Evidence/Performance Tasks

Developmental progression across years in both reading and writing is evidenced by multiple benchmark assessment screeners, administered two times per year. Follow up diagnostic assessments are used to target skill remediation. Student proficiency allows for additional or alternative assessment based on demonstration or absence of skill.

Students demonstrate differentiated proficiency through both formative and summative assessments in the classroom. Based on individual student readiness and performance, assessments can be implemented as formative and/or summative.

The performance tasks listed below are examples of the types of assessments teachers may use in the classroom and the data collected by the district to track student progress.

Formative:

- Teacher Observations
- Accountable Talk, Socratic Seminars/Fish Bowls
- Analysis of multimodal text sets
- Analysis of critical commentary, literary criticism
- Writers Notebook (quick writes/drafts/prewrites), emphasizing author's craft
- Close reading analysis of text using evidence as substantiation
- Conferences: Individual and small group, accompanying conference notes
- Reflective exercises and assessments

- Oral Reading and Interpretation
- Peer and self-evaluations of learning
- Entrance and Exit Tickets
- Open-Ended Responses in Journal
- Textual Analysis Reading Responses
- Dialectical Journal

- Researched Presentations
- Performance Assessments
- Project-based Learning
- Problem-based Learning
- Personalized Learning
- Visual Literacy Prompts
- Digital Portfolios
- Online Discussion Forums
- Analytical and Expository Essay

Benchmark:

- Benchmark reading and writing assessments, scored using rubrics, district-created and standards-aligned; based on NJSLA, reported twice per year
- Common Lit Reading Benchmark Assessments, three times per year (grades 9-11)

- Complete the ladder, including establishment of deadlines, staff responsibilities, spreads, photos, and checklists.
- Weekly evaluations based on individual and staff completion of work due on the Golden C.

Learning Plan

Teaching Point: Each section of the book has its own important role, and staffers must be responsible for their own pages and spreads. Possible Activities: 1. Section editors are assigned and staffers are assigned events. 2. Section groups meet together and discuss pages 3. Section editors meet to discuss plans and progress.

Teaching Point: Production checklists and sticking to the ladder are key to coverage. Possible Activities:

1. Show examples of checklists and have students make simple checklists with extreme detail to show efficiency of checklists.
2. Staffers get together to create and manage section checklists and DPS checklists.

3. Finalize ladder as a class to avoid repetitious ideas.

Throughout this unit students should: Prepare lists and ranking of events for the school year; Review the ladder and organize activities for deadline submission; Participate in sectional group meetings to discuss topics; Section editors develop individual goals and responsibilities, including photographs and due dates; Prepare checklists to follow to avoid confusion.
