. • Classrooms are activity-based spaces as opposed to places to “sit and get” lectures. • Teachers are actively engaged with different groups and students are anxious to enlist visitors in their various tasks or assignments. • There is a joyful feeling of purposeful movement, industrious thinking and a vital and vibrant atmosphere and environment.

- Research and report: how was the Holocaust an effect of Hitler's policies.
- Group assignment: discuss if we have the ability to stop future Holocausts.
- Time-line activity: using the time-line explain why did the Allies win World War II.
- Write a persuasive essay in response to the essential question. Your essay should include key people, decisions, circumstances, and turning points that resulted in victory for the Allies. Be sure to cite evidence to support your position and organize your essay into an introduction, body, and conclusion.
