Sample Lesson

Unit Name: Chapter 1- Rights and Responsibilities of Citizens

NJSLS: See Link Below

Interdisciplinary Connection: See Link Below

Statement of Objective: SWDAT evaluate the importance of following rules

Anticipatory Set/Do Now: Complete the Jumpstart Activity by turning to a partner to share nice things you do for others. In whole group share and chart responses.

Learning Activity: Use anticipatory set to introduce "The Big Question," "How can you be a good citizen." Turn to a partner to discuss what a citizen is. Chart responses in a concept map. Next, review vocabulary words, "citizen" and "rule" to build on students' background knowledge on good citizenship. In whole group, read aloud Chapter 1 Lesson 1 using the online read aloud component. During reading, check for understanding by asking and answering reading check questions. After reading, pose the question, "How can you be a good citizen?" Turn to a partner to discuss ideas for guided instruction. For guided practice, construct a response by modeling how to restate the question, answer the question, and providing an example to support your claim. Use the sentence starter, I can be a good citizen by.. to unlock the big question. In addition, students will create an illustration to add detail to their writing piece. Allot students time to complete for independent practice and use assignment as a formative assessment to provide additional support as needed.
