Evidence/Performance Tasks

Students demonstrate differentiated proficiency through both formative and summative assessments in the classroom. Based on individual student readiness and performance, assessments can be implemented as formative and/or summative.

Developmental progression across years in media is evidenced through benchmark assessments as part of the media specialist's Student Growth Objective (SGO). Student proficiency allows for additional or alternative assessment based on demonstration or absence of skill.

The performance tasks listed below are examples of the types of assessments teachers may use in the classroom and the data collected by the district to track student progress.

- Formative: If needed, students will seek assistance from peers or media specialist.
- Formative: Students utilize OPAC to identify the title, author, availability, and location of searched material.
- Formative: Students will identify and locate the different areas of the library media center.
- Formative: Students will return materials on a regular basis.
- Formative: Students will self-assess their performance.

- Summative: Students will locate proper materials independently within a given time period.
- Summative: Students will participate in a library scavenger hunt utilizing the OPAC to identify the availability and locations of specific materials and locate that material independently.

Learning Plan

Media Specialists may personalize instruction during this unit and address the distinct learning needs, interests, aspirations, or cultural backgrounds of individual students.

Media Specialists at the elementary level design their own unique lesson plans in order to incorporate the essential questions provided in this unit. The order in which this information is presented is dependent upon the variables specific to each elementary school community. For example, students may be called to the carpet for a lesson followed by guided practice, then independent practice. After the lesson, students will check out books. Library Media time ends with an electronic story or students going to a makerspace station so that the media specialist can assist and model proper checkout procedures with students.

Students will be oriented to the school library media center and how to behave as responsible library citizens. Students will learn that there are appropriate ways to search for library materials for the various resources found in the library media center. Suggested activities are listed below for this unit:
