Unit Overview

Unit two focuses on figurative studies.

- Review portrait drawing. Define portrait as a work of art that depicts a living being. Portraits can be made of people, animals, or a combination.
- Discuss the self-portrait: a portrait the artist creates of themselves.
- Discuss how our prior knowledge of the elements of art can help us to make more realistic portraits.
- Create a portrait or self-portrait drawing either through guided drawing or observation.
- Focus on facial symmetry, proper placement of facial features through measurement, and organic shapes occurring on the face. Use mirrors (if available) for students to observe.
- When adding color to the portrait stress the importance of using color to add depth and realism.
- Reference artists' work that uses portraiture. ie: Leonardo DaVinci, Edgar Degas, etc.

Enduring Understandings

- Artists often times practice portraiture by using themselves as the subject.
- Understanding of symmetry can be helpful for the depiction of the human face.
- Self-portraits can be used to divulge information about the artist.

Essential Questions

- Why do artists create self-portraits?
- Why do artists create portraits?
- How does a self-portrait communicate insights about the artist?
- What does an artist's portrait convey about the subject?
- How can a portrait help you think about yours, and other artists', identities?

Exit Skills

By the end of Unit 2:

- All students will demonstrate an understanding of figurative drawing by:
 - Explaining the difference between a portrait and self-portrait.
 - Delineating how the elements of art can help strengthen their portraits.
 - Creating a portrait through observation of themselves or another and their features.
 - Adding depth to their portrait through color application.

21st Century Skills/Interdisciplinary Themes

- Communication and Collaboration
- Creativity and Innovation
- Critical thinking and Problem Solving
- Media Literacy

CRP.K-12.CRP6.1	Career-ready individuals regularly think of ideas that solve problems in new and different ways, and they contribute those ideas in a useful and productive manner to improve their organization. They can consider unconventional ideas and suggestions as solutions to issues, tasks or problems, and they discern which ideas and suggestions will add greatest value. They seek new methods, practices, and ideas from a variety of sources and seek to apply those ideas to their own workplace. They take action on their ideas and understand how to bring innovation to an organization.
CRP.K-12.CRP8.1	Career-ready individuals readily recognize problems in the workplace, understand the nature of the problem, and devise effective plans to solve the problem. They are aware of problems when they occur and take action quickly to address the problem; they thoughtfully investigate the root cause of the problem prior to introducing solutions. They carefully consider the options to solve the problem. Once a solution is agreed upon, they follow through to ensure the problem is solved, whether through their own actions or the actions of others.

21st Century Skills

- Civic Literacy
- Environmental Literacy
- Financial, Economic, Business and Entrepreneurial Literacy
- Global Awareness

Differentiation

- When working on a project, students who are struggling with finishing a project will be given more time to do so.
- At the beginning of each class, to ensure that all students are aware of their goal, it will be written clearly on the board and read aloud.
- When working on a project for multiple weeks, an oral review of the work already completed to remind students of their progress will be given.

Differentiations:

- Extra time to complete assignments
- Repeat directions

- allowing students to correct errors (looking for understanding)
- decreasing the amount of work presented or required
- tutoring by peers

At Risk

1. When playing "pose-off" game, give student option to pose or draw.

2. Review figure drawings with student, having them learn to critique their work ("What do you like best?" "What do you wish you could change?")

- allowing students to correct errors (looking for understanding)
- teaching key aspects of a topic. Eliminate nonessential information
- allowing products (projects, timelines, demonstrations, models, drawings, dioramas, poster boards, charts, graphs, slide shows, videos, etc.) to demonstrate student's learning
- allowing students to select from given choices
- collaborating (general education teacher and specialist) to modify vocabulary, omit or modify items to reflect objectives for the student, eliminate sections of the test, and determine how the grade will be determined prior to giving the test.
- decreasing the amount of work presented or required
- marking students' correct and acceptable work, not the mistakes

- tutoring by peers
- using authentic assessments with real-life problem-solving
- using videos, illustrations, pictures, and drawings to explain or clarify

Talented and Gifted Learning (T&G)

1. Have students create a comic book with all the stick figure poses they've practiced drawing throughout the unit.
