Week 3. Describe how animals are able to survive in nature by naming things animals need.

Week 4. Classify insects of how they are alike and different.

Week 5. Give example of how people work with animals and describe different jobs people have to help animals.

Essential Questions

During Unit 4, students will explore different themes and scenarios that will guide them in formulating their own thoughtful responses to this unit's BIG IDEA: "What animals do you know about? Interdisciplinary Connections

1-LS1-1	Use materials to design a solution to a human problem by mimicking how plants and/or animals use their external parts to help them survive, grow, and meet their needs.
1-LS1-1.LS1.A.1	All organisms have external parts. Different animals use their body parts in different ways to see, hear, grasp objects, protect themselves, move from place to place, and seek, find, and take in food, water and air. Plants also have different parts (roots, stems, leaves, flowers, fruits) that help them survive and grow.
1-LS1-1.LS1.D.1	Animals have body parts that capture and convey different kinds of information needed for growth and survival. Animals respond to these inputs with behaviors that help them survive. Plants also respond to some external inputs.
1-LS3-1.LS3.A.1	Young animals are very much, but not exactly like, their parents. Plants also are very much, but not exactly, like their parents.
1-LS3-1.LS3.B.1	Individuals of the same kind of plant or animal are recognizable as similar but can also vary in many ways.

Suggested Activities & Best Practices

Unit 4, Week 1

- Animal Sort - display the photo cards for deer, kangaroo, wolf, fox, goat, tiger, sheep, horse, mule, owl, bird, turkey, penguin. Place children in groups of two. Say: Work with a partner to compare and sort these animals various ways. How are they the same? How are they different? Do they have similar feature? What groups did you make? Share comparisons with the class.
- Have children work in small groups. Have groups write two to three sentences about one animal and how its body helps them. Encourage them to use the words and frames they have been learning and remind them to listen for and write all of the sounds they hear in the words. Help children find a photo of their animal on the computer and add it to their informational text. Work with children at the Beginning Level and be sure each child participates in the writing of the text.

Unit 4, Week 2

- If I Was a...Have children think about what they would like to do if they were a bear and lived among other animals in the wild. Tell children that the activity they choose should be one that helps another bear. Children can draw their ideas.
- Penguin Huddle - Point to the right side of the My Language Book picture and explain that standing close together is one way to keep warm and to protect young penguin chicks. Divide the class into groups that could form a huddle of several children around a stuffed toy, chair, or child who volunteers to be a young penguin. Encourage children to move like penguins move. Communicate different contexts to them, such as danger approaching or wild winds. Have children take that as their cue to huddle more closely together.

Unit 4, Week 3

- Have partners work together to draw an animal catching, trapping, or hunting food. Guide them to label the animal and action it is doing. Children at a high proficiency level should write three or four sentences.
- Display and review the words collecting, hibernating, and migrating. Then have children form triads. Show them how to fold a piece of paper in thirds so you see three panels. Have each child in the group choose one of the words, write it in a panel and then draw a picture that goes with the word. As each child works, the other partners should share ideas and ask questions. Provide frames as needed. As a triad completes their panels, have them share their work with another triad.

Unit 4, Week 4

- Have children use the chart to choose two more insects that are alike and different. Have them use the prompts to write about how they are alike and different.

Unit 4, Week 5

- Helpful Dogs - write the words police dog, guide dog, and watchdog where children can see them. Point to the words, say them, and have children repeat. Then have children form triads. Be sure each group has paper, pencils, and crayons. Show them how to fold a piece of paper in thirds to create three panels. Have each child in the group choose one type of dog, write it in a panel and then draw a picture that goes with the dog. Provide frames as needed.
