

Latin 3CP

Content Area: World Languages
Course(s):
Time Period: Marking Period 1
Length: Full Year
Status: Published

Brief Summary of Unit

In the Latin 3 program, students continue to develop the following skills:

- Reading and Comprehension: Read and comprehend Latin poetry and prose
- Translation: Translate Latin texts into English
- Contextualization: Relate Latin texts to Roman cultural, historical and literary contexts
- Textual analysis: Analyze linguistic and literary features of Latin texts
- Argumentation: develop an argument that analyses Latin poetry and/or prose

Teachers use their professional judgment to sequence, spiral, and scaffold the skills appropriately for students based on level and readiness. Emphasis is placed on interpretive listening and interpretive reading with the goal of reading and understanding level appropriate classical literary texts. Content presented in this course is rooted in the following AP themes:

- Literary Style and Genre
- Roman Values
- War and Empire
- Leadership
- Views of Non-Romans
- History and Memory
- Human Beings and the Gods

The depth and breadth through which the themes are presented are based on the proficiency level target for performance in the interpretive mode for the students at this level (Intermediate Low). Additionally, the pacing of the unit is contingent on student acquisition of the language as related to their ability to communicate spontaneously, read, write and engage in discussion on the topic(s) presented.

The ability to communicate effectively in more than one language and the perspectives brought about by an understanding of other cultures are vital to the success of our students in a variety of careers. When taking this course, students develop their understanding of the interrelationship between language and culture leading to a purposeful appreciation of cultural diversity. Students who demonstrate proficiency in a second language in addition to English, may qualify for the New Jersey State Seal of Biliteracy, an honor that sets them apart from others and makes them marketable when pursuing a career and when engaging with home and global communities.

The Communication goal includes three Standards based on the Framework of Communicative Modes. These Standards focus on the purpose behind the communication more than the means:

1. Interpretive communication focuses on answering the question: “What does the author, speaker, or producer of an individual text want you to understand?”
2. Interpersonal communication focuses on exchanging information, reactions, feelings, and opinions by negotiating and clarifying the meaning of what is read/heard.
3. Presentational communication is used to create a message for a specific purpose and for a specific audience.

Interpretive reading:

Novice Low Learners can connect some Latin or Greek words and phrases to their meanings, particularly when words are accompanied by images

Novice Mid Learners can recognize words and phrases with the help of visuals recognize Latin or Greek words and phrases when they associate them with things they already know

Novice High Learners can understand accounts of familiar events or personal experiences sometimes follow short, written descriptions or instructions when supported by visuals understand the main idea of and a few supporting facts about famous people and historic events understand simple questions related to a familiar text

Any additional resources, not included in the current Core Book List (found on the Curriculum and Instruction webpage, must be explicitly presented to and reviewed by the supervisor the week before the resource is included into lesson plans. This ensures resources are reviewed and vetted for relevance and appropriateness prior to implementation.

Evidence/Performance Tasks

When taking a World Language, students demonstrate differentiated proficiency according to their ability to answer the essential questions through formative and summative assessments. Evidence of progression in the communicative modes (Interpretive, Presentational and Interpersonal) demonstrates the development of communicative proficiency over time. The performance tasks below are implemented as benchmark assessments and, based on individual student readiness and performance, can be implemented as formative and/or summative assessments. Student proficiency allows for additional or alternative assessment based on demonstration or absence of skill. The following proficiency targets guide teachers and students in working to approach, meet and even exceed proficiency levels by the end of the course.

Interpretive Assessments are designed to measure STUDENT COMPREHENSION within LISTENING AND READING:

Students will interpret what they hear and read at their own rate, with the goal of personal improvement as students advance through ACTFL PROFICIENCY levels

Grade reporting for World Language classes reflects each individual student's ability to demonstrate proficiency in the following areas: Interpretive Listening/Reading, Interpersonal speaking, Presentational Writing/Speaking, Participation and Performance. The weight of each communicative mode is based on the number of years the student has studied the language with increased accountability for demonstration of development in the interpretive mode at the novice level and a systematic approach to accountability in all modes as the student progresses into the more advanced levels of instruction.

Materials

The materials used in this course allow for integration of a variety of instructional, supplemental, and intervention materials that support student learners at all levels in the school and home environments. Associated web content and media sources are infused into the unit as applicable and available
