

Of Prose and Verse: Literary Devices, Techniques, and Form

Content Area: English Language Arts
Course(s):
Time Period: Marking Period 4
Length: 8-10 Weeks
Status: Published

Brief Summary of Unit

While continually building upon the course's year-long consideration of the Advanced Placement test, Unit 4 focuses its attention on the short story and the poem. A mastery of these two distinct and beloved literary forms is crucial to success on the AP exam -- as the test uses them in abundance -- and both tend to deliver a more concentrated mixture of literary techniques and devices in smaller packages than either the novel or play. Thus, the poem and the short story demand acknowledgement and respect in their own rights and can also be instructive in the close reading of longer-form fiction. As each individual form -- beginning with the short story -- is introduced, along with the essential tools, critical lenses, historical perspectives, and specific terminology required to effectively explicate fiction, students should come to recognize the particular nuances, possibilities, and even the limitations of these two unique styles of artistic expression. In this unit, students may follow a-not-always chronological path through the eighteenth, nineteenth, twentieth, and twenty-first centuries via the verse and prose of authors such as Graham Greene, Ernest Hemingway, Jhumpa Lahiri, Tobias Wolff, James Joyce, Nadine Gordimer, William Faulkner, Nathaniel Hawthorne, Gabriel Garcia Marquez, Albert Camus, Herman Melville, Thomas Wolfe, Margaret Atwood, Emily Dickinson, William Carlos Williams, Langston Hughes, T.S. Eliot, Archibald MacLeish, Robert Frost, Jean Toomer, Sylvia Plath, Langston Hughes, Walt Whitman, Gwendolyn Brooks, Philip Larkin, and other celebrated writers.

This unit is designed to be part of a developmental progression across grade levels and make interdisciplinary connections across content areas including physical and social sciences, technology, career readiness, cultural awareness, and global citizenship. During this course, students are provided with opportunities to develop skills that pertain to a variety of careers. When completing this course, students can make informed choices and pursue electives that further their study and contribute toward the formation of career interest.

Revision: June 2024

Standards

In accordance with New Jersey's Chapter 32 Diversity and Inclusion Law, this unit includes instructional materials that highlight and promote diversity, including: equity, inclusion, tolerance, and belonging in connection with gender and sexual orientation, race and ethnicity, and religious tolerance.

This unit challenges students to locate, evaluate, and use information effectively. Information literacy includes, but is not limited to, digital, visual, media, textual, and technological literacy. Lessons may include the research process and how information is created and produced; critical thinking and using information resources; research methods, including the difference between primary and secondary sources; the difference between facts, points of view, and opinions, accessing peer-reviewed print and digital library resources; the economic, legal, social, and ethical issues surrounding the use of information.

The identified standards reflect a developmental progression across grade levels and make interdisciplinary connections across content areas including social sciences, technology, career readiness, cultural awareness and global citizenship. The standards that follow are relevant to this course in addition to the associated content-based standards listed below.

ELA.L.KL.11–12.2	Apply knowledge of language to understand how language functions in different contexts, to make effective choices for meaning or style, and to comprehend more fully when reading or listening.
ELA.L.KL.11–12.2.B	Vary syntax for effect, apply an understanding of syntax to the study of complex texts.
ELA.L.VL.11–12.3.B	Identify and correctly use patterns of word changes that indicate different meanings or parts of speech (e.g., conceive, conception, conceivable).
ELA.L.VL.11–12.3.C	Analyze how an author or speaker uses and refines the meaning of a key term or terms over the course of a text or discussion.
ELA.L.VL.11–12.3.D	Consult general and specialized reference materials (e.g., dictionaries, glossaries, thesauruses), both print and digital, to find the pronunciation of a word or determine or clarify its precise meaning, its part of speech, its etymology, or its standard usage.
ELA.L.VI.11–12.4.C	Analyze how the meaning of a key term or terms develops or is refined over the course of a text.
ELA.RL.CR.11–12.1	Accurately cite strong and thorough textual evidence and make relevant connections to strongly support a comprehensive analysis of multiple aspects of what a literary text says explicitly and inferentially, as well as interpretations of the text; this may include determining where the text leaves matters uncertain.
ELA.RL.TS.11–12.4	Evaluate the author’s choices concerning the structure and the effectiveness of specific parts of a text (e.g., the choice of where to begin or end a story, the choice to provide a comedic or tragic resolution) and how they contribute to its overall structure and meaning, as well as its aesthetic impact.
ELA.RL.PP.11–12.5	Evaluate perspectives/lenses from two or more texts on related topics and justify the more cogent viewpoint (e.g., different accounts of the same event or issue, use of different media or formats).
ELA.RI.PP.11–12.5	Analyze an author’s purpose in a text distinguishing what is directly stated in a text or through rhetoric, analyzing how style and content convey information and advance a point of view.
ELA.RI.MF.11–12.6	Synthesize complex information across multiple sources and formats to develop ideas, resolve conflicting information, or develop an interpretation that goes beyond explicit text information (e.g., express a personal point of view, new interpretation of the concept).
ELA.W.AW.11–12.1	Write arguments to support claims in an analysis of substantive topics or texts, using valid reasoning and relevant and sufficient evidence.
ELA.W.AW.11–12.1.A	Introduce precise, knowledgeable claim(s), establish the significance of the claim(s), distinguish the claim(s) from alternate or opposing claims, and create an organization that logically sequences claim(s), counterclaims, reasons, and evidence.

ELA.W.IW.11–12.2	Write informative/explanatory texts (including the narration of historical events, scientific procedures/experiments, or technical processes) to examine and convey complex ideas, concepts, and information clearly and accurately through the effective selection, organization, and analysis of content.
ELA.W.IW.11–12.2.A	Introduce a topic; organize complex ideas, concepts, and information so that each new element builds on that which precedes it to create a unified whole; include formatting (e.g., headings), graphics (e.g., figures, tables), and multimedia when useful to aiding comprehension.
ELA.W.NW.11–12.3	Write narratives to develop real or imagined experiences or events using effective technique, well-chosen details, and well-structured event sequences.
ELA.W.NW.11–12.3.A	Engage and orient the reader by setting out a problem, situation, or observation and its significance, establishing one or multiple point(s) of view, and introducing a narrator and/or characters; create a smooth progression of experiences or events.
ELA.W.NW.11–12.3.B	Use narrative techniques, such as dialogue, pacing, description, reflection, and multiple plot lines, to develop experiences, events, and/or characters.
ELA.W.NW.11–12.3.D	Use precise words and phrases, telling details, and sensory language to convey a vivid picture of the experiences, events, setting, and/or characters.
ELA.W.WP.11–12.4	Develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, editing, rewriting, trying a new approach; sustaining effort to complete complex writing tasks; tracking and reflecting on personal writing progress (e.g., using portfolios, journals, conferencing); or consulting a style manual (such as MLA or APA Style), focusing on addressing what is most significant for a specific purpose and audience.
ELA.W.WR.11–12.5	Conduct short as well as more sustained research projects to answer a question (including a self-generated question) or solve a problem; narrow or broaden the inquiry when appropriate; synthesize multiple sources on the subject, demonstrating understanding of the subject under investigation.
ELA.SL.PE.11–12.1	Initiate and participate effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on-one, in groups, and teacher-led) with peers on grades 11–12 topics, texts, and issues, building on others' ideas and expressing their own clearly and persuasively.
ELA.SL.II.11–12.2	Integrate multiple sources of information presented in diverse formats and media (e.g., visually, quantitatively, orally) in order to make informed decisions and solve problems, evaluating the credibility and accuracy of each source and noting any discrepancies among the data.
ELA.SL.PI.11–12.4	Present information, findings and supporting evidence clearly, concisely, and logically. The content, organization, development, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience.

Essential Questions

- How do evidence and reasoning develop a complex argument?
- How does historical context help a reader to understand the broader significance of a text?
- How does language support an author's purpose?
- How does language work to persuade audiences?
- How does one write in a stylistically strong manner?
- What are the characteristics of critical readers and writers?

Enduring Understandings

- A speaker or writer's tone conveys purpose and intent
- An author's use of setting, character, narration, plot, and figurative language helps to illuminate theme
- Purposeful selection of precise language helps convey concrete meaning
- Understanding how writing serves as a form of inquiry

Students Will Know

- A variety of diction to define and articulate an author's tone
- How to calibrate and score essays using the AP rubric
- How to critically read and analyze an AP objective passage
- How to organize and draft a literary analysis AP-style essay -- longer fiction, novels and plays
- How to organize and draft a literary analysis AP-style essay -- poetry
- How to organize and draft a literary analysis AP-style essay -- prose, short fiction
- How to read critically using pre-reading, interpretive, synoptic, and post-reading strategies
- Key strategies and devices used in argumentative and persuasive writing

Students Will Be Skilled At

- Accurately calibrating AP-style essays
- Discerning a writer's purpose and audience
- Integrating quotations and paraphrases from sources into written responses
- Reading complex texts for deep understanding
- Structuring different modes of writing to meet College Board/AP expectations
- Utilizing appropriate terminology to analyze literature

Evidence/Performance Tasks

Developmental progression across years in both reading and writing is evidenced by multiple benchmark assessment screeners, administered three times per year. Follow up diagnostic assessments are used to target skill remediation. Student proficiency allows for additional or alternative assessment based on demonstration or absence of skill.

Students demonstrate differentiated proficiency through both formative and summative assessments in the classroom. Based on individual student readiness and performance, assessments can be implemented as formative and/or summative.

The performance tasks listed below are examples of the types of assessments teachers may use in the classroom and the data collected by the district to track student progress.

Formative:

- Teacher Observations
- Accountable Talk, Socratic Seminars/Fish Bowls
- Analysis of multimodal text sets
- Analysis of critical commentary, literary criticism
- Writers Notebook (quick writes/drafts/prewrites), emphasizing author's craft
- Close reading analysis of text using evidence as substantiation
- Conferences: Individual and small group, accompanying conference notes
- Reflective exercises and assessments
- Oral Reading and Interpretation
- Peer and self-evaluations of learning
- Entrance and Exit Tickets
- Open-Ended Responses in Journal

Summative, including Alternative Assessments:

- On-demand Writing Assessments, timed and untimed
- Researched Presentations
- Performance Assessments
- Project-based Learning
- Problem-based Learning
- Personalized Learning
- Visual Literacy Prompts
- Digital Portfolios
- Online Discussion Forums

Benchmark:

- Benchmark reading and writing assessments, scored using rubrics, district-created and standards-aligned; based on NJSLA, reported twice per year
- Engage in text set analysis using visual literacy and close reading analysis strategies to compose a claim and use evidence as support
- Grade-level Standards-based Rubrics
- Common Lit Reading Benchmark, three times per year
- Advanced Placement Test
- SAT

Additional AP-Specific Formative and Summative Assessments:

- Independent close reading, annotation, and analysis of complex, AP-style non-fiction texts
- Articulation and analysis of rhetorical strategies and techniques used in complex texts
- Calibration of AP-style essays using the College Board rubric to develop understanding of the holistic scoring system
- Collaborative reading, discussion, and analysis of longer fiction and non-fiction texts
- Completion of AP-style objective questions in conjunction with complex reading and analysis tasks
- Completion of timed objective AP-style quizzes
- Drafting of appropriate critical reading responses using evidence from the text as support
- Substantiation of written and verbal rationales for AP objective responses
- Timed writing of AP-style poetry, prose/short fiction, and longer fiction essays

Learning Plan

Instructional time for reading will be divided into thirds; one third of the time will be dedicated to whole class text instruction; one third will include literature circles; one third, independent reading. The intent is for student-readers to have clear modelling through whole-class instruction. These strategies are practiced through literature circles in a group setting of peers and through independent practice monitored through teacher conferencing with students. An emphasis will be based on the transfer of skills instruction, teaching the reader, not merely the content of the text. The text complexity and rigor of reading will be appropriate for grade 12 and follow the guidelines set forth by the Advanced Placement College Board; materials selection for whole-class and literature circles will be from the book list approved by the Board of Education. Classrooms will house rich and diverse independent reading libraries of both contemporary and canonical works.

The reading of text during the eleventh grade targets not only comprehension, but also analysis, and synthesis. Students will read both long-and short-form, excerpted and full-length, print and electronic, fiction and nonfiction texts. Study will include the analysis of visual texts including film clips, art, infographic, maps, charts, graphs, cartoons, graphic novel. Technique and terminology specific to a genre of reading is examined. Research tasks are embedded throughout the year and a minimum of one task is completed during each unit. Vocabulary instruction will be chosen from the reading material.

Students write in all modes of rhetoric including narration/description, argument/persuasion, and exposition. Various forms of writing including digital writing are emphasized as well. Grammar instruction is embedded in writing instruction through mini-lessons, holding students accountable for skills taught and practiced; modelling is done through mentor texts, both published and student-crafted. Teachers focus on process in addition to product with an emphasis on synthesizing texts with nuanced understanding; teacher-created multi-modal text sets as well as text sets gleaned from APCentral.collegeboard.org will be used as materials. High-and low-stakes, timed and untimed pieces are all important.

Students will be taught how to speak and listen in addition to being assessed on these skills.

For this particular unit, teachers may do some or all of the following:

- * Teachers should offer students Ernest Hemingway’s essay “The Art of the Short Story” in order to provide insight into and analysis of not only the author’s own works, but those of other short-story writers covered in the unit.
- * Alert students to the Poetry Foundation’s invaluable website where important works of verse and criticism can be accessed for study.
- * Teachers should view with students Howard Bloom’s 1994 discussion on the “Western Canon” and consider it in light of the unit and the larger AP course and test.
- * Provide students various ways to access past AP questions, prompts, and student essay samples, as well as AP essay rubrics.
- * Alert students to the historical likelihood of authors and works in this unit appearing on the AP exam in both the multiple choice and essay sections.
- * Introduce the objectives, structure, and components of the AP Literature and Composition Examination.
- * Discuss relevant literary terms and techniques necessary in the close consideration of fiction and verse that will be useful in class discussion and essay writing.
- * Require students to access, assess, and employ literary criticism in both their discussions and written responses to my queries and AP prompts.
- * Use successful student essays to model effective writing strategies.
- * Require students to sit for timed essays and multiple choice exercises.
- * Task small groups of students to draft first paragraphs in response to past AP open-ended prompts.
- * Have students employ a generic AP rubric to consider and grade essay responses.

Materials

The materials used in this course integrate a variety of leveled instructional, enrichment, and intervention materials that support student learners at all levels in the school and home environments. Associated web content and media sources are infused into the unit as applicable and available.

Teachers must refer to the district-approved Core Book List while selecting whole-class or small-group leveled resources.

Suggested Strategies for Accommodations and Modifications

Content specific accommodations and modifications as well as Career Ready Practices are listed here for all students, including: Special Education, English Language Learners, At Risk of School Failure, Gifted and Talented, Students with 504.

Possible accommodations include:

- Access speech-to-text function on computer
- Use visual presentations of all materials to include organizers, charts
- Allow students to set individual goals for writing/reading
- Offer graphic organizers, note-taking models, strategies for summarizing, and questioning techniques
- Offer oral assessments
- Supply study guide questions and access to class notes
- Work in partnerships
- Give responses in a form (verbal or written) that is easier for the student
- Take additional time to complete a task or project
- Scaffold by chunking material and texts
- Individualize reading choices based on ability and level
- Take frequent breaks
- Use an alarm to help with time management
- Small group and one on one assessment
- Mark text with a highlighter or other manipulative such as a post-it
- Receive help coordinating assignments
- Answering fewer questions or completing shorter tasks

- Modify the length and quantity of assignments to fit individual
- Differentiate roles in discussion groups
- Use digital technology, eBooks,, audio version of printed text
- Create alternate assignments or homework
- Provide distinct steps in a process; eliminate unnecessary steps, as needed
- Use art, music, and film to convey alternate interpretation of literature and assessment
- Manage executive function by scaffolding process and amending deadlines

Possible modifications to content during writing workshop include, but are not limited to:

- Adhere to all modifications and accommodations as prescribed in IEP and 504 plan
